MEMORIAL DAY.

BY MARK MEREDITH.

Garland the graves of our heroes,
Let them remembered be;
Few are the comrades remaining
Who fought for the banner free;
Scatter the roses and lilies!
Mem'ries of long ago
Wreathe with the beautiful blossoms
That honor the host below.

Garland the graves of our heroes,
None should forgotten be;
Under the folds of "Old Glory"
Strew blossoms from hill to sea.
Pure as the dewdrops that sparkle,
Emblems of sympathy lay
Over the mounds of the sleeping—
The valorous Blue and Gray!

Garland the graves of our heroes;
What can the heart do more?
Gone from the field of the conflict,
They camp on the further shore!
Fame has enshrined them forever,
Ne'er can their glory die!
Scatter the gems of the Spring time
Wherever their dust may lie.

"T'WARDS THE MIST WHERE BREAKERS MOAN."

BY RALPH ASHTON.

I have heard it said of her that she made up for an excessive sense of her own sex by being true to all her indiscretions. If she had heard this she would have said: "Any little thing like that"—a derisive phrase she applied equally to a parodox or a powder puff, accompanying the remark with a glinting smile the ingredients of which have puzzled even scientists. I studied that smile long and earnestly, with a view to imitation; but I was fain in the end to confess it too subtle for me. There was a white glitter of teeth, a delicious curling of the lips, a switch of the eyelashes, and your heart was gone from you; she has mine yet. I believe I am the only woman who ever loved her—perhaps because it was given only to me to see that other side to her soul which Browning says we all possess. I met her first on board the Scot, when we were both on our way to our Mashonaland home — she to join her husband in Salisbury, and I to spend a lone season of time with my two brothers in the same town.

She had a manicure box, with dainty silver instruments nestling in soft sky velvet, and the finger nails of those few upon whom she bestowed her friendship she would pinken and beautify, sitting on the deck 'neath a glory of white canvas, with the sunlight dancing among her hair and romping with the rings on her fingers, while the other women sat alone and made audible and insolent remarks about people who performed their toilet in public.

Mrs. Kniven Kallender would pay them back in fine. "Captain Dean," she would call out in her sweet, shrilly voice, "Captain Dean, come and have your nails done. They look as though they haven't been touched since your infancy—as do many others on this boat," she would add with acid emphasis.

She always wore ravishing frocks, was never sea sick, and looked at the women through her eyelashes in a peculiarly aggravating way which commended itself to me. They hated her, but it welded an indissoluble bond between us. She had cultivated what De Quincey called the luxury of contempt, and could curl a woman up with one eye, and with the corner of her mouth make a man wish he had never been born.

She was not popular in Salisbury, chiefly because she had a lamp with a red shade in her drawing room, where she held court. It cast a rosy gloam over all things, and had been the undoing of many men. Under its glowing shadows confidences were poured out like water, and the secrets of Salisbury, private and official, were in Dorothy Kallender's keeping. She knew which men would first gain promotion in the police, what cases were to be called in the courts, and more of the great Raid than Exeter Hall knows to this day, with other secrets the breathing of which would have lowered great heads in the dust.

"This lamp, Peter," she used to say to me, whom she so dubbed, "has helped to lead many a lost soul to higher and better things; also, knowledge is power;" and she would stroke it with her hand, and all her rings would smile in the light.

She did not, like so many retired actresses, make a parade of her immense and intense respectability; but she kept certain moods for certain people. For the starched wives of civic magnates and such she kept a droop of the lower lip and a limpid inquiring eye, answering all remarks with an idiotic but perfectly well bred "O, yes," or, rather, "O, 'as," giving the impression that she had been born dull, which was exactly what it was meant to do. Then she complained to me afterwards that they had not laughed in her face.

"You are the only woman in Mashonaland with any sense of humor, Peter," she would say, "and I believe you are a boy."

For the frisky, horsey woman visitor who goes to make up the queer mixture called society in that far country she had the same inquiring gaze, but her speech was embellished with a lisp, "Yes, we have wats dwedful," I heard her replying to a lady of this description, who was complaining in a strident voice of the rat and mice nuisance; and she twiddled her hands and twitched her toes like a shy baby. But enter one of the circle of men she was pleased to call her friends, and in which I was also included, and she immediately became most "sweet and sufficient"—a vivid and original personality. She lectured everybody on their love affairs, beginning with me, who had none.

"You expect too much of life, Peter," she would say, though I have never complained. "Look at Kniv and me, for instance; we hit it off splendidly. There is not another man in the world who would suit me so well, or for whom I would exchange him. Yet we both admit that we have never been passionately in love with each other, though we are devoted in our own way. I do always as I like, and he in his turn is free to come and go, and fill in his time as he pleases, and we are splendid chums. But you, you are such a romantic person, and take life so seriously that I am always afraid of your losing your heart to some one, and laying up a store of misery for yourself."

When she talked like this it comforted me, to whom she appeared a rare stray soul, going to and fro without a mate, and I had a strange foreboding that in some of her wanderings she would find him—for such women as she must love some time—and she lied when she spoke of her happy relations with her husband. It pleased her to deceive people, but I knew the tragedy of her life.

Kniven Kallender's broad, sweet smile, that made him so popular in the world of men, and the suave courtesy of his manners to women, had never taken me in. I had seen the big black bruises disfiguring the white flesh of Dorothy's body, and I had wept over her when she had lain in white pain, utterly unable to rise from her bed. The secret of it was that he was an intermittent drunkard, and cruel and uncontrollable in his drunkenness. No one ever suspected this. They were looked upon as a model couple by men, and the women said that he was far too good for her. So, where I would have left him, careless of the world, she stayed on, too proud to publish her shame, hiding the hurts and the hollowness of her life in friendships and flirtations. The tale of these was endless, and so daring in their innocence that I came to understand how a woman might lose her reputation without losing her honor. Her safety lay in that she could never see a man daily for a week without growing bored, and the moment a man put his passion into words, or attempted to do so, he was dismissed from her presence and the "Red Ranche" knew him no more.

"I suppose I have no soul, Peter, dear," she would say, in her exaggerated way, "or else I am incapable of a grand passion. Any youth who comes along can have a slice of my affection for awhile—but I soon get bored." Men grew infatuated and mad over her, but she kept them in order in her cool, despotic little way. Understanding of their madness came to me one night. It was at a dance, and I came into the dressing room just as she was unwinding the wraps from her sweet body, coming out of them like a pale green star, diamonds gleaming and moving on her bosom. I think there must be something of the man in me, for I suffered a leaping at the heart at the sight of that revealed and suggested beauty. It lured my lips to her, and, stooping, I kissed her just in the curving outline of the cheek melted into the lips. The blood flowed crimson on the spot where my lips had been and spread all over her neck and face.

"You silly kiddie," she said. Peter, I believe you are a boy."

She was brilliant that night, and the women hated her more than ever, one especially, a woman with red hair and envious eyes. She always dressed well, and that night she wore the loveliest of Parisian gowns, but even that could not make her look anything but a bespangled tiger cat. I knew by the yellow, spiteful light in her eye that she was saying yellow, spiteful things of Dorothy. Later in the evening I heard a man say to Dorothy, "If you could have Mrs. Lovell's frock would you have her face?" "I would rather play Godiva to the end of my days," was the answer, and I felt she was avenged.

Her adorers came and went in batches, according to the time it took for her to grow tired, but they adored always. In time I grew so used to the cold, sweet, short friendships, and the faces that came and went, that I ceased to fear for her, and anticipated the coming of her soul's counterpart, whom I believed to be seeking her. Once, indeed, when Desborough, a great limbed lawyer, with broad, determined hands and a close mouth, shadowed the house, I grew fearful for her. He would sit for hours unspeaking in a corner of her drawing room, while she poured out tea for her visitors, discoursed literature, and abused and imitated her neighbors and acquaintances—never her friends; and he would laugh moodily sometimes at her flippancies and frivolities, as one day, when asked if she knew much of Byron, she answered: "No, only one line—'The phantom frolic of her Grace Fitzfulke.'" She rode a little old pony her husband had given her, which rarely if ever went out of a fast walk, which just suited Dorothy, whom no amount of riding would make a good rider, though she looked well on horseback. The pony was afflicted with a wet nose, and Dorothy would climb down many times and wipe it gently with the little lace rag she called her handkerchief.

Desborough would accompany her on these excursions, coming back moodier still, and with a devouring passion staring in his eyes. But one day when they returned his face was old and pallid, and there was a little hardness about her mouth, so that I know he had spoken, and she, as usual, had been merciless. He left for England the next day, though all his interests were in the country.

When Lewis Lyndhurst walked into the shade of her red lamp I was so busy allaying my fears of Desborough that I hardly noticed him, so he and Dorothy trod the old path unrestricted by my guarding eye, and he drank deep of the cup of Circe. Ah! and she put her lips to it, too, and so was the tragedy of Tristram and Iseult once more to tell.

It came upon me very suddenly. I was sitting by her as she lay among the purple silk cushions of her divan, with her hands under her head among her glimmering hair. She was wearing what I called her "tragic" gown, a loose tea gown of emerald green satin, with golden dragons vomiting scarlet poppies all over it, and she gossiped casually while I stroked the glossy dragons.

"Peter," she said suddenly, "a certain person is beginning to occupy my thoughts more than is quite cool or comfortable."

"Dorothy, don't talk rot," I said, with ghastly jauntiness. "You're only trying to make me miserable."

"He wears red ties, dear, and he says: 'Ain't you coming? What?' How can one help caring?"

For a moment my fears were soothed. Then the door bell rang, and Lyndhurst was shown in. I wonder if a man will ever look at me as he looked at her? It would be something worth living and dying for, I think. I turned to her, and the light behind her eyes, as they rested on him, shriveled my soul within me.

Soon "the beginning came of the ending." One morning, as I sat at breakfast with my brothers, came a little note to me, addressed simply to "Peter," as was her quaint fashion. "Come to me" was all it said. I flew, and coming found her on her divan. She was clad in her tragic gown, and her face was heaven lit like a lustrous sunset, and happier than I had ever seen it. I knew at once what I was to face. I knelt down and kissed her and kissed her again; and then, being a weak fool, I cried all over her face and her lovely gown.

"We are going tonight, Peter," she crooned, in a golden voice.

"No, no, Dorothy darling—never, never! You shall not go."

"We are going tonight, dear," and she stroked my hair; "going together to find those Islands of the Blest."

"No, Dorothy, no!" I moaned.

"Mayn't I have a little happiness?" she asked fiercely. "What has my life been, Peter?" Then, relapsing into an infinite tenderness; "You see, Peter, he cannot do without me—we cannot do without each other."

Later, when I was stonily calm, she told me their plans. They were going to take horses that night and ride for Umtali, getting fresh horses there and a cart to take them to Biera—and then straight home. Once out of the country they were safe.

"But Kniven?" I asked. "He will follow you, and you are not a good rider, Dorothy."

"Oh, I will ride—I'll ride like the devil," with a little laugh. "And I shall be with him, Peter. Kniven will be away at a billiard match, and we shall get a good start—and he may not follow us."

I thought I knew him better.

* * * * * * *

In the twilight I saw them off. She went in her riding habit, taking nothing with her, and for the last time I straightened her skirts for her and gave her the reins. Then I took Lyndhurst by the hands, and, looking into his eyes, cried him to be good to her, to love her all his life, never to let her regret, and he promised in a voice deep with love. They say dark men are as true as men can be. Then when I had kissed her little stockinged ankles, and she had said, "Bless you, little Peter, if a wicked woman's blessing can do you any good, and good bye," they rode away into the night, and I lay down on my face in the grass with my heart full of the tragedies of life. After awhile I stumbled blindly homewards, a wild wish struggling within me that someone would come and take me away too, and that we four—Dorothy, Lewis, the other and I—might all go together and find the Islands of the Blest. As I neared the house a man came into view under a lamp some few yards off. He had a white, fury lashed face, with a mouth set hard and cruel. Then I fainted.

* * * * * * *

It was only horse against horse, and we came upon them at a farm house before they had even got half way.

* * * * * * *

I rode out with my brothers, who had loved her too, and the clergyman who buried them. When I had hidden the ugly mark on her forehead with flowers there was nothing to revolt in the sweet calm of her face; but we covered his face all over with them.—Black and White.

JOHN B. AND ESTELLE WILLS.

JOHN B. AND ESTELLE WILLS.

Portraits of the well known and popular farce comedy star, John B. Wills, and his talented daughter, Estelle Wills, adorn our front page this week. Mr. Wills was born at Baltimore, Md., Feb. 22, 1862, and made his first appearance as a partner of Wm. Gray, known as the Baltimore Boys, doing a black face song and dance. He next appeared in a Dutch song and dance with Harry Morton, as Wills and Morton. He was next seen as a member of Harrigan & Hart's old Theatre Comique stock company, and later appeared as the Admiral in "Pinafore." His next move was to join Sam Devere's company, after which he was with M. B. Leavitt's Rentz-Santley Co. two seasons. Leaving Mr. Leavitt, he accepted an engagement with Sanger's "Bunch of Keys" Co., playing the part of "Grimesey." Shortly afterwards he appeared at Jersey City as a minstrel, holding down the opposite end to Lew Dockstader for one season, after which he again appeared in burlesque as a member of Robert Manchester's Night Owls Co. for one season. He then joined forces with Hattie and Ben F. Grinnell and played a season, doing sketches, at Sparrow & Jacobs' Theatre Royal, Montreal, Can. He then separated from the Grinnells, and the following season found him with Abe Leavitt as a member of his Rentz-Santley Co. During these engagements Mr. Wills claims to have produced, as the originator, the first big four act of men and women, known as the Novelty Four. He also claims to have been the first to give an imitation of a Jew imitating a negro, which act he did eighteen years ago. He also lays claims, as the originator, to the act now so popular wherein the dude and woman introduce coon songs in their acts, and also claims to have originated and made popular the saying "the blow killed father." Wills is proud of the distinction gained by playing three consecutive weeks at Keith's Theatre, Boston, Mass. For five seasons he was joint star with his brother, Frank M. Wills, in "The Two Old Cronies," which company has counted among its members some of the best farce comedy entertainers in the profession, and has toured the country from coast to coast. Estelle Wills is a native of New York city, and a graduate of the Normal School, Brooklyn, N. Y. She was principal soubrette of the "Two Old Cronies" Co. for two seasons, and as a partner of Mr. Wills, has played all of the leading vaudeville houses. Season of 1897-98 they presented their original sketch with Robie's Knickerbocker Burlesque Co., with which company Mr. Wills created his own parts and introduced many novelties. Miss Estelle is a prepossessing young lady, and, aside from inheriting the talents of her father, is the possessor of a phenomenal contralto voice, which commands unstinted praise everywhere. During the present Summer season Mr. Wills will present his high class comedy and vaudeville company at the Summer parks. He will, from present indications, be at the head of a large farce comedy organization next season. Mr. Wills is a member of Lodge No. 21, B. P. O. E., of Newark, N. J. He is at all times a pleasing and popular entertainer.

HIS BETTER SEVEN-EIGHTHS.

Many of my friends have asked me, and a few strangers have had the curiosity to write and inquire, "Why is it that you always speak of your wife as your better seven-eighths?" In this brief article I will endeavor to explain, and I use the personal pronoun that the reader will the better understand me.

In Christian fortitude she is as a fortress capable of withstanding any fusilade; I but a rifle pit with many unguarded gaps in comparison. Her faith is that of a healthy tree in full foliage and fruit; mine like a tree blasted, with an occasional sprout that lends hope of fruition, but so frail that the first cold wave of despondency deadens and withers it. As a neighbor she embodies those qualities expressed in the words of the Master:

"Do unto others as you would that they should do to you;" I am content to do by him as well as he has done by me, and too freequently fall short of that standard. As a nurse she is a Sister of Charity reared in the Garden of Gethsemane or in nunnery of Nazareth, shedding sweet sunshine through the sick room; I, both impatient and irascible. Endowed with almost superhuman energy, she is a living type of the busy bee; I, not so enriched, am too frequently a drone of disappointment.

The day is never so dark but the bright light beyond beckons her on as a beacon of hope; despondency darkens my vision and obscures from view anything favorable the future might show. Thus in all the nobler attributes of life she towers above me as the forest pine above the stunted fig bush. During a continuous companionship of over twenty-two years I have been sensible to these superior qualities, and I have been always honest enough to say so.

She combines characteristic quintuple in quality, and in her affections assumes the place of mother, wife, sister, friend. All in all, she is the apple of my eye, my best beloved, in whom I am well pleased. Such is my wife as I see her and have known her all these years. She condones my faults, finds excuses for my errors, sympathizes with me in sorrow and strengthens me in adversity. Hence I say "our better seven-eighths;" such she will ever be to me!—Hazel Green Herald.

GOLDEN GATE GLEANINGS.

"The Poster" Receives Its Initial Production—"The Passion Play" Pictures Among the Novelties of the Week.

(Special Dispatch to The New York Clipper.)

SAN FRANCISCO, May 24.—At the Baldwin Theatre "The Passion Play" pictures were presented last night. Ysaye will make his appearance to-night.

ALCAZAR THEATRE.—An audience that packed the house to the doors greeted Lewis Morrison and Florence Roberts, in "Yorick's Love." The warmth of the greeting convinced these favorites that years had not dulled the old affection, and play and players pleased the audience.

CALIFORNIA THEATRE.—Hopkins' Trans-Oceanics began an engagement here last evening, 23.

MOROSCO'S GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—W. J. Ellerford and Jessie Norton made their first appearance here last night, in "Mrs. Partington and Her Son Ike."

ORPHEUM THEATRE.—Ezra Kendal, Carroll Johnson, Colby and Way, Harry Allister, Al. Leach, the Three Rosebuds and the Savans were features here last night. The house was crowded, as usual.

TIVOLI OPERA HOUSE.—The new comic opera, "The Poster," received its first presentation on any stage 23. The opera is the joint effort of J. P. Wilson and L. G. Carpenter, music by George Lask and Chester S. Packard. Unique poster costumes, new faces, new music, songs, and the excellence of the opera will doubtless make it a "go."

SAM TETLOW died in this city 20.....Carrie Roma will go East next week.....Robt. B. Mantell's engagement at the Columbia has been extended, and he is still doing a good business.

FROM OTHER POINTS.

Death of James Carden in Philadelphia—Many Theatres Closed for the Season and Summer Parks Begin to Make Their Bid for Patronage.

(Special Dispatches to The New York Clipper.)

CHICAGO, May 24.—Pleasant weather assisted the openings. At Hooley's Ada Rehan was greeted by one of her old time houses and played with all her usual grace. "The Country Girl," preceded by "The Subtleties of Jealousy," was the bill. Edwin Verrey, George Clarke and the rest of Augustin Daly's company, gave an excellent support..... "Shenandoah" continues to draw big houses at McVicker's.....'Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pinafore" were strong cards for the Schiller..... "The French Maid" was a continued success at the Columbia.....The Lincoln had a notable offering in "An Innocent Sinner," which has started considerable talk, with the consequent returns at the box office.....Hopkins' offered "Queena" with vaudeville and the house was full.....'McCarthy's Mishaps" entertained a fair number at the Alhambra....."The Police Patrol" filled the Bijou and kept the audience deeply interested by its local setting.....At the vaudeville houses Charles T. Ellis and Clara Moore, at the Chicago; Gertrude Haynes, and Williams and Walker, at the Olympic, and Clifford and Huth, at the Haymarket, were the chief entertainers in bills which brought crowds....."The Model," with Troja, was a winner at Sam T. Jack's.

PHILADELPHIA, May 24.—Enough people braved the inclement weather last night to comfortably fill the theatres still open and to give the week a good send off.....The McKee Rankin Stock Co., presenting "Trilby," had a promising opening at the Chestnut Street Theatre, the audience being large and appreciative....."The Lady Slavey" opened the last week at the Walnut with a good house.....Creston Clarke and Adelaide Prince and company appeared in "The Marble Heart," at the Park, and earned the applause of a good sized audience.....The production of "Across the Potomac" met with success at the Grand last night, an audience of large dimensions displaying enthusiasm.....The Forepaugh Stock Co. appeared in "A Celebrated Case" with great credit, and attracted good afternoon and evening attendance. ....."Martha" was the opera sung by the Andrews Opera Co. at the Girard last night, and it was given in a manner enjoyable to the well filled house..... The attendance during the afternoon and evening at the Bijou was excellent.....The fine vaudeville at the Auditorium drew a large audience last night. .....Nina Medea's Burlesquers gave two largely attended performances at the Trocadero, the Lyceum was well filled at the two performances, and the Museum was heavily patronized.....James Carden, the well known actor, who has been with the Forepaugh Stock for some time past, died yesterday afternoon at his home, aged sixty-three.

ST. LOUIS, May 24.—The Columbia and Hopkins' were the only theatres that opened Sunday, and the latter closes the season this week. "Fernclife" is the drama at Hopkins', and drew a good audience. The vaudeville bill includes Jones, Grant and Jones, Angela Sisters, Ramza and Arno, and Douglas and Ford.....At the Columbia good attendance witnessed Robert Downing's debut in vaudeville in the arena scene from "The Gladiator." Other strong features are Hugh Stanton, in "A Bargain Fiend;" Albert L. Guille, Knoll and McNeill, Edwin Palfry, the Judges, Filles' dogs and the biograph.....Sunday the Southern Electric Pavilion, managed by Gumpertz and Jaunopoulo, opened to a big crowd with the drama, "The Klondike Claim." Jessie Izette is leading lady of the company. The vaudeville bill was headed by the Five Whirlwinds, Lew Spencer and Dick Richards. Sunday's attendance augurs well for a big season.....Forest Park Highlands opened the season Sunday with an enormous attendance. The minstrel first part includes, among others: The Jose Quintet, Tom Lewis and Charlie Ernest, and Sharp and Flat. They also appear in the vaudeville finish, and of course the crowd got their money's worth. Other big vaudeville features are: Oberti, Verdi Ladies' Trio, and Mlle. Rombello..... Suburban Gardens opened the week with a perfect jam. The vaudeville, composed in part of Josephine Sabel, E. M. Hall, Charlie Kenna, Pattison Bros., and the Suburban Sextet, carried the crowd with them. In the minstrel first part these favorites are aided by Fred Warren, Tom Donnelly, and Dan Quinlan.

BOSTON, May 24.—There was not an overplus of patrons at the few houses at present open in town, and the "S. R. O." banner was not hung upon the outer walls. The Tremont Theatre, however, also the Museum, held very good sized assemblages, and the popular priced places received remunerative returns afternoon and evening. The bills for the open regulars are as follow: Tremont Theatre, "Around the Town;" Hollis Street Theatre, "The Telephone Girl;" Castle Square Theatre, "Sheridan, or the Maid of Bath;" Boston Museum, "The Chorus Girl," and Bowdoin Square Theatre, Katherine Rober, in "The Clemenceau Case."

WASHINGTON, May 24.—"Gettysburg" opened at Kernan & Rife's Grand Opera House last night, to the capacity, and pleased greatly.....Rose Sydell's Burlesquers had two good audiences yesterday and last night, at Kernan's Lyceum Theatre. .....George P. Conn's Comedy Co. opened its Summer comedy season at the Columbia Theatre last night, presenting, in most complete and attractive form, William Gillette's "Held by the Enemy." The house was crowded, and the season opens most auspiciously.....The National, Lafayette Square, Academy and Bijou are all dark, having closed for the season.

KANSAS CITY, May 24.—The Orpheum is the only house open, and two immense audiences greeted a strong bill Sunday. The features were Wills and Laretto, who scored an immense hit, securing six curtain calls; Filson and Errol, in their clever sketch, "A Tip on the Derby;" Montgomery and Stone, and La Petite Lund.

MILWAUKEE, May 24.—At the Davidson "All the Comforts of Home" opened to large business Sunday night.....Manager Miller, of the Alhambra, witnessed one of the largest audiences of the season to see "Town Topics" open, which caught the fancy of many people indeed.

LOUISVILLE, May 24.—"The Silver King" was the attraction presented by the Van Osten Tri-Star Company at the Avenue Sunday, opening to a good audience. Last night's attendance was fair.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago.—In spite of the fact that the season is petering out, local managers offer several strong attractions this week, winding things up with a glorious whirl. Ada Rehan is at Hooley's, "The French Maid" remains at the Columbia, "Shenandoah" is a tremendous success at McVicker's, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pinafore" are put on at the Schiller, "Moths" is the bill at the Great Northern, and other good offerings are made. Aside from the regular houses, the Lambs have their gambol at the Auditorium May 28, and the Forepaugh-Sells Circus is here during the week. Business has ruled excellent, everything considered.

HOOLEY'S.—Daniel Frohman's Lyceum Theatre Co. has wound up two successful weeks. "The Tree of Knowledge" was the last week's bill. The good work of James K. Hackett, Mary Mannering, Julie Opp and the entire company served to render the piece doubly attractive. Ada Rehan opens her annual engagement this week with "The Country Girl," preceded by "The Subtleties of Jealousy." Thursday night it is "The Last Word." The second week will be devoted to "The Magistrate," "School for Scandal" and "Taming of the Shrew." With Miss Rehan in Augustin Daly's company are Charles Richman, Sidney Herbert, Wilfred Clarke, William Owen, George Clarke, Edwin Varrey, Tyrone Power, Frank Rushworth, Mabel Roebuck, Mrs. Gilbert, Blanche Bates, Irene Perry and Gerda Wismer.

AUDITORIUM.—The Lambs are coming 28, winding up their gambol here with two performances, and the people are ahead singing "Hot Time" in anticipation of the event. They will all be here, and the people will be there to see them. There are indications of a tremendous advance sale, and local promoters of the event already see that awful mortgage melting away like a cake of ice on a sunny back porch.

MCVICKER'S.—"Shenandoah" has caught the town, and Manager Jacob Litt has given it an elaborate production, with a strong cast, decorated the theatre with red, white and blue, put a brass cannon and other relics out in front, with armed and uniformed men to stand as sentinels over them, and then been obliged to call in extra police to keep the crowd in line at the box office. Otis Skinner, Nannette Comstock, Mary Hampton and Gertrude Henderson might be specially mentioned, but there is not a really weak spot in the cast. The run is indefinite.

SCHILLER.—"The Beggar Student" retained its popularity all through last week. The stock now puts on a double bill, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pinafore." Dorothy Morton is Santuzza, Richie Ling is Turriddu, and Marcia Von Dresser is Lola. In the ancient and established "Pinafore" Mabel Casedy has returned to the footlights to be Josephine, and Edward Wolff is Ralph Rackstraw.

COLUMBIA.—"The French Maid" keeps on attracting the people and remains for another fortnight, at least.

GREAT NORTHERN.—The clever farce, "Arabian Nights," did a rather light business. There is new blood in the stock again this week, the cast for Ouida's "Moths" including William Beach, Sarah Truax, Florence Gerald, Emmett C. King, Guy Bates Post, Ollie West, Emilie Melville, F. M. Raymond, Frank C. Thompson, De Witt Clinton, Theodore Hamilton, Wash. Melville, S. Atherton and Lorin J. Howard. "Held by the Enemy" is in preparation for another revival.

HOPKINS'.—"Hearts of Oak" was pleasing to the crowds which saw it, and the work of the stock brought out many favorable comments from the critics. Manager Hopkins revives "Queena" this week. Gus Williams, Barney Fagan and Henrietta Byron, Billy Van and others are on the supplemental bill.

LINCOLN.—The perennial "Blue Jeans" kept the seats fairly well filled. "An Innocent Sinner," Lillian Lewis and Lawrence Marston's new character play, is now here. The interpreting cast is headed by Mr. Marston, Franc Hamilton and Louise Mitchell.

ALHAMBRA.—The stock wound up its career here with "The Two Orphans," to sparse houses. "McCarthy's Mishaps" is now on deck.

BIJOU.—"The White Squadron" was timely and therefore successful. The scene of "The Police Patrol," now running, is partially laid but a few blocks north of the house, and the piece should draw heavily with the local color of the murder scene and the Haymarket riot.

ACADEMY.—"McCarty's Mishaps" did fairly well. The house will be closed until 29, 30, when Lincoln J. Carter's "Under the Dome" will be the Memorial Day and Sunday attraction. The theatre will then be dark during the Summer.

CHICAGO OPERA HOUSE.—This house is reliable in the matter of business. Charles T. Ellis and Clara Moore head the current bill in the sketch, "Mrs. Hogan's Music Teacher." Others are Harris and Walters, Quaker City Quartette, Lillie Western, Brown and Harrison, Marie Heath, Le Roy and Clayton, Carrie Ezter, Kamochi and Little Tony, Harry Thompson, the Rexford Brothers, John Gaffney, Murray Twin Sisters, Signor Ozav, and Cummings and Knight.

OLYMPIC.—Clifford and Huth headed a bill last week which showed magnetic qualities. Gertrude Haynes, with her musical novelty, gives strength to the current offering, as do Williams and Walker, Binns and Binns, and the rest, including Howard and Emerson, Lorenze and Allen, Mr and Mrs. Augustus Neuville, Post and Clinton, Mendoza Sisters, Eddie Moore, McCloud, and Melville, the Booming Trio, May Gennell, Castellat and Hall Mons. Mathieu and Howard and Mareno.

HAYMARKET.—With Gertrude Haynes, Morris' Pony Circus and a generally strong bill, Manager Jay Rial had things coming his way last week. His present offering is: Sam and Kitty Morton, Musical Dale, Emmonds-Emerson-Emmonds, Hodgkins and Leith, the Fansons, Fields and Salina, Prince Satsuma the Three Coles, Frank Young, the Two Nibbes, Rossley and Lee, shadow pantomime, William Robinson, Taylor and Dixie.

SAM T. JACK'S OPERA HOUSE.—"Tenderloin Girls" brought in the people. "The Model" is the current burlesque, with the Elliott Trio, Black Carl and the Deaves among the specialties.

CLARK STREET MUSEUM.—The gorilla, Hi-Ki; the Johnsons, life savers and swimmers, and Lorenzo, strong man, are among the features of the curio hall. The Midway dancers are the stars of the theatre.

WHITE'S LONDON MUSEE.—The following are the bookings at this house for next week: Lillie Warren, snake charmer; Mons. Roach, lightning painter; Rosa Herrmann, tattooed lady; the war pictures and the usual specialties and Midway dancers.

GOSSIP.—The Forepaugh-Sells Circus opens Monday afternoon, 23, at Loomis and Harrison Streets, on the West Side. A long list of entertaining features is advertised to back up the "Greatest on Earth" claim..... The Columbia will close at the end of "The French Maid's" run, and the Academy is already dark. Manager E. P. Simpson, of the latter house, has just signed a ten years' lease. He will devote his time during the Summer to the Chutes, which opened 21.....The end of the season at the Alhambra is in sight.....Another harbinger of Summer is the announcement that the Masonic Temple Roof Garden will be reopened June 5. .....Tom Geary's white imperial is no longer seen at the door of McVicker's, as it has been for the last thirty-two years. He left with that other old attache of the house, L. L. Sharpe, and is now on the door of the Great Northern.....Weber & Fields will reopen the Grand June 5, with "Pousse Cafe."

Decatur.—At the Powers Grand the Holden Comedy Co. closed a week of fairly successful business May 14. "Mr. Packer of Chicago," with Eddie Foy in the title role, came 17, under the auspices of the local lodge of Elks. As this was only the second presentation of the play, the large audience in attendance was not altogether pleased. This closes the season at the Grand which has been moderately successful.

TEXAS.

Houston.—At the Palace Theatre business was excellent. Patti and Juliette Grayson opened May 16, and made a big hit with their dancing. The rest of the people: John Swor, Ida Grayson, Clarence Herbert, Lillie Ellsworth, Carroll and Lewis, Faedora, Marie Broughton, McNeill Sisters, Virgie Corwin, John Callaghan, L. W. Heitz, Prof. Rogers, S. J. Paul, Eddie McCann, Ernest Bailey and Blanche Lea. L. W. Hertz is now stage manager of this house.

MASCOT THEATRE has again changed hands, Doc Reynolds and Mat. Cooper being joint proprietors now. The people 16-21: Mat. Cooper, Doc Reynolds, Charles Gates, Dollie Wilson, Annie Warren, Nettie Sawin, Minnie Allen, Lea McCulloch, Minnie Bennett, Josie Cooper, Frank E. Percy, Jennie Preston, O. R. Cole, Al H. West, Robert Nichols, Chris. Warner, Pop Costello, C. H. Lewis, Dave Kriger, George Witten and Billy Jordan.

Ft. Worth.—Local talent gave an entertainment at Greenwall's Opera House May 17, the proceeds to be devoted to the Omaha Exposition. A large and well pleased audience was in attendance.

STANDARD.—The general depression in business has not reached this house. New faces: The Johnstons and Minnie Ha Ha. The holdovers are the Barretts, Tom Kelly, Minnie Marion, Lillie McKee, Kittie Houston, Minnie Russell, Pearl Winans, Ada Yule, Ethel Forrest, Ethel Barlow, Mel Reilly and Frank Gibbons. The stock will present "A Texan in Cuba."

HARRY ROBINSON, leading man of the Otto Krause Co., is spending his vacation in this city, his former home.

Dallas.—The Opera House has had its last attraction for the season and the Camp Street management has closed its doors. This leaves Dallas the Cycle Park Theatre as the only place of amusement. The people: The Carleton Sisters, the Waldrons, Little Gertie Cochran and the stock. Business good.

OREGON.

Portland.—At the Marquam Grand Brenton Thorpe's Co. presented "Miss Francis of Yale," to fair business, May 9, 10. Hopkins' Trans Oceanics will be seen 18, 20, Ferris Hartman 23, 24, Prof. Windsor 26-28, Robt. B. Mantell 30.

CORDRAY'S THEATRE.—The Sam T. Shaw Dramatic Co. did only a fair business week of 8. "The Westerner" and "In Mizzoura" were the offerings. "A Kentucky Girl" was put on 15, and "The Last Stroke" will close the engagement. Chas. E. Blaney's "A Hired Girl" comes week of 22.

WINTER'S THIRD STREET THEATRE.—Maudie Bahr, Chas. Evans, Webb and Smith, Kitty Roscoe, F. C. Carroll, Wm. J. Morton, Mantell Sisters, Maggie Sheridan, Mayer, Carroll and Mayer.

— "The Land of the Living" closed May 21.

NEW JERSEY.

Newark.—The present week marks the closing of the season in Newark. At Jacobs' Carl Haswin and company present "The Silver King." Its strong heart interest is intelligently portrayed by Mr. Haswin and his company, and a fairly good audience witnessed the performance May 23. The company closes here Saturday night, 28. Last week "Eight Bells" played to fair business against the hot weather. They did not close here as was expected, but are filling the present week at the Bijou Theatre, Brooklyn.

COLUMBIA.—The last of the season here brings us "Ten Nights in a Bar Room." It has not been seen here in some time and may draw well. It opened to a fair house 23. "Cuba's Victory," the new war drama, which was produced last week, closed Saturday night, 21. On 30, 31 "A Spy of Spain" will be presented. Matinees will occur on both days. This will close the season for this house. It will be under the control of M. J. Jacobs next season, and Geo. W. Jacobs will be the manager.

WALDMANN'S.—The engagement of the Monte Carlo Girls this week will wind up the season here, and also Mr. Waldmann's connection with the house. The attendance was good at the opening performance, 23, and the varied programme was well rendered. Marie Rogers made a strong hit singing "Uncle Sam's Heroes." The Black Crook Burlesque Co. played a good week, ending 21.

TILBY NICKELODEON.—The programme this week includes: Tinnie Burt, the Killingbecks, with their pictures; Ruth Garnold, Harry Keeler, Marie Girard, Marie Culp and Rastus Go Hard. At the benefit for the orchestra, Thursday, 19, the following people appeared: Cook and Anderson, Mollie Killingbeck, Gorman and Leonard, Ethel Vane, Tiny Burt, Maud Myring, Nan Russell, Bebe Kiel, Irene Hernandez, Nellie Mordaunt, Lolo Norvelle, Ruth Garnold, Mazie Howard, Birdie Smyth, Jere Mahoney, Delmaning Bros., Tom Flynn, the Fields, Harry Perkins, the Irvings, Dave and Farrell, Dick Roche and Tom Grant.

AUDITORIUM.—Manager Harry S. Healey had the following people at the concert Sunday, 22: Mack and Elliott, Ada Lemar, Grant and Grant, Carlotta, Farroll and Dixie, Pat Rooney Jr., Three Lassards, Florence French.

SHOOTING PARK CASINO.—These people made up the programme Sunday, 22: Patterson Bros., Pickett Family, Kathryn Roe Palmer, Williams and Hall, and Gracie and Reynolds.

NOTES.—Buffalo Bill's Wild West drew two immense audiences Friday, 20.....The New York Standard Comedy Co. will perform "Innocent as a Lamb" at the Newark Theatre, 30, under the auspices of the Republican Indian League.....Treasurer Geo. Jacobs, of Jacobs' Theatre, leaves town Sunday next, to take charge of Victoria Park, Ottawa, Ont., for the Summer. He will put on a stock in addition to some strong combinations.....The Monte Carlo Girls, after the close of their regular season, will go to the Gaiety, Albany, for the Summer.

Elizabeth.—The thinning out of the audiences at the theatres in Elizabeth denotes the waning of the season. At the Star Theatre the American Stock Co., in repertory, opened season May 19-21, to only fair business. "The Soldier's Vow," "Uncle," and "The Iron Will" were given by a cast exceptionally strong, consisting of Freeman Howes, Richard Malchien, Herbert Fortier, J. K. Hutchinson, Rachael Deane, Ina Brooks and Jennie Bowen under the direction of Edwin C. Jepson, with Jack Lange business manager. Throughout all the performances the most sterling merit was evinced by the cast, and the best possible advantage taken of parts which in inferior hands would have been overlooked. As a sequence the audience enjoyed each performance, which closed in each instance with the singing of patriotic songs and the introduction of the American colors, the audience joining in the singing and cheering the while. To arrive: Concert Music Club 24, "Cuba's Victory" 28. This attraction will probably close the regular season, with a number of rentals for local affairs to follow.

AT THE LYCEUM THEATRE the Kirmes (a local affair) was given 20. The first concert by Dorke's Band will be given June 24. Several rentals will hold the boards meanwhile.

TIPS.—The management of both the Star and Lyceum Theatres are booking steadily for next season. Corse Payson will probably open the season at the Star, and the Elroy Stock Company the Lyceum.

PAWNEE BILL'S WILD WEST is dated for 28. The billing of this attraction is heavy and attractive.

Jersey City.—At the Academy business continues excellent. For this week Manager Sackett has provided a very interesting and enjoyable programme. H. J. Byron's comedy, "Our Boys," the first time in this city, heads the list with a very superior cast and also marking the first appearance with Manager Sackett's stock of Edward R. Mawson, George T. Welch, Alexander Gaden and Mr. Packard. The olio embraces Tommy Baker, the Dublin boy; Nettie Nelson, Hodges and Launchmere, and Lumiere's cinematographe with a selection of new subjects. Next week, the comedy of "The Three Hats" and a strong olio.

BON TON.—The rain prevented the usual matinee crush from attending the opening of the Robin Hood Jr. Burlesquers May 23. The company gave a good, clean and entertaining performance, which was fully appreciated by those present. In the olio are Watson and Russell, Clements and Marshall, the Three Herbert Brothers, McCabe and Sabine, and, as a special feature, Adgie and her den of trained African lions, and Atlas, Graeco-Roman wrestler. This week will also mark the closing of the most prosperous season this house has ever enjoyed. During the Summer the house will be thoroughly overhauled and will open the regular season the latter part of August.

Paterson.—Hoyt and McKee's new farce comedy, "A Day and a Night," will be presented at the Opera House May 27, 28. The Miller Stock Co. closed a very light week 21.

EDEN THEATRE.—Edwin Forsberg's company will present Fred Bryton's "Forgiven" at this house 23 and week, and also on Memorial Day. Eaton & Hammond's Colored Sports Co. had poor business 16 and week.

BIJOU THEATRE.—The London Gaiety Girls Co. had fairly good houses 16 and week. Isham's Octoroons is the announcement for the current week.

Trenton.—The Elroys Stock Co. had good business May 16 and week, at Taylor's Opera House. Booked: "Pocahontas" 25, by the Triangle Club of Princeton University; "A Day and A Night in New York" 26, which closes the house for the season.

BIJOU THEATRE.—For 23 and week: Vernon and Kennedy, Hal James, Lulu Leslie, Paddy Maher and Lulu Darrell.

SPRING LAKE PARK opens 30, with Frank R. Hoy's American Entertainers.

Plainfield.—A very large and fashionable audience attended performance at Music Hall

Clipper Post Office.

ROSTER OF CARNEY & BIGNESS' VAUDEVILLE Show.—We opened in Holyoke, May 19, to a large and well pleased audience. We tour Connecticut, Massachusetts and Vermont for the Summer. Fred Humes and Irene Clayton, in an acrobatic kid act; La Joie Sisters, juvenile contortionists; Prince Schuman, king of the wire; Alice Burnette, dancer; C. Bigness, knife expert and strong man; Gladys Tremaine, serio comic; Nellie Marshall, acrobatic dancer; Smith and Parker, trapeze; Nelson Bigness, high rope walker; John Carney & Clarence Bigness, proprietors; Fred T. Humes, stage manager.

SAM J. ADAMS finished twelve weeks in the stock at the Bijou Theatre, Washington, D. C., and opened for twelve weeks at Kernan's, Baltimore, Md., but the season lasted only three weeks. He goes with Clifford & Huth next season, to play a part in "A High Born Lady."

HARRY LEIGHTON writes: "I close with Hi Henry's Minstrels May 26, and go to West Baden Springs for four weeks, after which I shall stop at Mount Clemens, Mich., for a few days, on my way to New York."

JAMES KELLY, of the old team of Kelly and Murphy, well known and popular on both sides of the Atlantic, is still at St. Joseph's Hospital, Yonkers, N. Y., where he was placed by the Actors' Fund, for whose continued generosity and good offices "Jimmy" is very grateful. He is improving gradually, but steadily, and hopes that he may, through the kindness of his former managers, including Gus Hill, W. A. Brady and Sam T. Jack, who have promised to aid in making a benefit for him successful, be able to pass the Summer at either Mt. Clemens or Hot Springs, being satisfied that a sojourn at either place will result in his complete restoration to health. He has suffered much, and is deserving of all the assistance his former associates may be able to give him.

HUGHES & HUGHES say of "America Forever" that it is the best thing that has come their way. Also Boise and Wright, the song illustrators. As long as the audiences look for it they intend to keep it on. Others who are using it are Sylvester Russell, Byron G. Harlan, McCoy Sisters, Harry C. Bryant, Jessie Cole and many others. Williams and Hood say: "We put on "Asleep at the Switch" Saturday night with success, and responded to several encores. Geneva Ardell writes: My repertory is now complete with "America Forever," "He's Goin' to Have a Hot Time Bye and By," "Asleep at the Switch," and "What Rielly Left Behind." Alma Kremer is likewise supplied. The street arabs with Harry Marion's Show are using "You'll Always Find a Welcome at Home, Sweet Home," to responding encores.

WILLIAM MONG, of "The Heart of Cuba" Co., is using "America Forever" in the last act, as a trio, with the chorus by a company of United States soldiers, as they go into camp at the old Santa Clara Bridge, and the effect is said to be wonderful, the audience joining in the chorus. Raymond and Laurence also recommend it.

MORTIMER AND DARRELL are booked over the Keith circuit, beginning at the Union Square, this city, May 30.

THE AMERICAN BIOGRAPH is establishing a record among animated picture machines for length of engagements and popularity with managers. The total weeks of its presentations in various American theatres is now more than seven hundred, and Summer park managers are now negotiating to run the machine in their weekly bills, which, with its continuance in the variety theatres, will largely augment the score. In addition to it's display in America the biograph is now being shown in London, Paris and other Continental cities, as well as in Australia.

KATIE EMMETT will make her debut in vaudeville early in June, at Proctor's, in a sketch entitled "A Suburban Home," written by Marion Sackett. Miss Emmett will be accompanied by Hubert Sackett and an excellent company.

MARION AND PEARL and Flossie Hughes have closed thirty-nine weeks with Flynn & Sheridan's Big Sensation Co. They are at Pastor's this week, with Brooklyn (N. Y.) Music Hall to follow.

CLAYTON AND DE SHORE closed a week at the Orpheus Theatre, Chicago, and open May 23, for sixteen weeks, in Omaha, Neb., during the Trans-Mississippi Exposition.

BOND AND O'BRIEN opened week of May 9 at the Howard, Boston, Mass., and joined Dave Marion's Extravaganza week of May 16, for the Summer season, at Providence, R. I.

THE ELKS entertained the following performers, playing Smith's Auditorium, Bridgeport, week of May 16: Rice Bros., May Wentworth, Fosteil and Emmett, Koppe, Rogers and Ryan, Arnhime and Wagner, and Casey and Leclair.

KITTY HELSTON, of the Three Sisters Helston, has been ill with a severe attack of pleurisy, having taken cold while playing at the Shooting Park, Newark, N. J., two weeks ago.

MUHEAL, who has handled the principal role in Jermon's Black Crook Co. the past two seasons, will close at the Star Theatre, Brooklyn, N. Y., May 28, owing to indisposition, and go to the home of her husband (C. G. Ball), at Medina, N. Y., there to spend the Summer months.

JERMON'S BLACK CROOK CO. opened to the banner day of the season at the Star, Brooklyn, N. Y., May 23. C. G. Ball has of late billed the show with sensational posters, and several patriotic incidents have been introduced lately.

VALMORE, the instrumental man, who was a feature of last week's o.io at Weber & Fields' Music Hall, this city, was re-engaged for this week. He leaves June 27 for California, and opens July 3 for a seven weeks' engagement on the Orpheum circuit. He is engaged for next season with Weber & Fields' Big Vaudeville Show, opening Sept 5.

HADLEY AND HART play Noner's Park, St. Louis, Mo., May 28, for eight days; Robinson Port, Fort Wayne, Ind., and Godfrey's Pavilion, Reed Lake, Mich., to follow.

VIRGINIA.

Richmond.—Lillian Tucker and Chas. C. Voight's Comedy Co. was seen to advantage at the Academy of Music week of May 16, and while the attendance was not what it should have been, results were satisfactory. The company was of unusual strength for a popular price organization. The Lees, hypnotists, commenced a week's engagement 23, at the termination of which the house will close for the season.

PUTNAM'S THEATRE COMIQUE.—Warm weather got in its work last week and the attendance suffered. Opening 23: Seymour Sisters, L. G. Torrey, John Vook and Winnie Louis.

FOREST HILL PARK, under the management of J. H. Crewe, opens May 30, for the Summer season. The opening attractions have not been announced, though a strong bill is promised.

Norfolk.—The Lees, hypnotists, opened May 16 for a week at the Academy of Music. The engagement, taken as a whole, was fairly successful, although there was a perceptible falling off in the attendance as the week drew to a close. The Lillian Tucker Company in repertory open for week 23.

BIJOU THEATRE.—New people week 23: Lottie Gorman, Sadie Almont, Harry George and Billy Grace.

ATLANTIC GARDEN.—People who open week 23 are Dora Joyce and Lamb Berta, wire walkers.

FRANKLIN THEATRE.—People to be seen at this resort week of 23: Gussie Smith, Nellie Monroe, Gertie Hines and William Lewis.

Petersburg.—At the Academy of Music the Simkins-Fabel Co. closed a week's engagement May 21, giving satisfactory performances to small business. The Lees, hypnotists, are due week of June 6-11.

COLORADO.

Denver.—At the Tabor Grand "A Stranger in New York" was the attraction week of May 16 and drew large audiences. Week of 22 comes Tim Murphy, in "Old Innocence."

Vaudeville and Minstrel

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Our theatrical correspondents are hereby notified that the credentials now held by them will expire on June 1 next. They are requested to return them to this office at once, for renewal for 1898-99.

MR. PROCTOR'S circuit of continuous vaudeville theatres keeps right on winning notable recruits from the legitimate stage. It is announced that Theodore Babcock, the well known light comedian, has been engaged to support Miss Otis, who will revive Rosina Vokes' old success, "My Milliner's Bill." Another legitimate star secured by Mr. Proctor is Laura Joyce Bell, well known in comic opera and farce comedy. Mrs. Bell's last appearance in town was made at the Fourteenth Street Theatre, in "The Hoosier Doctor," with her husband, Digby Bell. She will shortly appear at both of Mr. Proctor's theatres in a new musical comedietta by Edgar Smith. Katie Emmett, who has of late season's been starring in "The Waifs of New York," is still another deserter from the regular theatres. She is on the Proctor books to produce a new protean sketch early in June. Lottie Gilson, who has been singing in the European music halls for the past sixteen months, sails for home May 21, and on May 30 will make her American reappearance at Proctor's Twenty-third Street Theatre. Miss Gilson sang for six months with splendid success at the Berlin Winter Garden. Miss Gilson will remain in America only three weeks. She returns direct to Berlin where she is engaged for six months.

WILL H. FOX writes from Europe: "The Baggessens, Florence Bindley, Chas. T. Aldrich, Robertson Baker Trio, Emma Pollock and Wilson and Waring are all doing splendidly at the Palace. Jules and Ella Garrison scored an instantaneous hit at the Middlesex, and are now on tour. Nellie Burt has caught on at the Tivoli with her coon songs. The solid hit of "The Belle of New York," in London, is Dan Daly, while James Sullivan as the German, Phyllis Rankin and little Edna May are big favorites. Heely and Marbra are in great demand for pantomime. Lottie Gilson is on the same bill with me this week, and is singing better than ever, and always goes big. The Crawford Bros. have offers for pantomime for '98 and '99. Chas. Crawford was married to the grand daughter of Pony Moore a short time ago. The lady is very wealthy and pretty. Patsy Doyle, our own clog dancer, surprised the natives of Liverpool by his execution dancing. Willis Sweetnam opens at the Palace Theatre tonight. Patriotic songs, with England and America as an alliance, are received with great applause over here at the present time. More anon."

RICHARDS & PRINGLE'S GEORGIA MINSTRELS closed their twenty-sixth season of forty weeks at Tacoma, Wash., May 8. The entire company of forty-two people on two cars of the organization jumped direct to Chicago. The management report the past season as the best in the history of this organization. They traveled nineteen thousand miles, only lost one night, and met with no accident worthy of mention. For the coming season they will carry three cars, three bands and fifty-five people, and the title will be Richards, Pringle, Rusco & Holland's Big Minstrel Festival. Billy Kersands has signed with them.

FANNY DA COSTA, last season with May Howard Extravaganza Co., has been playing principal boy parts at the Howard in Boston.

THE MCDONALD TROUPE, Harry, Rachel, Will and Hattie, opened April 10, for thirty weeks, with the Orrin Bros., City of Mexico. On Monday evening, May 9, Hattie McDonald, while performing on the double trapeze with her sister, fell a distance of twenty feet and broke her left leg. She is resting comfortably, and everything is favorable for a speedy recovery.

ROSSLEY AND LEE are playing a return date on the Castle circuit with a new act. They have signed with "Peck's Bad Boy" Co. for next season.

GILMOUR AND MAGEE closed with "The Prodigal Father" Co. May 14, at Hartford, Ct., and will play park dates this Summer.

BOGERT AND O'BRIEN are now playing the Orpheum circuit. They return East about July 3 and are booked solid for the Summer.

AL. EMMETT FOSTELL, of Fostell and Emmett, was presented with a gold handled cane by Bridgeport, No. 36, Lodge of Elks, at Smith's Auditorium, May 16.

CHARLES KENNA closed a two weeks' engagement at Sam T. Jack's Opera House, Chicago, and opened May 15 at Suburban Garden, St. Louis, Mo. He returns to New York City in June, opening at Sam T. Jack's Broadway Theatre.

GEO. W. EVERS closes with the German American Vaudeville Co., May 23, and joins Milton's Bellringers for the season.

J. E. GARDNER and Kittie Gilmore are at the Central Music Hall, week of May 23. They play Shay's New Garden Theatre, Buffalo, N. Y., week of June 6, and open on the Castle circuit June 26, with St. Louis, Chicago, to follow, for six weeks.

HADJ TAHAR sailed May 21 for Europe, to attend to the opening of his Moorish Show, at the Exposition in London. He will return in a few weeks.

HARRY DE LAIN, of the team, Harrison and De Lain, has accepted engagement for the Summer, to play the part of Pipo, in "Mascott," at Inman's Casino, Coney Island. Mr. Harrison has gone to Chicago to spend the Summer.

WILLIAMS AND ADAMS were in the bill at Shea's Garden Theatre, Buffalo, N. Y., week ending May 14, but their names were inadvertantly omitted from our Buffalo letter. They are featured on the bill this week, at Poli's Opera House, Waterbury, Ct.

HILL AND MILLS have completed all arrangements for the opening of Washington Concert Garden, Atlantic City, N. J., which opens June 18. Among the people booked are: Bryant and Burrows, Conroy and Edwards, Lizzie Booth, Charles and Jennie Walsh, Will J. Hagan, Marion and Pearl, Flossie Hughes, Williams and Melburn, Hill Sisters, Hattie Mills. M. T. Bryant will be stage manager, and Tommy Rooney, property man.

GEO. L. MOXLEY has closed his seventh season with Mahara's Minstrels and will spend the Summer in Fargo, N. C.

STIRK AND ANITA write that they are successful in their new departure.

CAPT. NELSON, Jerome and Bell, Mamie Miledge, and Morrisey and Rich, will spend the Summer at Knocker's Rest, Fairhaven, N. J.

FRED WALDMANN, who has so successfully managed Waldmann's Opera House, Newark, N. J., will sever his connection with that house June 1.

HARRY S. MARION will present his stereopticon and singing act again next season, in conjunction with a biograph.

CHARLES BARRY, son of the late Wm. Barry, intends entering the vaudeville ranks.

ELMORE AND BOARDE have dissolved partnership, and Maude Boarde has joined hands with Wm. Kingsley Cole, to do a musical act.

GALLAGRE AND HILD were last week at Poli's Wonderland, New Haven, Ct.

JOS. F. VION has received a cable from Lottie Glison stating that she would sail for this country May 21, and will arrive 28, to fill an engagement over the Proctor circuit, opening at the Pleasure Palace, this city, 30.

CHARLES T. ALDRICH has met with such success in his tramp act at the Palace, London, Eng., that he has been given the star place on the programme.

CHARLES G. KILPATRICK, trick bicyclist, writes from London, Eng., under date of May 11, that he has closed a successful tour of the Moss & Thornton circuit and is about to sail for the United States.

PAUL MACDONALD was a CLIPPER caller May 20, and stated that he has recovered from the abscess on his neck. He closed 21 a three weeks' stay with the electrical exposition at Madison Square Garden, this city, and opens this week at the Ninth and Arch Street Museum, Philadelphia, Pa., with Trenton, N. J., and Brooklyn, N. Y., to follow.

THE SIMPSONS have added an electric novelty to their musical act and report success.

CASSIE BERNARD, of the Sisters Bernard, while doing her act at Kernan's Lyceum Theatre, Washington, D. C., sprained her ankle and was unable to work a few shows.

HOWARD AND MARENO opened at the Olympic Theatre, Chicago, Ill., May 23, with the Chicago Opera House to follow, in a new character act, in which Miss Moreno does a comedy Jew in male attire.

THE SISTERS CARMONTELL write from St. Louis, Mo., thus: "We have closed a two weeks' engagement at the Standard, here, closing the olio the second week, and are taking a rest at our home on Eastern Avenue Boulevard."

THE BON TON THEATRE, Jersey City, T. W. Dinkins, manager, closes a season of forty weeks May 28. Mr. Dinkins claims to have had the best season in the history of this house. "Robin Hood Jr." will be the closing attraction, with the addition of Adgie's Lions.

LOUIS ROBIE states that the time for The Utopians, Dinkins & Robie, managers, for season 1899 and 1900, is rapidly filling.

RICE AND BARTON.

These well known and popular vaudeville managers first formed a partnership in 1876. They are both natives of Pittsburg, Pa., and made their first appearance as a black face song and dance team, at Trimble's Varieties, in their native city. They were very successful there and afterwards, while playing the principal variety theatres of the West. Coming East in 1879, they made their first New York appearance at the Metropolitan Theatre, 585 Broadway. They played several seasons over the Eastern circuit, joined Boyles & Kennedy's Bright Lights and were principal features of the concert in the Barnum & Bailey Circus. They then organized Mills, Rice & Barton's Bijou Minstrels, season of 1884-85. The next season the company was known as Rice & Barton's Consolidated Minstrels. They next toured two seasons with Tony Pastor's traveling company, and closed to organize their famous Rose Hill English Folly Company which has been a great success for ten years. With their farce comedy, "McDoodle and Poodle" and the Big Gaiety Extravaganza they are among the most prosperous of traveling vaudeville managers.

"THE GRAND UNION SOCIETY" sends the following to THE CLIPPER: "We would like you to print the following news, and by so doing you will greatly help us in a movement which we are about to pursue to advance the principles and morals of the theatrical world in general, this being the first organization to have an alliance with all the English speaking forces in the profession on both sides of the water. We have two offices so far, one the Grand Union Hotel, Toronto, Canada, the other 121 East Seventy-seventh Street, New York City, the home of the president. We instituted this society for professionals only, May 19. We hope you will assist us in heralding our motto, which is T. F. V., Truth, Friendship and Virtue. S. L. Flatow, president; Mrs. Pete Baker, vice president; Chas. A. Campbell, treasurer; Mrs. Sylvester Cornish, tiler; Fred A. Bain, doctor; Pete Baker, Clyde Mackinley, and Geo. D. Collins, trustees; Mrs. Harry Bich, chaplain; Harry Rich, sergeant; Lillian Whiting, May Whiting, S. L. Flatow, and Clyde Mackinley, nurses, and Arthur A. Irwin, secretary, are the officers and charter members."

MINNIE DUPREE, formerly of Dupree and Haywood, has branched out for herself, and is to be complimented for her rendition of "Miss Liberty," "Down in Cherry Lane," "Stories that Mother Told Me" and "Nigger on Ma Staff."

WILLIAMS AND HOOD, with the Broadway Girls, introduced a new song in their act last week at Miner's Bowery Theatre, entitled "Stories that Mother Told Me."

MARIE CULP is singing "Down in Cherry Lane," "Story of a Broken Heart," "Miss Liberty," "Stories Mother Told Me" and "I'se Got Another Nigger on Ma Staff."

KILROY AND BRITTON, with their getthemoneygraph, were one of the features at the Palace Theatre, Boston, Mass., last week, and opened their act with Sterling & Von Tilzer's new ballad, "Stories that Mother Told Me." Mr. Kilroy's rendition, with the aid of comic pictures, of the coon hit, "I'se Got Another Nigger on Ma Staff," brought four encores.

"THE CASH GIRL" will open at the Bergen Beach Casino May 28. JOE ROBERTS has resigned from the Americus Comedy Four, and is now in Chicago, rehearsing a new act, with his old partners, Moreland and Thompson, opening at Chester Park, Cincinnati, O., May 28.

THE CRAIG TRIO will introduce two novelties next season—mechanical Swiss bells and mystic chimes.

CARRIE EZIER is playing an eight weeks' engagement on the Castle and Hopkins' circuit, after which she will open on the Burke circuit for a limited engagement.

OSCAR AND SALLENA KHERNS were re-engaged after their first appearance for a four weeks' run at the Park Pavilion, Cleveland, O.

NORMAN, frog man, has signed with W. W. McEwen's Carnival of Novelties for the Summer season.

JAMES B. MACKIE and his company opened at Keith's Union Square, this city, May 16, but, unfortunately, his trick scenery did not arrive in time to use. He has completed a condensed version of "Grimes' Cellar Door," and will produce it in vaudeville houses and Summer parks this season, using his own scenery and mechanical devices. He is supported by Louise Sanford and a competent company. He will next season produce a new play, "The Yankee Doodle Boy," by Thos. Addison. The songs and incidental music will be written by Morris Levy and Chas. A. Burke.

MANAGER LOUIS H. BAKER, of the Columbia Garden, Atlantic City, N. J., writes to THE CLIPPER thus: "I received three hundred and sixteen letters to my ad. in this week's issue of your valuable CLIPPER, relative to engagements. I open my season June 27, with Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, twenty-five people in all."

MERRITT AND ROZELLA were re-engaged with Yousouf, the Terrible Turk, Vaudeville Co., and are at the Bijou Theatre, Pittsburg, Pa., this week.

MANAGER AL. G. FIELD writes to THE CLIPPER as follows: "Your St. Louis, Mo., correspondent writes that the Suburban Garden opened with the Al. G. Field Minstrels. The Al. G. Field Minstrels closed the season at Youngstown, O., April 23. The title of above show is vested in me. I have managed a minstrel show with the above title the past thirteen years. While in New Orleans, attending the Grand Lodge of the B. P. O. Elks, I was apprised of the fact that Gumpertz & Jannopoulo, of the Suburban Garden, St. Louis, had billed a minstrel show under the title of the Al. G. Field Minstrels. I telegraphed these managers, asking who gave them authority to use my name and the title of my show. They made no answer to my telegram. I wrote them a letter, to which no answer was made. I engaged counsel by wire, and hastened to St. Louis. Before I reached St. Louis they had covered up the paper on bill boards, and taken down the lithographs hung in the Garden. They had written the Donaldson Lithographing Company, of Cincinnati, O., and procured lithographs with my imprint and picture on. Our petition for an injunction was filed Wednesday, May 18. The Court granted the injunction, and fixed the bond at $5,000. It is needless for me to add that the suit on my part will be prosecuted to the bitter end."

MASTER GEORGE CREED, of Maxam & Creed's Comedians, is confined at Lakeside Hospital, at Cleveland, O., with a dislocated hip.

THE BIJOU QUARTET, Geo. L. Dorsey, Harry Waltjen, Ed. Wright and Wm. Wright, close the season with 'Blue Jeans" Co. at Joliet, Ill., May 24. They play electric parks the coming Summer season, and are re-engaged with "Blue Jeans" Co. for next season, to play parts and do their specialty.

FLORENCE BINDLEY opened at the Palace Theatre, London, Eng., May 2. Chas. Morton, the manager, after her first performance made her engagement indefinite. She has signed contracts until 1900. Miss Bindley returns to America in September on private business, after which she goes to London for a long engagement.

ST. JOHN AND LAYTON, De Graff Sisters, Marie King, Julia Elwood, Fannie Fern Thatcher, Clara Cauldwell, Bessie Bofe, Emerson and Omego, the Unique Quartette, Harry Brown, James Crosby, Beatrice Coates, Frank Freeman and Osker Liebenemm have signed with Al. Reeve's Big Show for next season.

PRESIDENT MORRIS MYERFELD JR., of the Orpheum Corporation, writes: "At a meeting of this corporation duly held, Mr. Meyerfeld, owning one half the capital stock of this corporation, was elected to succeed Mr. Walter as president of this company. The same liberal policy to performers inaugurated by his predecessor will be continued. John Morrisey, who has been connected with the Orpheum circuit for many years as assistant director, will continue as such, and it will be their joint endeavor to maintain the reputation of the Orpheum circuit for high class vaudeville, and to extend to all having dealings with this company the same courtesies and advantages heretofore enjoyed."

WASHBURN'S MINSTRELS closed the season May 20, at Huntington, Pa., on account of the proprietor's illness.

HODGKINS AND LEITH, who are playing the Castle-Hopkins circuit, open in the Keith house June 27.

VIC RICHARDS, comedian, with his dog Bismarck, joined the Simmons & Slocum Minstrels at Harrisburg 20. Next season he will join hands with Pasquelina, the dancer.

THE RACKETT BROS. TROUBADOURS will open their Summer tour at Peoria, Ill., on May 29. The roster is as follows: Rackett Bros., sole proprietors; Louis Angelo, business manager; Chantilli, the La Reanes, Ziska, Chris and Maude Lane, Rench and Kennedy, and the Three Rackett Brothers.

HARRY THOMSON goes with Miaco's City Club next season.

THE THREE BROS. REXFORDS are now closing their third engagement over the Castle-Kohl circuit, and open June 6 for twelve weeks on the Hayse' Amusement Company parks, with the C. K. Burke parks to follow.

DAISY WADE has lost the use of her voice entirely, and is undergoing severe operations. She is improving slowly and will resume work shortly.

DANNY MANN and Joe Conlan have closed a season of three weeks at the Ninth and Arch Street Museum, Philadelphia, Pa.

THE BRILLIANT QUARTET, with the Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, were features at the opening of the Summer season at Harrisburg, Pa.

ARTHUR DEMING will close his third season with Hi Henry's Minstrels May 26, and will Summer at his home in St. Louis, Mo. Next season he will head his own company, under the management of H. J. Clapham.

MONDAY EVENING, May 16, after the performance of the Peter Maher Co., playing at the Trocadero, Philadelphia, Mrs. James B. Donovan, of the Donovans, gave a birthday party at Rudolph's Hotel, and a large number of friends were entertained.

THE NEW ELECTRIC PARK, Maysville, Ky., opened May 23, under the management of Lew Seeker. The following people are booked for the opening week: Baker and Randall, Holmes and Waldon, James Outten, Rastus, the pickaninny; Seeker and Wilkes, and Prof. J. Thomas, pianist.

FLYNN & SHERIDAN'S BIG SENSATION and the City Sports Show closed a prosperous season May 21. Flynn and Sheridan have dissolved partnership, and Phil Sheridan will have sole control of the City Sports Show hereafter.

PHIL SHERIDAN AND JACK FAUST will have the Metropolitan Burlesquers on the road next season.

JOHN T. TIERNEY is booked for a run at the Bijou Theatre, Washington, D. C.

POLLIE HOLMES, the "Irish Dutchess," is a leading feature of the bill at Tony Pastor's Theat

OHIO.

Cincinnati.—With every billboard at the entrance of every temple of thespis in the city plastered with railroad posters, and the foyer of the museum in the possession of a lemonade man, it may well be said that the dramatic season is dead. The Queen City is on the eve of its biennial musical feast, and there was a sort of melodiotis apropos at the Norwood Auditorium May 19, when the little cantata, "Love's Conquest," by Gustav Ernst, was given its first presentation in this country. It is a tuneful little composition and locally interesting, for it marked the debut of the Cortesi Quartet, viz.: Bessie Walker Ruggles, soprano; Annie Jones, contralto; Maldwyn Evans, tenor, and Edward A. Yahn, bass. The pianist was Cora Maguire. "Love's Conquest" is a simple incident of village life. Bessie is in love with Robin; she hears stories that he is false, but a reconciliation occurs before the breach is widened beyond repair.

MUSIC HALL.—"The Damnation of Faust," in which Marguerite McIntyre will take the role of Marguerite, will mark the first performance, 24, in the twenty-fifth anniversary celebration of the founding of the May musical festivals. Ben Davies, David Bispham and Joseph S. Baernstein are the other soloists who will take part in the musical interpretation of that dramatic legend. Other festival soloists include Josephine J. Jacoby, Helen Wright, Corinne Moore-Lawson, Gertrude May Stein and George Hamlin. Seven concerts will be given.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE.—The house was thrown open twice during the week. The McCoy-Ruhlin contest, 20, was presented in pantomime and an amateur vaudeville performance given, in which Buckley and Vitt, Prof. Herman, Tiny Phillips, "Miss Perriwinkle," Gus Richards, Felix and Smith, Nellie Conway, May Parkhurst, Willis Strauss, Ruth Dean, Emily La Blanche, Cora Cummings, Nellie Blanch and Louis Davis took part. The employes enjoyed a benefit 22, when Nina Diva, Baker and Randell, Jim Flynn, Grace Gilmore, Frankie Bernard, Bessie Lamb, and Fred Rider's Moulin Rouge Co. appeared.

CHESTER PARK.—The managerial team has been selected for the vaudeville theatre. Will T. Sheehan, for many years with Joseph Murphy, is manager, and James F. Flynn will be stage manager.

LAGOON'S VAUDEVILLE THEATRE.—The amphitheatre at the Ludlow Lagoon, under the trees, is to be put under roof. M. C. Anderson, of the Fountain Square and Walnut Street Theatres, has assumed the management of the new Summer enterprise. He has already secured Josephine Sabel, who will be one of the performers at the opening, June 12.

GOSSIP.—James E. Wilson, late of the Walnut Street Stock Co., went to Pittsburg.....Adelaide Fitz Allen has also signed with a stock company in the Smoky City.....Joseph Kilgore will spend part of the Summer at Atlanta....Coney Island opens May 28....Annie Spanuth, the vocalist, is writing a drama.....Roy Fairchild is another of the Walnut Street Stock that moved to Pittsburg.....Robert W. Ransom expects to spend part of the heated term in Michigan.....Henrietta Crosman may be seen for a Summer season at Rochester, N. Y., with Annie Irlancker Company. It is possible she will star next season. Cincinnati is quite in love with her.....Ida B. Ulmer and Frances Cusson were heard in concert at Recital Hall 18.....Zilpha Barnes Wood is to give a Foerster evening, in honor of Adolph M. Foerster, in June. Mina Betscher, Adoph Hahn, Lino Mattioli, Philip Werthover and Oscar Ehrgott will take part.....Will Heck will manage the vaudeville theatre at Coney Island.....The Zoo musical fetes will commence 27.....Frank Wright will do the press work at Chester Park.

Cleveland.—The regular season of 1897-98 is dead, and the supplementary season at the Opera House and the Lyceum is in full sway. The first Summer resort to open will be the Euclid Beach Park. Haltnorth's Garden Theatre will open a few weeks later.

EUCLID AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—The original booking of the Boston Lyric Opera Co. was for May 16, but the opening was postponed to 23, when this company appears in "Erminnie." Two operas will be given each week throughout supplementary season. "The Bohemian Girl" divides the first week with "Erminie." The company includes: W. H. Clarke, Harry Hallam, Milton Aborn, Adelaide Norwood, Hattie Arnold, Gertrude Clarke and Namonie Arnold. A large and well trained chorus is promised.

LYCEUM THEATRE.—Eugenie Blair has certainly made an exceptional hit at this house in the Spring engagement. "The New Magdalen" proved a strong attraction and business was very good. Miss Blair still continues to retain the popular esteem of the patrons of this house. "Jane Eyre" will be given week 23, followed by "Ingomar."

EUCLID BEACH PARK.—This most popular resort will open 28. The boats 'Superior" and "Duluth" have been repainted and refurnished for this season's business, and, in addition to the many new and attractive features at the Park, promise to bring golden returns to the promoters of this excellent enterprise. A new open air pavilion theatre erected this season is the principal new feature. The opening vaudeville bill will include Maud Granger, in a sketch; also the Akimotos troupe of Japs, Lora Bennett, O'Brien and Collins, and the music will be furnished by the Great Western Band of Cleveland. The fare by steamer this season has been reduced from 25 to 10 cents. There is also a new electric light plant which will much enhance the beauty of the park after dark. Frank Cook, now treasurer of the Star, will be in the box office of the park. George Snow will be excursion agent.

STAR THEATRE.—Reilly & Wood's Co. played a return engagement week of 16, and did the best week's business done for several weeks past, big houses being the rule matinees and nights. A number of new features have been added to the show since last seen here, making it an exceedingly strong attraction. Pat Reilly, in his crayon sketches of the Maine disaster, creates rousing enthusiasm. The Moulin Rouge Extravaganza Co. will be seen week 23. The Peter Maher Co. 30.

PARK PAVILION.—This place can almost be classed as an outdoor attraction, and its close proximity to the lake shore makes it a fine resort. Business continues good. The new attractions for coming week are: The Comstocks, Brumage and Clark, Harry Gilbert Castle, Virgie Browning, Connors and Dunn and Maud Delora. Carl Carlton, for the past season leader and cornet soloist with Primrose & West, will be heard in the orchestra of this theatre through the Summer season.

CUES.—The Reilly & Wood Co. closes the season in Buffalo week of 23.....It is rumored that the interior of the Star will be changed and improved very materially during the Summer.....Geo. Chennell, press agent of Euclid Beach Park, is kept very busy these days arranging for the opening.....Cook's war spectacle, "The Bombardment of San Juan," is drawing nicely at Forest City Park.....Josef Hoffman's piano recital at Opera House, 17, drew a large house.

Toledo.—At the Valentine Theatre last week the opera company gave "The Royal Middy," "Olivette" and "The Bohemian Girl" in very good style, to liberal patronage. The Wilbur Kerwin Co. will put on "Two Vagabonds" and "Fra Diavolo" May 22-29.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE.—The Brady Stock Co. presented "The Galley Slave" and "East Lynne" last week, with elaborate stage settings and a good cast. Business was very fair. "The Ensign" will be given 22 and week, by the stock.

WONDERLAND.—Business was very good during the past week. The theatre bill was strong, the wargraph creating a great deal of enthusiasm. Barry and Gray, with their marionettes, were very pleasing in the curio. Week of 23 the theatre presents Peter Baker, Whiting Sisters, Bonnie Lottie, Wills and Barron, and the wargraph. In the curio hall: Mlle. Oneida, assisted by H. V. Lee, Prof. L. D. Mack and the maze will be seen.

CASINO THEATRE.—The Summer season at this resort opens 22 with the biograph, Carr and Tourjee, Cawthorn and Forrester, Bella Tufts, Mr. and Mrs. Carter, and Mrs. Milt G. Barlow and her negro quartet. Bookings 29 and week: Hilda Thomas, the Harrmans, the Four Luciers, Annie Whitney, Mrs. Barlow and the biograph.

Dayton.—At the Grand Opera House James A. Herne, in 'Shore Acres," comes May 26

PARK THEATRE.—"The Land o' the Living" drew fairly well 16-18. Hoyt's "A Trip to Chinatown" did a good business 19-21. The season at this house is now closed.

WEST SIDE SHOW GROUNDS.—The Forepaugh-Sells Bros. Shows did an immense business 17. The local Shriners attended the performance in a body.

FAIR VIEW PARK.—The first week of this popular resort opened auspiciously under the management of Will J. Donnelly. The entertainment proved first class, and the patronage was large accordingly. The following is the bill for the week of 22: Olympia Quartette, Frencella and Lewis, Goldsmith Sisters, Collins and Ray, Walton and Doyle, and Hadj Lessik, Arab gun spinner.

Sandusky.—At Nielsen's Opera House Edison's graphoscope, booked for week of May 16, failed to appear. "The Rivals" was handled well by the Joseph Jefferson Club (local talent) 20. The season at this house closes 24, with the appearance of the "A Tarrytown Widow" Co., for the benefit of the ushers of the theatre.

CEDAR POINT PLEASURE RESORT.—The Summer season will open May 28, when Manager Boekling will offer to the patrons the following excellent bill: The Olympia Quartet, Monroe Sisters, singers and dancers; Francelli and Lewis, operatic singers; Hadj Lessic, balancer; Edna Bassett Marshall, singer, besides professional bicycle races.

ROSE HUBBARD, of Frohman's Stock Co., is visiting friends in the city.....Chester De Vonde, leading man in Himmelein's Ideals, directed the presentation of "The Rivals" 20.

Columbus.—At the Great Southern Theatre May Irwin had good business May 18. The season at this house is closed.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—"East Lynne" will be given 23-28. "The Idler" had fair business last week.

MINERVA PARK CASINO.—A vaudeville company, including the following people: Alice Raymond, Monroe Sisters, the Alpine Yochers, the Brothers Borani, Edna B. Marshal, Jos. F. Hortz and the animated song sheet, will be the bill for 23-28. Business is good.

Zanesville.—The John F. Hummel Colossal Show came May 16. The afternoon audience was light on account of heavy rain, but in the evening every seat was taken and hundreds were standing in every nook and corner of the big tent.....The Street Carnival, commencing 13, now seems an assured success. J. R. Pearl, chairman of the amusement committee, says that he received over two hundred answers to his adv. in THE CLIPPER, and that all the space allotted to the amusement is taken.....At Maplewood Park Bauer's Military Band gives a sacred concert May 22. H. B. Westcott, manager of the park, has booked the following well known people for the opening week: The Lareanes, sketch team; Minnie Jackson, soubrette; H. H. Lewis and Harry Sperry, comedians.

Akron.—Assembly Theatre has closed the season..... Cameron Clemens, recently with the Arnold-Wells Co., and Newton Chisnell, of the Stuart Robson company, are Summering here.....Harry Hawn will manage Lakeside Park Pavilion this season.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia.—The regular theatrical season of 1897-98 came to an end with the Saturday evening's performances last week, the few houses still remaining open playing more in the nature of a supplementary season. From a business point of view the departed season brought fair returns only; some few of the houses came out of the scramble with good profits, but the great majority did fairly well, and that is all. A correct estimate places the past season here at little, if any, improvement over the one previous.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—The Lambs' Gambol occurs at this house Wednesday evening, and all indications point to the performance netting a splendid sum for the club. At the auction of boxes and seats at the Broad Street Theatre last Thursday afternoon over $3,000 was realized, the auctioneering being done by De Wolf Hopper, Digby Bell, W. H. Crane and Augustus Thomas. The highest received for a box was $100, double the regular price.

BROAD STREET THEATRE.—The season of this house was closed with the week's engagement of E. H. Sothern. The business was very large during the last week, the house being completely filled each evening, and the popular young star, in his repertory of "Lord Chumley," "The Adventure of Lady Ursula" and "The Lady of Lyons," met with his usual gratifying reception. The Saturday evening's performance was a repetition of "Lord Chumley," and the new play was not produced here.

CHESTNUT STREET OPERA HOUSE.—On Saturday night this house was also entered on the inactive list, and went into its Summer retirement. During last week Ada Rehan and the Daly company appeared in "The School for Scandal" and "The Taming of the Shrew" with distinction. The excellent performances were thoroughly appreciated by large sized audiences.

CHESTNUT STREET THEATRE.—The McKee Rankin Stock Co. begins a supplementary season at this house this week. The bill for the week is "Trilby," in which Nance O'Neil will appear in the title role and H. G. Carleton assume the part of Svengali. Kellar enjoyed prosperity last week, and presented an interesting bill of magic, to the mystification of goodly numbers.

WALNUT STREET THEATRE.—"The Lady Slavey" is doing well at this house, the attendance being large last week despite the lateness of the season. The same attraction continues this week and closes the house for the season Saturday night.

PARK THEATRE.—Creston Clarke and Adelaide Prince are seen this week in "The Marble Heart," and "Hamlet" on Friday and Saturday nights and the Saturday matinee. "Richelieu" was well presented last week and the attendance continued profitable. Edwin Middleton and George Barbier were added to the company last week and did effective work. Next week ends the season for both the company and the house.

GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—Another war play is the offering this week, "Across the Potomac" being produced in a realistic manner, with a large force of supernumeraries. "Around the World in Eighty Days" was presented last week in a commendable manner, with many clever spectacular effects, and met with the approval of large audiences.

NATIONAL THEATRE.—This house is dark this week, the season having closed with the performances of "Gettysburg" last week. This war play, which was new here, met with a favorable reception and attracted fairly good houses.

FOREPAUGH'S THEATRE.—George Learock, Carrie Radcliffe and the stock company appear this week in "A Celebrated Case." Business continued good last week, the attendance being large, and "Raglan's Way," cleverly presented by the stock, pleased the audiences. The house remains open two weeks longer. Next week "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" will be produced by the stock, and the week of June 6 following, "Leah the Forsaken."

GIRARD AVENUE THEATRE.—The Andrews Opera Co. had a successful opening at this house last week. Good houses were drawn, and praise was bestowed on the organization for the good singing of the principals, and for the excellent work of the chorus. "Fra Diavolo" was the bill, and it was well rendered. Rena Atkinson was too ill to appear Thursday night, and Marie Bell came on from New York and assumed the part of Zerlina at short notice with great credit to herself. This week "Martha" is sung. Next week, "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "The Pirates of Penzance" as a double bill.

STANDARD THEATRE.—The stock company this week is devoting its efforts to Edwin Arden's "Eagle Nest" "Around the World in Eighty Days," as presented by the stock last week, attracted fair sized audiences, and, with the vaudeville acts, met with approval.

THE BIJOU.—This house continues on its prosperous way, filling the seating capacity completely with well pleased people. For the current week a number of new war views are shown on the biograph, and specialties are contributed by Milton and Dolly Nobles, in "Why Walker Reformed;" Claude Gillingwater and Edw. J. Heron, in "The Wrong Flat;" George Evans, Six Australian Risleys, Alf Grant, Daly and Devere Falke and Semon, Sidney Grant and Miss Norton, Grace Smith, Pialkowsky, the Rooneys, Campbell and Caulfield, George Melville, Barton and Ashley, and Murray and Alden.

THE AUDITORIUM.—Manager Gilmore offers his patrons this week a vaudeville festival, and as the same policy of putting in house shows met with hearty support at the tag end of last season his efforts in this direction are likely to be appreciated. The bill this week is made up of Pearl Andrews, Lydia Barry and George Felix, in "The Vaudeville Craze;" Smith and Campbell, Manning and Weston, Phyllis Allen, Montague and West, Adele Purvis Onri, the Three Brothers Rio, Louise Montrose, Foy and Clark, Boyce and Black, and Nestor and Bennett. Corinne and her Co. delighted the comfortably filled houses last week with the production of "Little Monte Cristo," and closed their engagement with a fair showing.

ELEVENTH STREET OPERA HOUSE.—Business was fair last week with Powell at this house. He closed his engagement with the Saturday night's performance, and the house is now dark for the Summer.

LYCEUM THEATRE.—The Parisian Belles Burlesque Co. provides the entertainment this week. The Bon Ton Burlesquers, with Joe Goddard as an added feature, attracted fairly good attendance last week. Next week, the New White Crook.

THE TROCADERO.—For this week, the last of the season, Nina Medea's Burlesquers holds the boards. Peter Maher and his vaudeville company gave a good account of themselves last week, to the entire satisfaction of well filled houses.

NINTH AND ARCH MUSEUM.—In the curio hall this week are Captain George Whistler, who explains submarine mines and blows up a miniature battleship at each performance; Captain Harrison and his Klondike outfit, and a continuation of the Cuban plantation scenes. The continuous vaudeville introduces May Hoey, Victor and Dell, the Everetts, Paul McDonald, Higgins and Leslie, and Agnes Fields. Patronage was good last week.

NOTES.—Lida MacMillan has joined the stock company at the Grand Opera House.....Kalitz's Band has been engaged for the season at the new Chestnut Hill Park, which opens Saturday.....Prof. Myers' Military Band will furnish the music for the opening of Woodside Park on Saturday. There will also be a number of bicycle races in the afternoon. Beginning Monday there is to be a display of Pain's fireworks, including "The Blowing up of the Maine."....Washington Park opens for the season Saturday with Scott's National Military Band and a pyrotechnic display, "The Bombardment of Manila."

Harrisburg.—The coming week promises to be a big one. The annual conclave Knights Templar meets here and will bring to the city many thousand visitors. In view of this fact efforts have been made to provide plenty of amusement.

OPERA HOUSE.—Managers Markley and Appell will try a supplementary season, opening May 23 with Sam Pitman's Co. for a week of repertory. The house will be kept cool by large electric fans.

PAXTANG PARK.—This is the only Summer resort in this city playing attractions. Opened 21, most auspiciously, with Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, the attraction also for week of 23. Lew Simmons is a member of the Knights, and a big week is anticipated.

NOTES.—William Kibble, treasurer of Washburn's Circus, is in the city. The show closed at Huntingdon, Pa., after four weeks of poor business. As flour, provisions, etc., are high, and war times are making money scarce, it is probable that the show has closed for the season.....William Monyer, formerly manager of the Sentinel Opera House Carlise, is in the city negotiating for a popular farce comedy for next season.....Arthur C. Young, a former manager of the Bijou Theatre, this city, has charge of the privileges at Paxtang Park, including the electrical building, which Mr. Young will feature.... Edwin Young, manager of the Mountain City Theatre, Altoona, who is touring the Fitzpatrick Family, is in the city arranging for a date. He reports business good. Mr. Young at one time managed the Bijou Theatre, and has an army of friends here, who extended him a warm welcome.....Spencer C. Charters, late of the King Dramatic Company, will fill a four weeks' engagement at Atlantic City, beginning June 15....D. S. Bradley, scenic artist, is home from London, where he won the highest praise for his work. He was engaged at the Grand Opera House, Blackpool, London, Eng., in the production of "Aladdin."....Alf Norman, known as Norman the frog man, joined S. Lote's London Shows 19, at Bluefield, N. J., as contortionist and clown.....The Noss Family are in the city, preparing for the opening of the Summer season at Paxtang's Park, week of May 30. Mr. and Mrs. Noss joined the company 21, having been resting at their home, New Castle, since last August. The organization includes Mr. and Mrs. H. Noss, Messrs. Ferd. and Frank Noss, Misses May Bertha and Lottie Noss, Helen Rogers, Lewis and Elliott.....Brother Vic Richards, of Lodge 134, B. P. O. Elks; John Murtha, Lew Simmons, Clark Gibbs, the Brilliant Quartette, and Clark Gibbs Jr., of Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, entertained the local lodge of Elks 20.....Richards and Pasquelena are considering a number of very flattering offers for next season. They will rehearse in this city.....The successful opening of the season by the Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, 21, augurs for them a successful tour. The complete roster of the company is as follows: Lew Simmons, director and manager; Clark Gibbs, Vic Richards, John H. Murtha, Clark Gibbs Jr., James Marron, tenor; Frank Mitchell, tenor; Charles Marsh, baritone; John H. Rapp, basso; the Brilliant Quartet, Frank Steele, pianist, and "Bismark," Vic Richards' famous Russian poodle. The company is booked for a long season including a number of return dates.....Trevette Maffeta, baritone, formerly with the Bostonians, lately director of amateur productions of "The Chimes of Normandy" throughout Pennsylvania, has enlisted in Company F, Twelfth Regiment, Pennsylvania Volunteers, and is now encamped at Washington, D. C.....Frank Mitchell, tenor of the Brilliant Quartet, with Simmons & Slocum's Minstrels, is singing with great success "Remember the Maine."....Frank Brown, treasurer of the Academy of Music, Scranton, is the guest of his brother Charles, of this city. The latter has been indentified with successful attractions for a number of years, but for the past ten years has represented the American Tobacco Company.

Pittsburg.—With darkness ruling at every place of amusement in our town save three, and with no novelty at either of those, there is very little to occupy the pen of a CLIPPER correspondent.

AVENUE THEATRE.—The re-opening of this house with a dramatic company for the Summer season is scheduled for 23. "Our Regiment" will be given throughout the current week.

BIJOU THEATRE.—Wm. A. Brady's Big Vaudeville Co. is the current attraction. "The White Squadron" closed a week's engagement May 21. Tony Farrell, in "The Hearthstone," for the first time here, is the underline for 30, on which date the performance will be for the benefit of the Allegheny Pension Relief Fund. The attaches of this house were tendered a benefit by Manager R. M. Gulick, 20.

NEW GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—The regular season closed 21, with a week's series of benefits to Director Harry Davis, which were highly successful. The house reopened 23, with moving pictures of the "Passion Play," presented by the cinematographe, which is announced indefinitely.

ALVIN THEATRE.—This beautiful house is to reopen 27, for one performance only, which will be a minstrel entertainment known as the Lambs' Star Gambol, by members of the Lambs' Club, of New York. There was an auction sale of seats at the Alvin 20, at which several well known Lambs officiated as auctioneers.

UNDER THE TENTS.—Ringling Bros.' Circus showed here to good business 16, 17, and was pronounced by the local newspapers one of the largest and best tent shows ever seen here. The parade was a remarkable revelation of the possibilities of such a display. Just after the commencement of the performance a terrible wind and rain storm created a panic among the audience, but the discipline of the Ringling Bros.' employes was so perfect, and their conduct so admirable, that no one was hurt, and all were persuaded to resume their seats, the performance continuing without interruption. Superintendent Leslie, the head of the Pittsburg police force, who was present, complimented Ringling Bros. in the highest terms for the remarkable showing make by their attaches in this trying emergency.

NOTES.—Buffalo Bill's Wild West is billed here for June 30.....Manager John Harris, of the World's Museé Theatre, is busy preparing plans for the extensive alterations in that house, which I have already described.....Manager Harry Williams will make extensive improvements in his Academy of Music during its period of closure, and reopen it Aug. 15

Erie.—At Park Opera House, week of May 16, the Alma Chester Comedy Co. was favored with large attendance matinees and evening, at cheap admission.....Ringling Bros.' Circus and Menagerie gave a street exhibition parade 21 that was voted to be as fine as any ever witnessed in Erie. It was favored with very large attendance afternoon and evening here. Ida Costello, of the famous Costello Family, who joined it at Baltimore, Md., 4, was loudly applauded for her trick riding act. C. D. Brown succeeds Mr. Rouse as press agent. Good business reported all around.

Altoona.—At the Eleventh Avenue Opera House Hal Reid's "Human Hearts" was booked for May 19, but canceled, having closed the season at Buffalo.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston.—This week finds a number of our playhouses with closed doors, among which may be numbered: The Grand Opera House, the Columbia Theatre, the Park Theatre, the Boston Theatre (but that will be open 24, Tuesday P. M., for the Lambs' Star Gambol).

HOLLIS STREET THEATRE.—"The Telephone Girl" still merrily answers "hello" to hundreds of laughing listeners at Mr. Rich's theatre, and has proven one of the biggest successes of the season. It is on until further notice.

TREMONT THEATRE.—What is phrased in advertising parlance as "Boston's Second Annual Local Review Around the Town" will be presented at the Tremont Saturday evening, May 28, for the first time. It is from the pen of Edgar Smith, and, we are told, deals with the "fads, foibles and fancies" of Hubites. "The Highwayman" closed 21, to good business, comparatively.

CASTLE SQUARE THEATRE.—"Charley's Aunt" held receptions here during the week just past, and bid us good bye on Saturday evening. The "old girl" was warmly received at each performance, and made a hit for the house. For week of 23 the management will give us Paul M. Potter's "Sheridan, or the Maid of Bath," in the cast of which are Lillian Laurence, Frances Drake, Maud Odell, Lizzie Morgan, Marian C. Chapman, S. H. Gilmour, Wm. C. Masson, Horace Lewis, Lindsay Morison, Tony Cummings, William Humphreys, N. H. Fowler, J. L. Seeley, John J. Geary, David De Wolf and John B. Walker.

BOSTON MUSEUM.—"The Chorus Girl" is "catching the town." It has proven a hit of the surest kind, so far as attractiveness goes, and the huge, historic house of Boston's amusement resorts has held great audiences. Business, therefore, has been fine, and is likely to so continue. Tuesday night, 24, is announced as "Harvard Night," when we may fully expect to see the "crimson" wave in all its glory.

KEITH'S THEATRE.—Papinta, in spite of her long stay here, is still a feature. On the list this week also are: M. Rolinoff, entertainer; John J. Burke and Grace Forrest, in comedy; the Rossow Midgets, James Thornton, monologuist; Hayes and Lytton, Guyer and Daly, John and Bertha Gleeson, singers and dancers; Raymond and Clark, Carr and McLeod, the Vintini hat sp nners, the Animated Song Sheet Chorus and scenes on the American biograph.

BOWDOIN SQUARE THEATRE.—At this West End house, week of 23, Katherine Rober will present "The Clemenceau Case," in five acts, supported by a good company. Next week Miss Rober will be seen in "Fanchon." Last week, "Old Glory."

HOWARD ATHENÆUM.—The Howard Burlesquers are billed here for the current week, in the musical comedy styled "1998" and in the olio are: Wills and Collins, James W. Bingham, Lottie West Symonds, George E. Austin, Whittley and Bell, Griff Williams, Vanola Milburn, the Two Hamlins, Kelly and Espy, Frank A. Lawrence, the Holbrooks, Carrie Monroe and Lizzie Clifford.

GRAND THEATRE.—For the first time in half a decade we are to see that time honored old five act drama, "The Ticket of Leave Man." The cast will embrace Alice C. Keane as May Edwards, Mark Kent as Brob Brierly, and others of the stock in the remaining characters. In the vaudeville show are ten members, and premonitory to the drama Messrs. Thomas and Watson will entertain all present with the humorous skit, "The Watch Dog."

LYCEUM THEATRE.—The Bon Ton Burlesquers, headed by that king of fun makers, Press Eldridge, are here for week of 23, and as a starter for their show will give the humorous bit called "Batchelor's Matrimonial Bureau." The wind up of the entertainment is a merry skit entitled "Vassar Girls in Camp," and interpolated comes a specialty in which, besides Press Eldridge, with his drolleries, are Kennedy and Nestor, Lamb and Faucett, Scanlon and Stevens, and James Carroll.

PALACE THEATRE.—Manager Dunn's house closed evening of 21 for the Summer season. Of the staff's whereabouts Treasurer Wm. E. Bailey goes with his wife to Denver, Col., to recuperate his somewhat impaired health. Business Manager Geo. C. Francis is away on his farm enjoying himself, Ticket Agent Fred B. Whitforh goes to Bar Harbor as cashier of one of the prominent hotels there, and Proprietor Frank Vincent Dunn is solacing himself at home, counting up his shekels.

AUSTIN & STONE'S MUSEUM.—For week of 23 will be seen in the big lecture hall a troupe of young Japanese girls, also twenty native jugglers from the same clime, in their mysterious tricks. On the stage will be given a patriotic sketch, entitled "Our Blue Jackets" and the other features will be rendered by the Leamore Family, Florrie Vincent, Stanley and Herbert, the Only Stuarts, Miles and Ireland, Maximilian, Villo, Mackie and Walker, the Sisters Countiss, May Walsh Ireland, Albert Dashington, Hall and Parker, Sam Murphy, Lester Howard, F. Le Barr.

THE OLYMPIA.—Manager Nat Burgess has made a rousing success of his amusement enterprise right in the business heart of Boston's busiest section. From the very start the place has done good business and has so continued to do up to the present time. For the current week he puts on a fistic encounter on the bioscope, a troupe of female minstrels on the stage under the management of Herbert Swift, and a series of living pictures. The Summer season of the house will close June 6, for two weeks only, and during that time alterations will be made in the frontage. In fact an entirely new facade will be constructed, and when the house reopens it will be with one of the strongest vaudeville and curio shows in the city.

NOTES.—The announcement of the intended retirement of Richard M. Field from the management of the Boston Museum is a matter of surprise and regret to his many friends. The date of his retirement has not been given out.....Treasurer Wm. E. Bailey, of the Palace Theatre, was presented with a traveling case by the attaches of the theatre at its close on Saturday evening. Speeches of course were in order.....Annie Clark has, it is stated, joined the Herald Square Theatre Co., but whether it is our Boston Museum Annie is not known. .....'The Crystal Slipper" will tread the stage of the "old Howard" next week.....E. S. Willard has been secured by Manager John B. Schoeffel for an engagement of nine weeks next season.....The Quaker City Quartet, a fine vocal organization, comes to Keith's Theatre 30.....The closing night (21) of the Tremont Theatre was a rattling fine one. .....Thomas Rankin, descriptive lecturer, closed the season at the cozy Kickelodeon, and is now taking a well earned rest with his family in his handsone Summer home in the suburbs.....During the brief Summer vacation a small army of renovaters and renewers of furnishings and general work "around the house," will be found at the Palace Theatre, and when it is reopened it will be as bright as a new U. S. silver dollar.

Fall River.—The closing of the Casto leaves Fall River without a place of amusement open, except the Nickelodeon, but the early opening of Lincoln Park is looked forward to by those who must have a modicum of vaudeville every week.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—Koster & Bial's Co., headed by Charmion, is due May 26.

CASTO THEATRE.—The season closed 21 in almost a blaze of glory. Al. Haynes came here in September, took a tumble down theatre with an unenviable reputation, stuck to it, and by giving the people what they wanted, at prices they could afford to pay, and by means of liberal advertising, telling them in plain terms the merit of his attractions, has made the Casto the most successful house in the East. After a short and well earned vacation he will begin upon the improvements and rejuvenation of the theatre, which will next season be one of the prettiest on the New England circuit.

NICKELODEON MUSEE.—At Manager Sheedy's house this week McDonald Bros., Hugh McVey, Nellie McCoy, Burrows and Travis, the Patenauds, Dixie and Leonard, and Andrew Boland. Business is good.

FLINT MUSEUM.—Tom Lyod's Georgia Minstrels fill the boards for the current week. Business is fairly good.

LINCOLN PARK.—This favorite resort, on the line of the electric road, about midway between Fall River and New Bedford, opens for Memorial Day, the attractions being furnished by Al. Haynes, of the Casto. The initial bill includes Imogene Comer, the dramatic contralto; May Belle, Conroy and Mack, Tommy Hayes and Carrie Alden. Fred Wolf will have charge of the stage.

NOTES.—The Lyceum has closed for the season..... Julia Redmond, the popular comedienne of the Casto Stock Company, was given a benefit 20, which netted a handsome sum. The stage was filled with floral tributes, and the gifts from the attaches, the newspaper boys and her friends were many and valuable. Prof. John F. Wild made the presentation speech.....Mount Hope Park, situated on the outskirts of Bristol, R. I., and connected with Fall River by ferryboat, opened the season 21. All the usual attractions pertaining to a sea shore resort will soon be in full blast. Jack Hamilton and Minnie Harte, who closed at the Casto 21, sail for England 24, their first visit home in eight years, having played South Africa, Australia and the East Indies, as well as the principal American theatres.

Worcester.—At the Worcester Theatre John Drew, in "A Marriage of Convenience," was the only attraction last week, and had a big audience, at advanced prices, May 17. The house will close for the season 30, when E. H. Sothern comes, in "Lord Chumley," for the annual benefit of Manager James F. Rock.

LOTHROP'S OPERA HOUSE.—The Sages drew crowded houses all last week. Coming: "O'Hooligan's Wedding" 23-28, which closes the regular season at this house. Manager Alf. Wilton has his annual benefit 30.

MECHANICS' HALL.—Sousa's Band appeared to big houses, afternoon and evening, 21.

NOTES.—Work on the new Bijou Theatre was begun last week, and it is expected to be ready for occupancy by Sept. 1.....Manager Wilton, of Lathrop's Opera House, is trying to make arrangements for a Summer season of comic opera at his house, and if he succeeds the season will begin early in June.....Ringling Bros.' Circus comes to town June 6.....The Sages closed their season here May 21.

Lynn.—At the Lynn Theatre the Maude Hillman Comedy Co. came May 16, for the week, and did a good business. The attractions this week are Gillette's comedy, "The Private Secretary," 25, by the dramatic association of the Church of the Sacred Heart, for the benefit of that church, and Rice & Hall's Minstrels 27, 28. An entertainment is to be put on June 1, by local talent, for the benefit of the families of the soldiers of Lynn who have gone to the war, and it will be under the auspices of the Outlook Club. The house will close June 2. During the Summer season the theatre is to receive extensive repairs, it having been considerably damaged early in the Winter by fire.

MISSOURI.

St. Louis.—Business was rather light last week at the three houses which remained open. The public is turning its attention toward Summer amusements.

HOPKINS'.—Last week the stock company, headed by Ralph Stuart, gave a very acceptable presentation of "Mr. Barnes of New York." The drama was ably seconded by a strong vaudeville bill, comprising such features as Gus Williams, McAvoy and May, Waterbury Bros. and Tenny, Gracie Emmett, Giguere and Boyer, and the two Barretta. This week the drama being played is "Pernciffe," a military play. The bill includes Jones, Grand and Jones, four Angela Sisters, Lillian Perry, Douglass and Ford, and Ramza and Arno. This bill ends the season at Hopkins' except for complimentary benefits. A benefit for Arthur Macklay is already billed.

COLUMBIA.—This was the last week for the Knaben-Kapelle, which has played an eight weeks' engagement at this house. The biograph still remains a great favorite, and is engaged indefinitely. The other leading features were: Charles T. Ellis and Co., the Glissandas, the Five Whirlwinds, Montgomery and Stone, Swain and Downey, and Lotta Gladstone. This week the bill includes: Robt. Downing, who makes his debut in vaudeville in the arena scene from "The Gladiator;" Gotham Comedy Four, Hugh Stanton and Miss Willard, Knoll and McNeill, the Two Judges, and Edwin Palfrey.

STANDARD.—Last week closed the house with Fred. Rider's Moulin Rouge Co. The attendance was fairly good. The feature was the spectacular naval battle which concluded each performance.

SUBURBAN GARDENS.—The gardens, under the management of Gumpertz and Jaunapolo, opened May 15, with vaudeville and minstrel. In spite of the bad weather the opening week was well attended. Friday, 20, was "Dewey" day, and every lady attending was presented with a plaque bearing the likeness of the admiral. The minstrels comprise many of Al. Field's best features of last season. The leading vaudeville features have been Hallen and Fuller, Dan Quinlan and Alice Young.

FOREST PARK HIGHLANDS.—The Highlands, under the management of Col. Hopkins, opened this week, Sunday, 22. The bill includes both minstrel and vaudeville. The leading features are: Jose Quintet, Rambella, Lewis and Ernest, Verdi Ladies' Trio, Sharp and Flatt, and Oberti, tight wire bicycle rider. The music is furnished by a ladies' orchestra. Next week's bill includes Clements Trio, Bernard Dyllyn, Bryant and Saville, O Rourke and Burnett. The leading features will be Tom Lewis, Chas. Ernest and the Jose Quintet.

BELLEVIEW GARDENS.—Bellevue opened 22, with a vaudeville and minstrel performance. The entertainment is furnished by Pierce's Elite Minstrel and Vaudeville Co.

NEWS.—Judge Spencer issued a temporary injunction prohibiting Gumpertz & Jaunapolo, managers of the Suburban Gardens, from using the name of Al. Field's Minstrels. Mr. Field claimed that such a use of his name would injure his business, and testified, through his manager, that many managers had threatened to cancel their booking with him for next season on the grounds of a St. Louis Summer engagement. Mr. Gumperts claimed that, having engaged a large portion of Mr. Field's troupe, he was justified in announcing them as members of Field's Minstrels. He threatens a libel suit in return.....The Columbia will close June 1..... The Klondyke Park Theatre and Shoot the Chutes open 29, with a vaudeville entertainment on the side.

Kansas City.—The season is fast drawing to a close. This week sees the Orpheum the only regular house open, and that will close June 5.

ORPHEUM.—In spite of rain nearly every night business kept up fairly well to see a new bill made up of Ramza and Arno, eccentric comedians; the Clemence Trio, operatic and descriptive singers; Mr. and Mrs. Augustin Neuville, in a burlesque on "The Lady of Lyons;" Katie Rooney, in imitations of her father; the Musical Johnstons, xylophone experts; Mrs. George Knight, assisted by Ben F. Grinnell, in a sketch called "A Straight Jacket;" Crimmins and Gore, in "What Are the Wild Waves Saying," and the La Mont Family, in a very neat acrobatic act, in which they introduce a novelty, the rebounding table. This week's bill will contain Filson and Errol, Montgomery and Stone, Wills and Lorette, the Kisners, Worth and Marshall, Frank La Mandue, Hart Bros. and a return engagement of La Petite Lund.

COATES OPERA HOUSE.—Edison's wargraph was exhibited last week to fair attendance. The pictures were all very good, the best one of them being the recent departure of our Third Regiment. All the faces were easily recognizable. This week, on 24, locals will put on "The Ticket of Leave Man" and a new one act lyric piece, "A Bunch of Forget Me Nots." On 27, Dewey Day, locals will give a minstrel show.

GILLIS OPERA HOUSE.—George's Colored Minstrels gave performances Sunday and Monday to good houses. This will close the season at this theatre.

FAIRMOUNT PARK.—The Bennett-Olnie Opera Co. (local) will put on "The Bohemian Girl" week of 30.

CLIPPERINGS.

THE LAMBS GAMBOL. at the Metropolitan Opera House, Monday evening, May 23, was successful in every way, and as the proceeds netted more than $15,000 the size of the audience can well be appreciated. The curtain went up on a minstrel first part, De Wolf Hopper occupying the interlocutor's chair, with Stuart Robson, Willie Collier and Ignacio Martinetti as bones, and Nat Goodwin, Jefferson De Angelis and H. C. Barnabee as tambos. Banked up behind them was an orchestra of fifty pieces, alternately led by Victor Herbert, Jesse Williams, Victor Harris, S. L. Studley and J. S. Hiller. There was a triple quartet, which included Chauncey Olcott, Eugene Cowles, William H. MacDonald, Digby Bell, Van Rensselaer Wheeler, William Philp, Edmund Stanley, Charles Hopper, William Fitzgerald and Grafton Baker, and there was a chorus, in which, among others, were Francis Carlyle, Henry M. Woodruff, J. E. Kellard, Clay M. Greene, Alfred Klein, Walter Hale, A. S. Lipman, George Barnum, E. W. Kemble, Charles Klein and Vincent Serrano. Chauncey Olcott sang "When the Robins Nest Again," Eugene Cowles sang "Annie Laurie," and Wm. Philp gave "With All Her Faults I Love Her Still." Joseph Holland, Fritz Williams, and Vincent Serrano acted the pantomime, "L'Affaire d'Une Melodie." The Lambs' "Big Four," Jefferson De Angelis, Willie Collier, Charles Hopper and Fritz Williams, gave a "team sketch," called "Ma Onliest Girl." Then came "The 'Art of Maryland," which introduced De Wolf Hopper, John Kellard, Wm. H. Crane, Digby Bell, Wm. H. MacDonald and others. "Called Perfect at 10" lampooned the idocyncracies of professionals by burlesquing a rehearsal, those participating including Willie Collier, Wilton Lackaye, Mr. Barnabee, Mr. Kellerd, Mr. Bell, Mr. Martinetti, Francis Carlyle, Harry Conor, A. S. Lipman, Burr McIntosh, Daniel Frawley, Joseph Grismer, John G. Saville, Charles Klein, Jesse Williams, Alfred Klein and George Barnum. As a wind up the Lambs' national anthem, "Columbia," by Clay M. Greene and Victor Herbert, was sung by all the members. The Gambol will continue during the week, and will include a tour of the principal Eastern cities, winding up Saturday with two performances at the Auditorium, Chicago, Ill. The object of the trip is to raise $50,000 with which to liquidate a mortgage which now adorns the Lambs' club house in this city. With the $15,000 start, and big advance sales scheduled ahead, their mission seems very likely to be readily accomplished. The congregation of celebrities will travel in a special train, the beauties of which will run the full gamut of luxuries, from a clean towel to a mysterious section where glassware and varicolored liquids, for medicinal purposes, form the most pronounced fixtures.

PLEASURE PALACE.—Although news of naval battles is not to hand Proctor's clientel continues to battle for points of vantage from which to view the good things provided for their entertainment at this popular uptown East Side home of continuous vaudeville. Monday, May 23, was no exception to the rule, and a crowded auditorium greeted Elita Proctor Otis, the headliner for the week, the latest and one of the best of the new recruits to vaudeville from the legitimate ranks, who was ably assisted by Theodore Babcock. They presented Rosina Vokes' merry farce, "My Milliner's Bill," and jumped into instant favor. Joseph J. Dowling and Myra Davis were also prime favorites, in "A Pillar of Salt." Florence Moore, soprano singer, was pleasing; Mary Norman, in her refined characteristic impersonations, who gives one of the best monologue entertainments now before the public, made a pronounced success. Stuart, "the male Patti," pleased with his vocalizations; Leo Dervalto, spiral ascensionist, thrilled in his globe rolling act; the other good numbers including Walz and Ardell, in a comedy singing and piano specialty; William Rowe, somersault pedestal dancer; Lawson and Ward, comical bicycle act; Gilmour and Magee, in their Celtic sketch, "Homeward Bound;" the Three Vilona Sisters, in a high grade musical act; the Nawns, in their Irish sketch, "One Touch of Nature," and Dixon, Bowers and Dixon, as "Three Rubes." Edison's wargraph is still a potent factor in attracting the crowds. Sunday concerts still continue to meet with popular approval. Next week's bill presents a notable array of attractions, including Helene Mora, Schrode Brothers, Hayes and Lytton, Trovollo, and numerous others.

CASINO.—An audience that packed this house to the doors gathered on May 23 to show fealty to the cherished comic opera, "Erminie," and to greet a quartet of performers who appeared once more in the roles they originally played. An ovation was given each of the principals, and the familiar musical numbers of the piece were rendered again and again. Francis Wilson, Pauline Hall, Jennie Weathersby and Murry Woods, in the characters they created in the first production of the work, again scored individual triumphs, and Henry E. Dixey and Lulu Glaser played, respectively, Ravennes and Javotte very creditably. There should be a series of crowded houses during the present revival, for unstinted efforts have been made to render the production complete in every particular. The costuming and stage settings were very creditable indeed. The cast: Erminie, Pauline Hall; Javotte, Lulu Glaser; Cerise, Celeste Wynn; Princess De Gramponeur, Jennie Weathersby; Marie, Miriam Lawrence; Captain Delaunay, Kate Uart; Cadeaux, Francis Wilson; Ravennes, Henry E. Dixey; Eugene Marcel, Clinton Elder; Chavalier De Brabazon, Edward P. Temple; Marquis De Ponvert, Arthur Cunningham; Dufois, Murry Woods; Simon, Edmund Lawrence; Viscomte De Brissac, Charles H. Bowers; Sergeant, Joseph Chaille.

STAR THEATRE.—Entering upon the third week of its evenly successful engagement, the American Opera Co. presented "Olivette," to a good house, Monday evening, May 23. Corinne added her talents to those of the already acceptable company and received a hearty welcome. She has shrunken several sizes during the few years she has been absent from the local stage, and presents a very trim figure in consequence. She retains whatever agility and grace she previously possessed, however, and made a thoroughly agreeable Olivette. Others in the cast acquitted themselves creditably, and the entertainment was praiseworthy throughout. Popular prices are attracting goodly crowds, the daily matinees, at ten cents anywhere in the house, being retained as a striking feature. "Olivette" was thus cast: Captain DeMerrimac, Jas. A. Sturgis; Valentine, Jas. B. Bradley; Duc Des Ifs, Chas. W. Renwick; Coquelicot, Harry Dickerson; Mariejol Maire Perpignan, Harry B. Norman; Bathilde, Carrie Godfrey; Velontine, Edith Murillo; Moustique, Sadie Miner; Olivette, Corinne. Next week, "Pinafore" and "Trial by Jury" will serve to continue the first Broadway season of legitimate entertainment at ten, twenty and thirty cents.

SAM T. JACK'S THEATRE.—"The Leading Lady," a new burlesque, on a different pattern from the average of such entertainments, is the week's show at this house. It is really a clever comedy, with the burlesque features utilized only where they set off the action of the plot, and with specialties interwoven where they fit to the best advantage. Emma Warde plays the title role, and Harry Montague, George Beban, Gus Bruno and other funmakers have plenty of chances to show their skill. Jennie Yeamans still heads the specialty list, which also includes Kittie Palmer, Mlle. Karina, Florence Wragland, Mlle. Valerie, the Fonti Boni Brothers, James Glenroy, Mlle. Fatima and living pictures. On Monday, May 23, the new production was ushered in by the attendance of two profitable audiences.

HUBER'S PALACE MUSEUM.—Manager Anderson puts forward another attractive bill for the current days, in both the curio hall and upon the theatre stage, and its potency was proven on Monday, May 23, by the liberal patronage the house was accorded afternoon and night. The display of freaks introduces the most curious delegates retained from last week's congress, and, being augmented by new factors, the most fastidious freak hunter can be satisfied. The stage bill calls into service Tempest and Langdon, Miles and Raymond, Paula and Leslie, Eddie Clark, the Bennetts, the Three Renos, Ben Welch and others.

MINER'S EIGHTH AVENUE THEATRE.—The Broadway Girls, who provide this week's bill, opened to a good house May 23. The olio has Brooks and Brooks for prominent features, and Marie Richmond, one of the shapeliest burlesquers of the season, also makes herself prominent by a clever singing specialty. The olio further engages the Darling Sisters, Williams and Hood, Englehart and Rose, Ed. Chrissie, the Carlous and Mr. and Mrs. Tom McIntosh. Next week, Peter Maher.

FOURTEENTH STREET THEATRE.—Thomas E. Shea began the last week of his extended engagement in "The Man-o-War's Man" on May 23, the house closing for the season with the current week.

KEITH'S UNION SQUARE THEATRE.—Among the prominent recruits from the legitimate field is Rose Coghlan, who opened at this house on Monday, May 23. She presents an historical comedy, "Washington's Surrender," with the able assistance of Thurlow Bergen, Alfred Hudson and Harold Vizard. W. de Wagstaffe has written a very neat and genteel sketch, which was favorably received. To this feature act Joe Hart and Carrie DeMar ran a close second in Mr. Hart's new skit, "Dr. Chauncey's Visit." The sketch bristles with Hart's brightest wit, has songs of brand new vintage and droll points galore, and permits Miss DeMar to display her exquisite taste in the matter of dress. It is not saying too much to assert that the act scored the popular hit of the bill. The original and highly entertaining monologue introduced by Ray L. Royce repeated its accustomed success, and the clever singing, dancing and acrobatic melange which was put forward by Ladell and Alvarez scored heavily in the point of favor. Geo. W. Day, Gilbert and Goldie, Johnson, Davenport and Lorella, and Morrissey and Rich offer entertaining acts, which take prominence in the bill because of their merit, while the Carlisle Sisters repeat their previous successes here. Others who entertain are Derenda and Breen, T. J. Hefron, Snyder and Buckley, Oscar Hall and pictures by the American biograph. One of the views, a panoramic view of a railroad tunnel, an old castle and the beautiful landscape surrounding Conway, Eng., is the best animated picture yet shown to these audiences. The war pictures arouse storms of patriotic expressions whenever shown.

KOSTER & BIAL'S.—A good sized audience was present May 23, when "La Reve" (The Dream), a musical novelty, book by Joseph Herbert and music by Max Gabriel, was given its initial production. The story tells of an artist (Michel) who is painting a picture of Hero and Leander, and whose sweetheart, Mlle. Daubigne, refuses to pose for the work, which is uncompleted. He finally takes a potion and goes to sleep, after which the two figures step out from the canvas. Leander sings of his love for Hero, but she repulses him, telling him her love is for her creator, Michel, and he goes back into the frame. Hero, after a vain attempt to wake the artist with a love song, also returns to the frame. Michel then awakes, and, after slitting the picture with a sword, swoons at the base of the frame. Here he is found by Mlle. Daubigne, and all ends well. Mr. Herbert's lyrics are good and Mr. Gabriel's music is pleasing, but very reminiscent. Adele Ritchie, as Mlle. Daubigne and Hero, appeared to better advantage than she did in "At the Bath," and Thomas Green, as Michel and Leander, sang with considerable force and feeling, although he was very nervous when he first appeared, and sang unevenly. The work was handsomely staged, and it will doubtless prove pleasing for some time to come. May Belfort, a chantreuse, made her first appearance at this house and scored a moderate success. She rendered two songs in French and one in English. Budd Snyder, one of the best trick bicyclists ever seen on the local stage, made his first appearance here and met with pronounced favor. He is easy and graceful and performs many difficult feats, one of which is standing on his head on the saddle while the wheel is going at a good speed around the stage. Paulinetti and Piquo, in their excellent gymnastic and equilibristic act, won rounds of applause for their work. The Rogers Bros., in their Dutch comedy act; Servais Le Roy, illusionist; Josie De Witt, violin soloist; the Pantzer Brothers, head to head balancers, and Hecter and Lauraine, eccentric comedians, and Ouda, aerialist, continued to be popular.

WEBER & FIELDS' MUSIC HALL.—The closing performances of "Pousse Cafe" at this resort are marked with a continuation of big business. The twenty-fifth week of the merry burlesque began May 23, and owing to popular demand the closing date has been extended from 28 to June 1. In the olio, on Monday, Allen Wrightman, clay modeler, was given a good reception. Tommy O'Brien, in his acrobatic and singing act, was a continued favorite. Valmore, the instrumental man, was also retained, and was still a feature of the bill. He added new imitations to his act, and won rounds of applause for his excellent work. Bessie Clayton, in her dances, continued to be a prime favorite. The Sunday concert bill, 22, included: Valmore, Charles Falke, Stinson and Merton, Belle Stuart, James Thornton, Al. Wilson, Bert Coote and Julia Kingsley, and Marguerite Sylva.

LONDON THEATRE.—John L. Sullivan's Co. is filling its first date at this house this week. Monday night, May 23, saw a well filled house, and an enthusiastic reception was accorded to the popular pugilist and his galaxy of vaudeville talent. "A Trip Across the Ocean with John L. Sullivan" is the title of the first part. The Brownings opened the olio and were succeeded in turn by the Petching Brothers, in a musical comedy act; Emma Carus, whose powerful contralto solos and pleasing methods caused her to be roundly applauded; Darmody, gun and club juggler, whose clever manipulations were followed with interest; Maude Detty, in coon impersonations and lively dancing steps; Begley and Lee, in their comedy, "Muldoon, the Fiddler," and the Golden Trio of lively entertainers, in comedy and dances. John L. Sullivan closed the show in an illustration of training methods, assisted by Rolla White, who punched the bag with rare skill. Manager Sherwood reports a successful season, which will probably last two weeks longer. The London's regular season closes Saturday evening, May 28, and Treasurer Bull will benefit Monday evening, May 30. "Eddie" Donaldson's benefit is announced for June 9.

PEOPLE'S THEATRE.—"A Union Soldier," Dave Higgins' war drama, which is "Burr Oaks" with a new second act, and brought up to the civil war period, is the attraction this week. The many excellent situations were capably presented by the company on Monday, May 23. David Higgins appeared as Burr Oaks, Van Kinzie was Eben Hartstone, and J. B. Cooper, Col. Hugh Werner. Excellent character roles were played by Geo. H. Ricketts as Jes, and by Fred Summerfield. Lydia Knott was cast as Margie. Adelbert Knott, Harry Dans, Charles Alton, Little Harry, Marie Kinzie, and Helen Lee completed the company. Several new scenes have been painted for the production and new light effects were introduced. Next week, "The Cuban's Vendetta" will keep up the succession of war plays. Manager Sheldon has provided for plenty of cool air by the means of electric fans during the warm spell.

MINER'S BOWERY THEATRE.—J. V. O'Brien's Vaudeville Co., with Peter Maher as the card, is the attraction this week. A fair sized house was in evidence Monday evening, May 23. The following acts were programmed: Harper and Harper, black face performers; Nellie Franklyn, the popular serio comic; Joe Hardman, with his interesting monologues and songs; O'Brien and Buckley, whose music and comedy entertained greatly; Susie Mace, singing comedienne and soliloquizer; Lawrence Crane, comedy magician, in a series of cleverly worked tricks; Gladys St. John and Nellie Lytton, late of A. J. Hughes's Co., and Jas. B. and Fanny Donovan, Irish sketchists. "Ladies' Night at the Sporting Club" closed the bill, with Peter Maher, in an exhibition of bag punching, and "Little Egypt." Next week, the Monte Carlo Girls.

HERALD SQUARE THEATRE.—The Mordaunt & Block Stock Co. began the second week of its season at this house with a good performance of "Diplomacy." The leading roles were thus assigned: Countess Zicka, Blanche Walsh; Dora, Lilia Vane; Julian Beauclerc, Aubrey Boucicault; Henry Beauclerc, E. L. Davenport; Count Orioff, Frazer Coulter; Baron Stein, Frank Mordaunt.

WALLACK'S.—The Royal Italian Grand Opera Co. began the second week of its engagement May 23, with a repetition of "La Boheme." The repertory for the week includes: "The Masked Ball" 24, "I Pagliacci" and "Cavalleria Rusticana" 25, "Il Trovatore" 26, "Manon Lescaut" 27 and evening of 28, and "Lucia di Lammermoor" matinee 28.

MANHATTAN THEATRE.—"Way Down East," with its pretty story of New England life, is still a potent attraction at this house, big business being the rule. The sixteenth week of its run began May 23, on which date the one hundred and twenty-fifth performance was celebrated by the distribution of silver bonbonniere baskets as souvenirs.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.—"Shenandoah" began the second week of its run on May 23, with good prospects. Changes have already been made in the cast, Robert Drouet having taken the place of Edwin Holt as Col. West, and Edwin Mordaunt that of Geo. C. Staley as Gen. Haverhill.

MADISON SQUARE ROOF opens for the season June 18. The Metropolitan Permanent Orchestra will give concerts there as last Summer, under the direction of Mr. Schmidt.

J. DUKE MURRAY retired from the business management of the Grand Opera House May 21.

TONY PASTOR'S THEATRE.—The best yet in war talk is introduced by Lew Dockstader, whose monologue is the feature of this week's bill. He won immediate favor, and proved his right to recognition as a foremost exponent of single handed entertainment. A hearty welcome awaited Pollie Holmes on her reappearance at this house, after a long absence. That "the Irish Duchess" was still held in memory verdant was plainly shown by her reception and the applause which followed her vocal efforts. Billy B. Van and Viva Norbriga, backed by colored people enough to start a minstrel show, offered a well received specialty, and McBride and Goodrich again danced themselves into general favor. The sister act presented by Whallen and Devera is superior to the average act of its kind, and proved a pleasing addition to the bill, which further engaged Gracey and Burnett, Swan and Bambard, the Meeker and Mack Trio, Joseph P. Carey, John H. Shepley, Marion and Pearl, Flossie Hughes, David Hilton and Merkle and Algere. The attendance was on the capacity order Monday, May 23, and the amusement offering seemed to please all hands immensely.

PROCTOR'S THEATRE.—The bill offered this week here by General Manager J. Austin Fynes is of great variety, and contains the names of many well known and favorite entertainers. The opening performances May 23 were well attended, the evening show being witnessed by a crowded house. Alice Atherton was the chief headliner, and, with her novelties, "The Singing Watermelon" and "Laughing Song," in which she was assisted by her double quartet of colored singers, made herself a prime favorite. Al. H. Wilson, in his German comedy monologue, kept his audience in a hilarious mood, and was voted a mirth maker par excellence. Edison's wargraph, with new moving views of and pertaining to war incidents, was still a star feature of the bill, the various pictures keeping the audience at a high pitch of enthusiasm. R. J. Dustan and company, in a breezy one act play called "When a Man's Married," fully deserved the marks of approval accorded them. The skit is bright and breezy, and the work of the little company was excellent. It was thus cast: Dolly Ferguson, R. J. Dustan; Kate (his wife), Mary Dustan; Percy Bolton, Ernest Tarleton; Emily (his wife), Helen Remsen, and Marston, W. Royston. Trovollo, one of the cleverest ventriloquists before the American public, presented his entertaining act, and soon found himself a prime favorite. The Seven Reed Birds, in their skit, "A Seaside Picnic," were as pleasing as they always are, and shared favor with some of the more prominent features of the bill. Hines and Remington, old favorites, in their sketch, "The Road Queen," were given a hearty welcome. Fields and Woolley kept their audience laughing with their Dutch comicalities. The bill was well rounded up with Ller, Burke and McDonald, acrobatic comedians; the Marians, in their balancing ladder act; Maziotta, in a musical act; John Zimmer, clown juggler; J. W. Hampton and his trained cats and dogs, and Kimball and Donovan, expert banjoists. The Sunday bill 22 included: Milton and Dollie Nobles, Edison's wargraph, Cushman and Holcombe, Carr and Jordon, Anglo-American Quartet, Adelman and Lowe, Hyberta Pryme, the Nawns, and Florence Moore. After the performance on Sunday evening the attaches of the house surprised Resident Manager H. P. Butler by the presentation of a costly umbrella, a farewell token of the esteem in which he is held by his fellow workers. On that date Mr. Butler closed his connection with this house, and he will this week go to Albany, N. Y., to assume the duties of local manager of F. F. Proctor's Leland Opera House. The new resident manager of the Twenty-third Street house is J. T. Fynes, a brother of General Manager J. Austin Fynes. Mr. Fynes has been identified with the Keith managerial forces for several years, and was well known as a writer on the papers of this city and Boston, Mass.

AMERICAN THEATRE.—The Castle Square Opera Company's offering the twenty-second week of their stay here was a revival of "Faust," which was so successfully presented by them two weeks ago, and the good sized audience on Monday night, May 23, testified to the wisdom of the management in giving the revival. Charles O. Bassett, in the title role, won favor for his good work. Yvonne De Treville gave a good account of herself as Marguerite. Wm. G. Stewart, as Valentine, repeated his success of a fortnight ago, and Wm. Broderick, as Mephistopheles, gave a more even performance than he did on the former production of this opera, and was well in favor. The cast: Faust, Cnas. O. Bassett; Valentine, Wm. G. Stewart; Mephistopheles, Wm. Broderick; Wagner, Richard Ridgely; Marguerite, Yvonne De Treville; Siebel, Elenore Francis; Martha, Bessie Fairbairn. During the week Joseph F. Sheehan will alternate with Mr. Bassett in the role of Faust, Grace Golden will be the alternate for Marguerite, and Marion Ivell alternate the role of Siebel. Next week, "The Black Hussar" will be rendered.

HAMMERSTEIN'S OLIMPIA MUSIC HALL.—"War Bubbles," Oscar Hammerstein's merry skit, began its second week May 23, and was still a pleasing feature. Yorke and Adams continue to be good laugh makers, and the other principals and chorus lend good aid in making an entertaining performance. Marguerite Sylva replaced Allene Crater in the role of Nichette, and did good work. In the olio Lafayette, a very clever monologue performer, appeared and made a success. He is a very versatile performer, and his work as a facialist, a crayon sketch artist and imitator was all equally good. Marguerite Sylva was a continued favorite, her various songs calling forth rounds of applause. Adelman and Lowe, xylophone experts, became decidedly popular by their excellent work. T. Nelson Downs, with his coin magic, continued to entertain, and Johnson and Dean, colored singers and dancers, were retained in favor. Provo, juggler, continued to be popular.

CENTRAL OPERA HOUSE.—The names of many well known performers are on the programme this week, pursuant to the liberal policy of the management, who will try to make this East Side resort as attractive as possible to its select patrons. M. S. Whalen, the well known rapid fire comedian and extemporaneous song manufacturer, who deserves a little more ink on the bill; J. E. Gardner and Kittie Gilmore, in their "Lover's Quarrel," with song; Dean and Jose, travesty performers, in "Four Hundred;" Mulvey and Inman, in character changes; Patterson Brothers, horizontal bar performers; Maud Raymond, who was held over from last week. The American vitagraph views closed the bill.

FIFTH AVENUE THEATRE.—Mrs. Fiske, now in the ninth week of her engagement, retains her double bill this week, the two plays, "Love Finds the Way" and "A Bit of Old Chelsea," having proven to be very acceptable offerings. There is no announcement concerning the duration of her engagement.

KNICKERBOCKER THEATRE.—Sousa's pleasing opera, "The Bride Elect," entered on May 23 upon the seventh week and the last fortnight of its run. It has made much reputation here, and it is to be regretted that it did not make its appearance earlier in the season, for it then doubtless would have enjoyed a much longer run.

GARRICK THEATRE.—Maude Adams, in "The Little Minister," is now in the twenty-ninth week of her engagement at this house. The business still remains at high water mark, and there is yet no announcement of closing. It is probable that the engagement will continue until the warm weather compels Miss Adams to seek rest.

BROADWAY THEATRE.—In spite of much tribulation Thos. Q. Seabrooke is still presenting "The Isle of Champagne" at this house, the second week of his engagement having begun May 23.

LYCEUM THEATRE.—"The Moth and the Flame" continues to draw satisfactory business to this house. It is now in its seventh week, and the fiftieth performance is announced for 24, with souvenirs to mark the occasion.

Harlem.—At the Harlem Opera House "The Beggar Student" was selected for the opening of the season of the Steindorff Opera Company here, and was given before an audience that completely filled the house. The performance was unsatisfactory, the lack of sufficient rehearsals being apparent. Especially was the work of the principals deficient. William T. Carleton, as the Beggar Student, at times lost his voice, and his work throughout was uneven. Frederick Knight, as Janitsky, did not come up to expectations. Geo. C. Boniface Jr., as the General, created considerable merriment and made much of the role. Fred. Urban and Geo. Stephens, as jailors, were good. Adella Barber, as the Countess, was utterly unfitted for the role. Belle Thorne, the prima donna, returned to the stage after an absence of four years. Her voice has not been impaired during her absence, and she was given a warm reception. In the role of Laura her sweet voice won her many new admirers, and there is no doubt that she will be as popular as of yore. Maude Hollins, in the role of Bronislava, did excellent work, and made some decided hits. Nettie Lyford gave a pleasing performance in the role of the Lieutenant. The rest of the cast were fair. The costumes and scenery were pleasing to the eye and were appreciated and applauded. The entire production is under the management of Paul Steindorff and Fred C. Ross. Minnie Methot will alternate with Miss Thorne in the role of Laura. Manager Blumenthal desires to encourage the attendance of ladies and children, and to this end will distribute small bricks of ice cream during each performance. The cast: Symon Symonovitz, William T. Carleton; Janitzky, Frederick Knights; General Ollendorff, Geo. C. Boniface Jr.; Enterich, Fred Urban; Puffki, Geo. Stephens; Sitzky, Edward Elkas; Countess Palmetica, Adella Baker; Laura, Belle Thorne, Minnie Methot; Bronislava, Maud Hollins; Eva, Amelia Fields; Okonphire, Thos. A. Russell; Lieut. Poppenburg, Nettie Lyford; Lieut. Schweinitz, Albert Juhre; Lieut. Wangerheim, Otto Kraft-Walton; Burgomaster, C. Vincent Clarke; Bogumile, Forrest D. Carr; Alexis, Wensley Thompson.

COLUMBUS.—Business during the past week was excellent, it being necessary to turn people away the latter part of the week. The play for the week is "A Celebrated Case," and it should prove a strong drawing card, as it is capitally produced. Notwithstanding the stormy weather the house was packed at the first performance, 23. The cast: Characters in prologue—Jean Renaud, Edwin Arden; Count d'Aubeterre, R. F. McClannin; Lazare, Louis Massen; Denis O'Rourke, Charles Stanley; The Corporal, J. F. Cook; The Seneschal, Robert McWade Jr.; Captain in the King's Own, R. Sutherland; Madeline Renaud, Hannah Ingham; Adrienne, aged 5, his daughter, Baby Lil; Martha, Alice Toland; Louise, Grace Barton; Annette, Lizzie Galloway; Janet, Bella Dore. Characters in the play—Jean Renaud, Edwin Arden; Count de Mornay, Louis Massen; Duke d'Aubeterre, R. F. McClannin; Viscount Raoul de Langey, Edward S. Abeles; Denis O'Rourke, Charles Stanley; The Sergeant of the Guard, J. F. Cook; Joseph, J. Gilmore; Adrienne, Una Abell; Valentine de Mornay, Olive Oliver; Duchess d'Aubeterre, Effie Germon; Chanoinesse, Annie Clarke; Julie, Agnes Lander.

METROPOLIS.—The first of the Sunday night concerts was a success. Kate Claxton, in "The Two Orphans," began a week's engagement to the best Monday house of the season, and if business continues the same all week the management will have no cause for complaint.

OLYMPIC.—Poor houses was the report of Manager Curtin during the past week; in fact, never in ten years of his management did the house have so bad a week. John Flynn's London Gaiety Girls made their first Harlem appearance in two years, and their reception on their opening, 23, shows that they have not been forgotten during their absence. The company seemed to please the large crowds that made their appearance and accorded the company a royal welcome. This house will close at the end of the present week, opening about Aug. 25. Manager Curtin will open the house for his benefit May 30.

HARLEM MUSIC HALL.—The prospects are bright for this house remaining open all Summer, as it is almost impossible to obtain a seat after eight o'clock. The attractions for the present week include Mons. and Madame Clivette, Dean Fdsall and Chas. F. Gotthold, Smith and Cook, Carrie Scott, Troubadour Four, Rossi Bros., the Healys, and the Willett-Thorne Comedy Co.

HARLEM MUSEUM.—This is the last week of the season for this house. During the Summer months Manager Hanson will make extensive alterations.

Brooklyn.—Theatrical managers in this borough are as changeable in their plans as the weather has been during the past month or two. Two of the houses which were announced to close their season with the past week have decided to extend it a little longer. The Bijou will keep open for a fortnight at least, while the Grand gives two more weeks of opera at popular prices. The Castle Square Opera Co. is more than meeting the expectations of the projectors of the scheme. The success it achieved during its short stay here last season will be far surpassed this year. No better performances of opera in English have ever been given in Brooklyn, and this fact is fully appreciated by the large audience at each performance.

MONTAUK.—"Carmen" is the opera given here this week by the Castle Square Opera Co. A large audience was present on the opening night, May 23, and liberally applauded not only the clever work of the singers but the handsome mounting of the opera. Lizzie MacNichol as Carmen was excellent, giving full satisfaction both with singing and acting. Thomas H. Persse, as Don Jose; Max Eugene, as Escamillo, the other principals, and the chorus were all in good voice, and utilized their opportunities. Next week, "Faust."

BIJOU.—The Bros. Byrne presented their nautical extravaganza, "Eight Bells," before a large audience, night of 23. It has been rearranged and improved greatly since last seen in this borough. There is no lack of specialties, the acrobatic troupe is complete, and its work, much of which is new, is clever and drew forth much applause. The scenic and mechanical surprises are even more elaborate than ever before, and the repeated and mystifying changes kept the audience in a happy humor throughout the performance. There is no end to the funmaking from the time the curtain first rises until its final fall. Next week, Koster & Bial's Vaudevilles, headed by Charmion.

GRAND.—The Jaxon Opera Co. has decided to remain two weeks longer, and this week will be seen in three operas, opening 23, before a large audience, in "Lucia di Lammermoor," in English, which will be repeated on Tuesday night. At the afternoon and evening performances on Wednesday will be given "The Bohemian Girl." On Thursday, Friday, Saturday, afternoon and evening, the first presentation in years here in English of "The Daughter of the Regiment." The audiences here have surpassed even all expectations of the management throughout the company's stay and are likely to continue big. Next week, which will be the last, will be devoted to the elaborate productions of three operas.

STAR.—Manager Bissell has a good show this week in the Jermon Black Crook Extravaganza Co., which opened here 23, with an afternoon and evening performance, before a large and appreciative audience. Applause was liberally bestowed on the different performers. The entertainment begins with an amusing burlesque called "Americans in London," which introduces the whole company. The stage appointments are very handsome, and the costumes worn by the women are gorgeous. The specialists, besides Mureal, are: Smith and Champion, Tyson and Clements, Kitty Wells, Emery and Marlowe. The closing burlesque is entitled "A Night in Paris."

BERGEN BEACH.—A vaudeville theatre is in course of construction at Bergen Beach. It is built on a pier and enclosed in glass. The better class of acts will be played. It will, no doubt, prove an additional attraction at this popular resort. The Beach will open its third season May 28. The entire beach is controlled by Percy G. Williams and Thomas Adams Jr., with T. W. Dinkins as business manager. Among the numerous attractions will be an extravaganza, called "The Cash Girl," in the Casino, employing about thirty-five people; a vaudeville theatre built of glass; the International Water Show and Carnival, the Ferris wheel, the mystic Moorish maze; "Dark America," employing about fifty colored people; the pneumatic chute, the scenic railway, the big swimming pool, the Alhambra dancing pavilion, daily balloon ascensions, afternoon and evening concerts in the palm garden by Rosetti's Naval Reserve Band, steam launches, merry go rounds, and numerous other attractions for young and old. Bergen Beach being on Jamaica Bay, and not on the ocean, the war scare will not affect it, and the management look for a splendid season.

EMPIRE.—Dave Marion's Big Extravaganza Company began a week's engagement 23, to an audience that filled the house. In addition to a good vaudeville show they give a musical burletta called "Little Monte Carlo." The olio: Kelly and St. Clair, a rollicking black face team; the Burrows Sisters, singers, dancers and acrobats; Bond and O'Brien, the Irish Lords; the Grahams, in their comedy sketch, "A Soldier's Sweetheart;" the Weston Sisters, in specialties; Dave Marion and Fannie Vedder, and Newell and Shevett, comedy gymnasts. Good business last week. Coming week of 30, the London Gaiety Girls Burlesquers.

UNIQUE.—This week will close the season here. The entertainment is furnished by Harry S. Marion's Burlesque and Novelty Co. The opening house was big. The olio: Conley and Harrigan, Irish comedians; Richard H. Ward, bicyclist; Tyrene and Evalyne, dancers; Farley and Cameron, dancers; Harry S. Marion, singer; Mlle. Bertha Darian and the Newsboys' Quintette. A musicale burlette brings the performance to a close. Good business last week.

BROOKLYN MUSIC HALL.—An entire change of bill is given this week. It contains the names of Hughey Dougherty, Eugene O'Rourke and May Duryea, Hyatt and Pearl, musical comedians; Murphy and Mack, in a sketch; Frey and Fields, buck dancers, and Mlle. Chester. Business has improved with the advent of warm weather.

ATLANTIC GARDEN.—The entertainers this week are Irene Hernandez, Lulu Kiegan, Carrie Montell, Josie Flynn, John Byrne, the Rice Brothers and Prof. B. F. Pflaum.

NOTES.—Lee Ottolengui, who has managed the Amphion Academy ever since its erection, has been given charge of Hyde & Behman's Newark house. His many friends in this city will tender Mr. Ottolengui a testimonial benefit night of 30, at the Amphion. A good performance has been promised, and a big house is assured. .....Frank Carr, the genial manager of the Unique Theatre, will benefit May 25. One hundred volunteers will furnish the entertainment. It undoubtedly will be a financial as well as social success.

NEW YORK STATE.

Albany.—The close of our regular season is near at hand. The Summer season of attractions will next claim theatregoers' attention.

HARMANUS THEATRE.—Chauncey Olcott, in "Sweet Inniscarra," May 16, drew an immense audience. All present were highly pleased, and the star was frequently recalled. The Bostonians paid us their annual visit 17, and the theatre was crowded with enthusiastic admirers. "The Serenade" was the opening song, and all requirements to make an enjoyable evening were fulfilled. The annual child's Kirmess was the attraction 20, 21, and friends of the participants completely filled the house on both occasions. The Lyceum Theatre Stock Co. is billed to appear at this theatre on Friday and Saturday, 27, 28, presenting "The Princess and the Butterfly" and "The Tr e of Knowledge."

THE LELAND OPERA HOUSE continues in the popular vein, giving a strong vaudeville bill weekly and to some of the largest audiences seen here. During the past week Bessie Bonehill and Press Eldridge were at the head of the list, followed by Conley and Huested, Joe Linder, Loney Haskell, Prof. Doherty's trained dogs and the ever popular biograph, with new war news. For 23 and week: Helene Mora, Genaro and Bailey, Warfield and Carleton, Gallando, Eddie O'Dell, John R. Harty, and the American biograph continues.

THE NEW ALBANY THEATRE reopens 23, after effecting a number of innovations and changing the location of the box office. Manager Smith announces Dan McCarthy, in "Dear Old Irish Home" and "The Pride of Mayo," dividing the week and changing bill daily and nightly.

THE GAIETY THEATRE will open 23 for a testimonial benefit to the attaches of the theatre. 30 and week John L. Sullivan's Co. will show here.

Buffalo.—At the Lyceum Theatre "Human Hearts" is this week's drama. Len. H. Wolcot, of The News, has again mustered his "Uncle Tom's Cabin" recruits, and their bombardment of this house will commence Decoration Day and continue for a week. Cakewalks and presents will abound. "Trilby" was well given by McKeeRankin's Co., but the verandahs of the city evidently have the call.

MUSIC HALL.—The Irish Fair is now in progress. Sod from each of Ireland's counties, jaunting cars, electric theatre, stone from Blarney Castle, colleens, etc., are a few of the attractions.

COURT STREET THEATRE.—This popular place closed its season 21, as did the attraction then appearing, Miaco's City Club Co. The new year will begin Aug. 29, under the same management, the booking being "Robin Hood Jr."

SHEA'S GARDEN THEATRE.—The workers this week are: Hilda Thomas, Frank Berry, Cushman and Holcombe, Truly Shattuck, Lawrence and Harrington, Ben Harney, Casino Comedy Four, Bartell and Morris, Doherty's Poodle Dog Circus and Lillian Jerome. Yousouf, the Turkish wrestler, was a good winner for the house last week.

WONDERLAND.—Manager Girard's attractions this week are Roving Ned's Roman Gipsy Camp in the museum, and in the theatre, Barlow Brothers, Cushman and Murrilla, Lorraine and Howell, Tanner and Gilbert, Vera Hart, Emma Cotrely, the Middletons and Prof. Studell's electric inventions. Business continues good.

FENTON'S SUMMER GARDEN.—Mabel Paige, Mille Lazell, Ida Nicolai, Gus Clifford, Georgie Howard, Lillian Hall, Jennie Laird and Fred Caldwell constitute the current roster. Times seem good always down at this resort.

STAUBER'S CONCERT HALL.—Geo. A. Stauber Jr. is now managing this well known hall of Assessor Stauber's. The following entertainers appear this week: Chas. H. Patterson, Eva Merrill, Madaline Franks, Fanny Granger, Nellie Corbett, Lou Lee and Billy Flynn.

COLISEUM THEATRE.—Manager W. E. Gibbs has secured this location and opened his season 23. The people: Hermanatti Bros., Martiere Sisters, Hanson and Mack, Maggie Marshall, May R. Russell, Irene Gracey and Nellie Adams.

NOTES.—Harry C. Ferren, of the Court Street, was a successful "Pinafore" impressario at Geneseo, N. Y., last week.....Joseph Thaler's Alpine Yodlers are singing at Music Hall..... Chas. Samuels secured the Allen Opera House at Jamestown, N. Y., at assignee's sale 21 for $22 500.....F. Hopkinson Smith entertains at Ellicott Club 21.....Ringling Bros.' Circus shows 23, 24.

Troy.—At Rand's Opera House the Bostonians, in "The Serenade," played to S. R. O., at advanced prices, May 16. May Irwin, in "The Swell Miss Fitzwell" and "Kate Kip, Buyer," had good houses 20, 21. She came under the auspices of Oriental Temple, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine. E. A. Sothern comes

Under the Tents.

We opened our season at Barobao, Wis., to extra large business. Our parade is a great feature this year, introducing splendid bands of music, open dens of wild beasts, elegant gold and silver carved cages, tableau cars, band chariots and chime wagons, silver and brass mounted harness and trappings, and our wardrobe is as fine as any show on the road.

NOTES FROM THE SKERBECK FAMILY AND CO. ONE RING CIRCUS—We are now in our third week since our opening at Dorchester, Wis., playing the northern part of Wisconsin for four weeks longer, then on boat runs on Lake Superior and Lake Michigan. Everybody is well and happy, and why not, as we are playing to crowded houses afternoon and night. We have something new in the way of an outside attraction up in this country; people go wild with excitement over the Dwyer Bros.' balloon ascension and parachute jumping. We carry a 90ft., with 50ft. middle, 40ft. dressing top, 18x20ft. horse tent, 30x70 side show. Frank Skerbeck is proprietor and manager; Joe Skerbeck, equestrian director; Gus Skerbeck, bareback rider; Antone Skerbeck, principal clown; Miss Mandy Skerbeck, contortionist; the Skerbeck children, Frankey and Perline, acrobatic and ground and lofty tumbling; Prof. Williams and his trained horse, Billy Morrow and his troupe of dogs, the Grohners, father and son, perch act and double trapeze; Johnny Fox the equilibrist; the Dwyer Bros., balloon ascension. Side show, under the management of Prof. W. R. Jones: W. R. Jones, magician, ventriloquist and orator; Mrs. Vida Jones, mind reading and second sight; Miss Clarrie Skerbeck, snake enchantress; Frank Skerbeck, sword walking and sword swallowing. Concert people, under the direction of Johnny Fox: Johnny Fox, jig dancing on his hands; the Nelsons, John and Ella, musical turn; Fred Given, black face comedian; W. R. Jones and Nida, in afterpiece. Band: Prof. Joe Nerda, leader, with six people; Slim Davis, boss canvas man, with fourteen assistants; Joe Berey, boss cook, with four flunkeys. We eat on lot, sleep at hotels, and travel by rail. The ghost walks regular.

BARNUM & BAILEY NOTES.—The second week of our engagement at Liverpool began May 9, and despite the inclemency of the weather the attendance at both shows was very large. Today (Tuesday) the Lord Mayor of Liverpool paid the show an official visit, being accompanied by the Lady Mayoress, U. S. Consul James Hoyle and wife, and several other prominent city officials. No higher compliment can be paid an amusement institution than to receive an official visit from his lordship, which is proof positive that the big show is in high favor in this city. All our people are in high spirits over the success of Admiral Dewey at Manila, and there isn't an American around the show but what is proudly wearing red, white and blue ribbon. The news of Admiral Dewey's victory had no sooner reached us than some of the more enthusiastic started a fund to present him with a diamond studded gold medal in demonstration of their feelings, but when the fact became known that such a thing could not be carried out without a special act of Congress, chagrin spread over all their faces. When the official report was received yesterday it was the cause of a general hand shaking all around. Carl Clair's band introduced all the national airs into the musical programme, and all our people donned the National colors when they appearrd for their acts. Willie Showles resumed riding yesterday, and is meeting with that success which his clever work always deserves. Next Friday evening the Liverpool Press Club will tender the press representatives of the show a "smoker" at their club rooms. General Agent W. H. Gardner states that the new advertising car is creating quite a little attention in Birmingham, where the advance is now at work heralding our coming. Many of our people are spending their Sundays visiting the many places of interest in this locality. Next Sunday a large number intend visiting the Isle of Man, a four hours' sail from Liverpool. Charley Hurley received his first consignment of LIPPERS last Monday, and the way they were sought for shows that THE OLD RELIABLE is always a welcome visitor. Equestrian Director Ducrow paid a visit to John O'Brien at the Manchester City infirmary, and reports that he is improving nicely, but it will be several weeks yet before he can possibly resume work. The new Winter quarters which Mr. Bailey has had constructed at Stoke-on-Trent were completed last week, and everything is now in readiness for the show when the Summer tour closes.

NOTES FROM JOHN ROBINSON'S BOX BRIGADE, Lew Taylor in charge, with J. S. Cole, Rob Hunson, Wm. Miller and William Clark.—We are doing some hot opposition work, and everything looks forward to a great season in this country. We had a narrow escape from fire May 14, the post office building was destroyed, and the boys did some noble work in saving the adjoining buildings. We get THE OLD RELIABLE every week; late, but better than never.

NOTES FROM CHAS. LEE'S WINTER QUARTERS.—T. V. Wormwood's Monkey Theatre, now organized here, will open May 27, at Canton, Pa. Since my last writing Mr. Wormwood has bought forty more monkeys, which makes a total of one hundred; also twenty more dogs, all Newfoundlands and Danes; also ten more Shetland ponies. Everything will be brand new. The miniature carriages, coaches, chariots, cages, Roman racing chariots, sulkeys are marvels of beauty. The miniature calhope, which leads the parade, is played be a monkey. The performance will be given with all animals—ponies, dogs, monkeys, goats, bears, anteaters, etc., etc. It will be novel and wonderful. The feature of the performance is the musical monkey, Nigger, which has been taught to play on the violin. The show will play only the large cities, making one and two week stands. Prof. Van Rankin, has been breaking ponies for the show, left on May 15 for New York with his educated horse Forrest. He opens June 2, on the Park circuit at North Hampton, Mass., for twelve weeks. The Wormwood Monkey Theatre will be the only show of this kind in America, and, judging from general appearances, should be a big money maker. Harry L. Noyes has charge of the outfit and Billy Clifton will run the privileges. Owing to the late opening on account of cold weather, which the monkeys can't stand, the show will make a late season South. The cars are gems of beauty on which the show will travel.

ADVANCE OF THE ORTON BROS.' SHOWS.—Ned Stoughton, general agent; R. A. Larsh, local contracting agent; R. W. McGeorge, special agent; W. B. Turk, boss billposter, with the following assistants: Burt Williams, Charles Cook, George Bell W. C. Gordon, programmer; J. C. Whitehead, lithographer.

NOTES FROM JONES' BIG CITY CIRCUS.—We have just closed our fourth week of the season. Although we have encountered any amount of bad, rainy weather, nevertheless the show draws large crowds, and last, but not least, our performance gives good satisfaction all around, and we always send them away well pleased. The three Grants, Tom, Lou and Chas., are winning much favor with their Chinese acrobatic work, also Tom Grant with his new aerial ladder. Cadieux never fails to make them roar with his clever somersaults on a bounding wire, while Peco, singing and talking clown, brings fourth cheer after cheer and laugh after laugh with patriotic songs, jokes and witty sayings. Very clever contortion work is being done by Grant and Boyle. J. T. Carrier, triple bar performer, joined May 23. Everyone around the aggregation are in good spirits, while the spook appears every Sunday morning, and we await the arrival of THE OLD RELIABLE.

THE CHAS. BARTINE SHOWS send their notes written on both sides of the paper and for that reason they are not used.

MABELLE LE ONDO has closed an engagement over the Castle circuit, and opened with McDonald & Day's Circus for the Summer, commencing May 16.

BLAWETT has joined Shott & La Place's Great London Shows for the rest of the season to clown and do his juggling specialty.

JOE W. WEST, of Wilson and West, with the Big Olympic Shows, writes to THE CLIPPER thus: "The biggest opposition of the season is now going on in the gas belt between Gibbs and McGregor's Railroad Show, Sells & Forepaugh's, Sipes & Slake's Pony and Dog Show, Ogden's Pony and Dog Show and J. H. La Pearl's Shows, three advance brigades, in Nuncie today. Big fight, and all along the line, every town I have made, they say Gibbs & McGregor have the neatest, cleanest and best show that ever paid their city a visit."

ROSTER OF SHOTT & LA PLACE'S NEW ALL FEATURED Railroad Show.—Everything is ready for our opening at Bluefield, W. Va., May 26. The performers are as follow: Mr. and Mrs. Mons. La Place, the Lureans, Norman, Kolb Bros., Onso, Wm. Marralle, Prof. Ben Waddell and his troupe of dogs, Burtino, Martello Bros., and Blewett, clown juggler. The band is under the direction of Prof. James D. Flannery and Wm. B. Fowler. R. M. Smith and J. D. Shott are in advance.

THE QUIROZ EUROPEAN CIRCUS AND WATER PANTOMIME Company is meeting with success in Paramaribo, Surinam, Dutch Guiana. Was to have opened there May 4, but in consequence of success remained one week longer, and was to open at Georgetown 12. Manual Navarro was to leave for New York City, reaching here shortly.

THE SUTCLIFF & FUKINO COMPANY were at Georgetown, British Guinea, April 28-30, to big business. They gave their performances in the Assembly Hall, to packed houses, three nights and matinee. They left there May 2, to open in Berbice May 3. The company consists of Fukino Tan Arachi and Si Kitchi, and Alfred Thomas and Eddie and Lola Sutcliff, making seven. Their show gave general satisfaction. They have one agent and one property man.

MANUEL NAVARRO is now in New York City.

JAMES DONOVAN, of the late Donovan & Stickney Circus, which closed in Venezuela, is in Georgetown, en route for New York.

FRANK A. ROBBINS' CIRCUS is reported to have come to a halt at Campbell Hall, N. Y.

TENNESSEE.

Memphis.—East End Park was opened May 15, with C. T. Taylor as manager. A pleasing entertainment was given during the week by the following people: Chas. Diamond, Esther Sisters, the Midgelys, Annie Connors and Prof. Reynard. Business was good.

MUSICAL.

Charles K. Harris, the well known song writer, informs us that he has for the past six weeks been flooded with hundreds of letters from professionals and non-professionals urgently requesting him to write a new national song. He resisted their entreaties for several reasons; one of them was his desire to see whether one of the many war songs written this season would make a hit; but as up to the present time no new war song has created any ripple in the musical world, he has composed a new national song, entitled "There Is No Flag Like the Red, White and Blue" and is said to be strictly original in both words and music, as no recognized national air is included in same. As soon as his music trade throughout the United States learned that he was writing a national song he was beseiged with advance orders for same, and the first edition of ten thousand copies are already been subscribed for. The professional copies of same are now ready, and all professionals can secure them by writing to Mr. Harris, at Milwaukee, Wis., or by calling in person at his New York office, at No. 39 West 28th St., where his Eastern representative, Meyer Cohen, will be pleased to give or teach this great song, as well as Mr. Harris' latest hit, "Break the News to Mother," to the profession.

"The Flag of Our Nation" is the title of a new army song that can be ordered from the American Song Publishing Co. They also offer another new composition, entitled "Our Own Jack Tar," which they recommend to all singers.

THE MORRIS PARK RACES.

Jean Bereaud Wins the $10,000 Eclipse Stakes—Fine Weather Encourages Good Attendance During the Week.

The continuation of the Spring meeting of the Westchester Racing Association at Morris Park, this city, on Tuesday, May 17, attracted a crowd of about five thousand enthusiasts, and the contest of six races by good fields brought a goodly measure of fine sport. The big events of the card were the Bay Chester Stakes, won by Jockey Littlefield's fine riding on the Morris' Mirthful, and the Claremont Highweight Handicap, which went to Warrenton, after a hard drive. The four purse events which filled out the card were well fought out, and the total of good sport on the afternoon was gratifying. The weather was good and the track fast. Summary:

A genuinely beautiful Spring day, glorious weather for racing, brought out a big crowd Wednesday, and for their pleasant journey Northward patrons were rewarded by a splendidly contested card of the usual six events. Chief in importance was the running of the Laureate Stakes, which Sloane won after a drive on Dr. Eichberg, and the Knickerbocker Hurdle Handicap, which closed the programme, also served to increase the sport and diversify the card. Challenger took the jumping event, other winners being Semper Ego, Ten Spot, Kingdon and Gala Day. The victory of Ten Spot was the only setback the betting fraternity received on the day, as the other winners were strong favorites. Summary:

Suffocatingly hot weather, the afternoon ending in a brisk rain storm, marked the sport Friday, 20. The net proceeds were for the benefit of the Red Cross Society, and the Westchester Racing Association hung up liberal purses, including a plum of $1,600 for the Red Cross Handicap. Owners supported the laudable enterprise freely, and there were very few withdrawals. About 3,000 visitors passed through the turnstiles, and the Metropolitan Turf Association, at a meeting held prior to the first race, donated $500 toward the day's fund. Only three horses went out for the Red Cross Handicap, and the favorite, Previous, won the race through a timely drive by Sloan just at the finish. Other winners were Tickler, Rhinelander, Decanter, Lansdale and Charentus, the racing constituting an afternoon of excellent sport. Summary:

John Daly's splendid two year old, Jean Bereaud, had an easy job in landing the Eclipse Stakes, on Saturday, 21, when the fine weather and promising programme drew out big attendance. Last August the event closed with one hundred and seven nominations, of which thirty qualified, but the withdrawals dwindled the field down to an even half dozen to face the starter. Sloan got off well with the favorite and never relinquished the lead. Miller hung on to him for two furlongs, and then gave way to Kingdon. Kingston's son made a gallant bid for the honors, and ran lapped on Jean Bereaud until the last sixteenth, where Sloan shook up the Daly colt, and won with something to spare by a length. Kingdon beat Miller four lengths for the place, and the Duke of Middleburg was only shut out of the money by a neck in a hard drive. The Ladies' Stakes were of secondary interest, and Sloan added another winning to his long string by landing Geisha, an odds on favorite, in front of a field of five, after a fine ride. The meeting ends this week, when attention will turn to Gravesend, L. I., where the Brooklyn Jockey Club opens with the Brooklyn Handicap on Saturday, 28. Summary:

QUERIES ANSWERED.

NO REPLIES BY MAIL OR TELEGRAPH.

ADDRESSES OR WHEREABOUTS NOT GIVEN. ALL IN QUEST OF SUCH SHOULD WRITE TO THOSE WHOM THEY SEEK, IN CARE OF THE CLIPPER POST OFFICE. ALL LETTERS WILL BE ADVERTISED ONE WEEK ONLY. IF THE ROUTE OF ANY THEATRICAL COMPANY IS SOUGHT, REFER TO OUR LIST OF ROUTES ON ANOTHER PAGE. WE CANNOT SEND ROUTES BY MAIL OR TELEGRAPH.

THEATRICAL.

MAURICE.—"L'Enfant Prodigue" was produced at Daly's Theatre, this city, on Aug. 21, 1893. It afterwards toured this country. It was highly appreciated by a select few, but the general public showed little or no interest in it, and it was not a financial success. We would strongly advise you not to make the venture.

K. M., Brooklyn.—1. Address Harbach & Co., 809 Filbert Street, Philadelphia, Pa. 2. We were informed the company closed because of poor business. 3. We do not know what plans the parties have made for the Summer.

L. R., Boston.—We do not know where the party is. Address letter in our care and we will advertise it.

BROS. D., Ottawa.—Your act is good, but your salary will depend somewhat upon the fame you may have gained. You might not get more than fifty dollars per week, but with some fame, good printing and a fine outfit, the act is sufficiently sensational to command double the above sum.

P. S., Atlanta.—Address letter in care of THE CLIPPER.

T. J. McK., Bridgeport.—Such a position is very difficult to get, and we cannot advise you how to obtain it.

W. P. G., Newark.—1. They answer at once. 2. They answer by letter. 3. Write letter to let manager know you have seen the call which is published just before the season begins.

L. R. H., London.—Address the party in our care.

C. W. T., Brooklyn.—1. "The Mighty Dollar" was written by Benjamin Edward Woolf. 2. We know of no music score pertaining to the work. 3. None that we recollect.

CONSTANT READER.—The May Howard Burlesque Co. played at Niblo's Garden, this city, week of Oct. 17, 1892.

L. S.—John E. Owens was the actor who won fame as Solon Shingle in the play entitled "The People's Lawyer." We know nothing concerning his estate.

R. E. H.—Address letter in care of THE CLIPPER.

F. Z., Chicago.—The letter was advertised in our issue of March 12, but is still in this office.

M. S., Morristown.—Address the party in care of THE CLIPPER.

J. R., Hillsboro.—1. About thirty dollars per week. 2. He pays board, but no railroad fare. 3. Boys eleven years old are not in demand on the stage, and we cannot quote any salary.

R. H. G., Prairie City.—We do not care to especially recommend any school.

F. L., Indiana Mineral Springs.—From twenty-five to thirty-five dollars per week.

W. S., Chicago.—The whereabouts of the show is not known to us. Address letter in our care and we will advertise it.

J. W. R., Chicago.—Willis Armstrong, a variety performer, died in this city, on April 18, 1877.

MRS. M. M., Brampton.—We do not know the party. We have searched our records but find no mention of the death of one of that name.

F. P., Newark.—We think the company has closed its season.

W. F. G., Lawrence.—1. The comparative merits of those who have achieved greatness upon the stage being so largely a matter of individual opinion we never indulge in comparisons of that sort. 2. Mme. Patti has received the larger compensation. 3. The singer you name was not as successful in this city as she had elsewhere been, because our public had passed that stage in musical culture, where a few phenomenal notes could win a favorable verdict.

HARRISON, Providence.—There is no provision in the copyright law that can prevent your use of the title you name. The party who claims the sole right to its use might possibly be able to establish his claim under the common law, but we strongly doubt it.

T. M.—Address the party in care of THE CLIPPER.

E. M. M., Boston.—See route list in this issue.

L. J. P.—"A Celebrated Case" was written by Adolphe d'Ennery and Eugene Cormon.

H. & S., Harlem.—1. Advertise in THE CLIPPER, get lithographs, and make application to managers. 2. We cannot estimate the value of your act.

S. L., Pallas.—The show opened its season in St. Louis, Mo., on April 11. Watch our route list

MUSICAL MOKE.—Address C. S. Lawrence, 88 and 90 Centre Street, New York City.

C. V. K.—Address letter in our care.

J. H. C., Newark.—It is not unusual to require a treasurer to put up a security bond. As you fail to give the full name of the party who offers the engagement, it is impossible for us to identify him, but under any circumstances we decline to give information concerning the reliability of anyone. A bond could be given without risk unless shortage should occur, and to ask for a cash deposit is unreasonable, to say the least. In such a case it would be well to demand a satisfactory bond from the manager.

E. A. L.—1. From the outline of your sketch which you send we do not think you are likely to procure an engagement. 2. Apply to managers and learn your fate. 3. We cannot estimate the cost without knowing what is required. You will need costumes, lithographs and possibly scenery and props.

H., Brooklyn.—There is much competition in that line and prices vary greatly. If you will inform us concerning the price you demanded we will endavor to advise you.

C. H. B., Berlin.—Address the party in care of THE CLIPPER.

A. E. M., Detroit.—We would not advise your to start before Aug. 15.

SID, Altoona.—We know of no one in the business except the party you mention, nor do we know where the supplies can be obtained.

H. O'S., Whitesville.—Address Leo Stevens, 361 West Twenty-eighth Street, New York City.

MRS. E. B. C., Portland.—We think it would be unwise to advertise the plays, for it would be unsafe to submit the manuscripts for consideration. The word reliable in your communication prevents our giving the information you seek, as we in no case accept such responsibility.

CARDS.

R. C. B., Elkhart.—The player to whom the faced card was dealt, in the draw, cannot accept it, but must be given the next card from the top of the deck, and before any player to his left has been helped. The dealer is wrong. Dick & Fitzgerald, 18 Ann Street, N. Y. City, publish "American Hoyle."

M. F. W., Scheneous.—If A made in play the two points he bid (which you fail to state) then he went out on high, having but one to go. Write again, and be explicit.

H. F. M., Providence.—B, having but one point to go, while his opponent (A) had two to make, the former won the game with low, which takes precedence of all other points save high.

MERCHANT, Baltimore.—B loses, as his hand was foul, being composed of less than five cards. No player can win honestly with but four cards in his hand.

J. H. D., Chicago.—If C called for a card he must take it; if he did not, then he was right in returning it. But it having been accidentally exposed D could not receive it, but must be given the next one from the top of the deck, the exposed card being placed on the bottom of the pack.

P. K., Astoria.—Playing with the "joker" is not the game of euchre, and we cannot undertake to decide the dispute, the custom of the house governing.

R. H., Boston.—The player must borrow enough to call, or lay down.

F. C., Cheboygan.—Tell us what number of points you were playing and we will endeavor to answer you; sancho pedro usually consists of fifty points, pedro of twenty-one points, and double pedro of fifty-two.

G. R. C., Taunton.—1. D has no run for the last card in 4, 3, 5, 2, 4 and 2, on account of the first 2 intervening. 2. D counts two for the pair and two for making thirty-one.

A. S. H., Baxter Springs.—1. You count two for making fifteen and one for the last card. 2. Two only is counted for making thirty-one with the last card.

DUBLIN, Ireland.—The opposite player to the dealer makes the first bet.

BASEBALL, CRICKET, ETC.

C. J. S., Brooklyn.—It is a draw.

J. C. B., Philadelphia.—The Athletic Club was a member of the National League in 1876, when its team included: Knight and Zettlein, pitchers; Coons and Malone, catchers; Fisler, Sutton and Meyerle, on the bases; Force, short stop, and Hall, Eggler and Fouser, in the outfield.

J. M., Pittsfield.—It was a fair ball and is fully covered by Rule 38. A ball striking fair ground after passing first or third bases is fair, no matter where it rolls afterwards.

P. F., Hartford.—The base runner is not allowed a substitute to run for him except by the consent of the captains of the contesting teams.

E. H., Winthrop Harbor.—1. Write to A. G. Spalding & Bros., 130 Nassau Street, this city, or A. J. Reach Co., Tulip and Palmer Streets, Philadelphia, Pa. 2. See chess column next week for answer.

B. C., Baltimore.—He pitched for the Stars, of the California League, in 1880, until they disbanded, early in August, when he returned East and finished the season as a National League umpire.

ATHLETIC.

J. B., Paterson.—1. His right name is William H. Robertson, and he can be addressed at either this office or at his place of business, on Park Row, this city. 2. We believe he is.

E. B. G., Ponca City.—We would advise you to continue to follow the business in which you are now engaged, rather than seek your fortune in the pedestrian arena; hundreds of amateurs can beat the time you state you have accomplished.

RING.

J. H., Cohoes.—The referee had no power to declare the bets off, nor has he in any similar case; that is a power not vested in such official. The fact that the conditions of the match were changed when there was a new arrangement as to weight at once invalidated all bets, unless the parties thereto mutually agreed to allow them to stand. The money posted in the case under consideration should have been returned to the bettors, the stakeholder having no right to give the stakes to the party who backed Sullivan.

C. S., New York.—In case of a drawn battle each of the bettors would have been entitled to the return of the money he posted.

A CONSTANT READER, Marinette.—We cannot spare the space necessary to give the records of the two men in this column.

J. C. E. AND W. E., Eagle.—1. The correct weight of Corbett and Fitzsimmons, on the day they fought in Nevada, was not officially announced, if at all. 2. Corbett did not administer a clean knock down to Sullivan at the time of their fight in New Orleans, John L. going down in the last round, for the first time, from sheer exhaustion.

J. M. H., Paterson.—Jim Corbett and Pete Jackson fought sixty-one rounds when they met before the California Athletic Club, in San Francisco, Cal., May 21, 1891.

SUBSCRIBER, Hoboken.—We have no record of a meeting in the ring between the boxers named.

READER, Buchanan.—John L. Sullivan was presented with the belt referred to by friends and admirers in Boston, Mass. It was not a challenge belt.

MISCELLANEOUS.

M. S., Soldiers' Home.—1. A wins. The United States heliograph can be communicated a distance of sixty miles. 2. Our strongest searchlights are so powerful that in the clear atmosphere of Arizona or New Mexico, if shown from a high mountain, it could be seen a distance of several hundred miles, provided the observer was on a mountain of sufficient height. At sea the light is rarely more than sixty feet above water, and a man at the same height could see it seventeen miles away in clear weather.

SUBSCRIBER, Watertown.—Peddlers of tobacco must register with the Collector as such, and can only sell in original packages, unbroken. When so registered they can sell anywhere in such packages The selling out of broken packages in the street is not recognized by the Government. No special tax or license is paid by peddlers, but they must register.

H. H., Shreveport.—The torpedo boat has not the power, or means, of running under the water; she is not a submarine boat, and when she goes under water it is usually a case of "good by, John."

THE YOUNGS, Niobrara.—J. C. Deagan, 4 Lilly Avenue, San Francisco, Cal.; E. R. Street, 351 Main Street, Hartford, Ct.

J. C. L., Jeffersonville.—A wins, of course, as the war between the United States and Spain began on April 21 last. The first gun of the war was fired by the gunboat Nashville on Friday, April 22.

Black forces mate in four moves.

NOTES, CONDENSED.

(a) There is hardly any advantage on this side. White should have played 19. .P to Q R 3; the text move causes loss of time.

(b) This advance is generally considered risky; but here Black can do it safely. If there is any attack to be gained it will be with Black.

(!) A splendid reply.

(c) This powerful move orces White to sacrifice the Q.

(dd) These moves virtually end the battle.

A "Blindfold" Masterpiece.

A brilliant we have had marked for quite a length of time; but it is good enough to keep. It is one of six played simultaneously at Hereford, by Mr. Blackburne, this one vs. Mr. Collins.

On the Wing.

Now here is game in sight worth bringing down. The Eagle would not have made the following statements without grounds for them, and Bro. Helms does not talk through his hat, or the bottom of a tumbler.....We have the "positive announcement" that Mr. Pillsbury is to enter, in fact, is now on his way, the Vienna tourney. Nineteen competitors are settled, the twentieth place to be kept open for Herr Lasker till the last moment; when, if he does not appear, some strong European master will be given the place. The nineteen are: From America—D. G. Baird, Messrs. Pillsbury, Showalter and Steinitz; Great Britain—Blackburne, Burn and Caro; Germany—Lipke, Tarrasch and Walbrodt; Russia—Alapin, Schiffers and Tschigorin; Austria—Halprin, Marco and Schlechter; Hungary—Charousek and Maroczy; France—Janowski. The bringing together of this galaxy of renowned stars in the face of many difficulties reflects great credit on the management of the Congress. We feel like adding particular commendation for the dignified firmness with which the managers have adhered to their programme, once it was carefully considered and adopted.....To the above we may add that, the Brooklyn C. C., which is always up to "every good word and work," has officially forwarded to Vienna the 200 kronen necessary as the entrance fees and deposits of its two "most distinguished fellow members," Pillsbury and Showalter..... The following item is just now one of leading interest. The official wind up of the Brooklyn Chess League's season was celebrated with due eclat by the announced banquet at the Argyle, Thurs. eve., 12th inst. About fifty wide awake enthusiasts sat at the board. President W. K. Clay was toastmaster, and a representative of each club responded to the timely and appropriate sentiments—The Brooklyn C. C., Dewey, Morphy, Steinitz, the American competitors at Vienna, and the members of the League at the front, of whom there are many. President Clay, of the naval contingent, expects to start speedily for the Philippines, as he informs us in a most fraternal good bye letter. The speeches were interspered with patriotic songs. Then came the presentation of prizes. Chairman W. M. Worthley, of the prize committee, presented a handsome cup, suitably engraved, to the Exchange C. C., League champion, accepted and acknowledged by Capt. Charles Helms; 2d prize, German Handbuch, to the Caxton C. C., presented by the chess editor of THE CLIPPER. In his absence, Mr. Clay handed the book to O. E. Giese, of the Caxtons, who responded. To C. G. Griswold, of the Exchange Club, was awarded a set of chess men, presented by Vice President L. A. Best, for the best individual score in the tourney, 10½ to ½; 2d prize, B. C. Selover, of the Bishop's Club, an elegant chessboard, presented by Mr. Clay, for his score, 10 to 1. It is intended to make this social festival an annual occurrence; though probably the non-prize winners do not propose its exact reproduction in every particular. The League has our best wishes for a prosperous future.....The next news is a gratifying item from our own correspondence. It will be remembered that that munificent patron of chess and its players, Albert Freiherr v. Rothschild, offered a prize of £20 for the most brilliant game in the Ladies' London tourney last year. Mr. Pillsbury was the judge, and we have just received from Mrs. Rowland a report of the award. Mr. P., as it appears, not finding any one game superior in brilliancy to all the rest has divided the honors and the prize between Mrs Berry, of Ireland; Miss Forbes-Sharpe, of Scotland, and Miss Hertzschel, of Germany.....The return junior team match, Brooklyn vs. Manhattan, was contested at the Harlem C. C. as per appointment, 8th inst., and produced a well fought and interesting match, victory remaining with Manhattan by a score of 9 to 5. The former score being 7¼ all, left the final record—Manhattan 16½, Brooklyn 13½. A glance at the score reveals whence came egrimony to Brooklyn. Mr. Napier at board No. 1 forfeited to A. Meyer by non attendance. An ill-omened and depressing start. Then, unlike Bro. Reichhelm's characterization of the British team in the late cable match, Brooklyn's weakness was in its tail, and a pretty long tail at that. From boards 9 to 15, inc., her players did not win a game, and only drew two of the seven. The Eagle gives four games. On board 3, Tyler (B) tried a Petroff vs. L. Meyer but in less than 20. had to succumb. On 5, Riedel (B) had the satisfaction of squaring the inter-scholastic champion Libaire in fine style. On 6 was one of the great battles of the series, Howell (B) playing an Evans on Sewall and in 60. winning, reversing the result of the first round. The Manhattan boys well and honorably earned their victory by playing, as a whole, superior chess, and Mr. Teed will find it no trifling tax on his attention to award Mr. Chadwick's prize for the best game. Here is the delightful chessikin Stern (M) vs. Storey:

1. .P to K 4	P to K 3	6. .Q B × B	Q × Q B
2. .P-Q 4	P-Q 4	7. .Kt-his 5	Q-home
3. .Q Kt-B 3	K Kt-B 3	8. .K B-Q 3	P-Q B 4
4. .Q B-Kt 5	K B-K 2	9. .Q-K R 3	P × P, and
5. .P-K 5	K Kt-Q 2	White mates in two!.....

Just at the right time we receive from Bro. Helms the announcement that Mr. Chadwick's handsome trophy has been awarded to Mr. E Riedel, of the Boys' High School C. C. (B), for his victory at board No. 5 in the first round over H. Libaire, the inter scholastic champion of Manhattan.....We are in receipt of a genial, fraternal letter from Edward J. Napier, corres. sec. Pillsbury Corres. Association, accompanied by a bulletin giving in full the present condition and progress of this splendidly successful organization. So vast is its scope and so numerous are its ramifications, that, on the surface, one would say it would be too unwieldy either for profit or pleasure; but the scheme is engineered by men of such tireless energy, boundless enthusiasm and so level headed withal that the enterprise moves like clock work right on to its destined goal. We can only note results. Four Divisions are already engaged in the "finals," and we have since learned that two more have finished their preliminary tourneys. These four are: Northern—Messrs. Hill, Jellett, Tunstall and Wolff, playing three games all round; Southern—Wiggers vs. Walden; Atlantic—Myers vs Anderson; Western—Pierce vs. Hopkins The three pairs just mentioned will contest a match of seven games for the championship of their respective divisions. The managers will call the Association "a mighty power in the chess world." We shall revert to this bulletin again. .....The greatest problem event of the year is the three move international tourney of the British Chess Magazine, just reported. The judges were Dr. C Planck and B. G. Laws. The result should be matter for serious reflection to a multitude of ambitious enthusiasts who will still persist in throwing a lot of chess forces on the board and imagining they have "composed a problem" that will command fame and prizes. We are persuaded that the curse of problematists (imaginary), like that of poets (imaginary), is facility of publication. Following, in brief, is the summary. "a little disappointing," as B. C. M. carefully puts it: There were 104 problems; 37 were disqualified outright, leaving 67 for adjudication. Of these 43 showed a maxium of less than 40 per ct. of merit marks, and so were passed by. This left but 24 to be divided into two classes—those presenting 50 per ct. or more of merit and those 40 to 50 per ct. In this last class are 12 problems "varying from fair to good, of the ordinary publishing type;" leaving only 12 out of 104 "which we hold worthy of high commendation." We repeat —here is food for serious thought, which is worthy of careful assimilation, and should show fruit in improved practice We can only name the winners this week. First, A. F. Mackenzie (blind); second, Max Feigl; third, M. Ehrenstein, and fourth, M. A. Dahl. "Specially commended," Emile Pradignat. Hon. mention, A. F. Mackenzie, Antonio Corrias, F. H. Guest, W. A. Shinkman, V. Schiffer, C. A. L. Bull and Vojtech Kosek..... There, haven't we brought in a prize bag this week?

GEORGE B. TINCLER and F. E. Bacon avain met in a match race on May 21, this time at two miles, at Bolton, Eng., the Irish runner again defeating the Englishman handily, in 9m. 19⅘s.

THE Tuxedo Park and Powelton Golf Clubs played a match at Newburg, N. Y., on May 21, the latter being victorious by a score of 22 to 10.

News of the Game.

The veteran of a thousand battles, Henry Spayth, during a recent visit, to Rochester, N. Y., scored as follows with H. B. Reynolds: Spayth, 4; Reynolds, 2; drawn, 14. .....Bro. Maize gives out the following: "Dr. Schaefer's standing as an expert player has at last been accurately ascertained." "The May N. A. C. B. gravely informs us that our clever, kindly, witty and accomplished friend is considered about the equal of Swain, of the New York Checker Club." We sincerely hope that Bro. Maize won't take this seriously, as Bro. Stearns is slightly "Deweyized" these days. We have been acquainted with Dr. S. for more than twenty years, and with Mr. Swain for twelve or fifteen years, and in justice to both, know that the latter gentleman never has been nearer than the odds of one game in six to Dr. Schaefer. Mr. Swain does not claim to be equal in playing strength to the Doctor. Furthermore, Mr. Swain hasn't belonged to the New York Checker Club for years. .....The Jersey City players and the New York C. C. are to have a one day team match on Decoration Day..... D. G. McKelvie, a Glasgow expert, has posted a five pound forfeit for a match with R. Holmes, covering championship of Stirlingshire.....Bro. McAteer says that Jordan and Ferrie are to play a match of sixty games for $500 a side, and to include, of course, the "world's championship," as understood in Scotland.....The Freedman-Rattersby match of thirty games, for £20 a side, to be played on the Searight-McKelvie principle, the match to commence on June 18, hours of play shall be from 11 A. M. till 3 P. M., and from 5 P. M. till 9 30 P. M. Any game pending must be finished before leaving.

The Orange and Black Win.

Again were the picked athletes of Princeton and Columbia Universities matched against each other in a dual field meeting at the Princeton, N. J., track on Saturday afternoon, May 21. The result was a rather easy victory for the local performers, who won by twenty-six points. The best performance during the afternoon was the running of a quarter mile by Long, of Columbia, in 49⅗s., and the "two twenty" in 22s. Summary:

One hundred yards run.—Won by Rush, Princeton; second, Long, Columbia; third, Kratz, Princeton. Time, 10⅕s.

One hundred and twenty yards hurdle race.—Won by Wheeler, Princeton; second, Herndon, Princeton; third, Tilford, Princeton. Time, 16⅘s.

Eight hundred and eighty yards run.—Won by Cregan, Princeton; second, Gaskill, Princeton; third, Demille, Columbia. Time, 2m. 5⅗s.

Two hundred and twenty yards run.—Won by Long, Columbia; second, Rush, Princeton; third, Kratz, Princeton. Time, 22s.

One mile walk.—Won by Josephthal, Columbia, second, Hackett, Columbia; third, Howe, Columbia. Time, 8m. 20⅖s.

Two hundred and twenty yards hurdle race.—Won by Wheeler, Princeton; second, a great game at third base for the Clevelands, accepting all of seven chances, and some of these came at him as though shot from one of Uncle Sam's thirteen inch guns. Lange was also in evidence in the field, where he captured six fly balls that were seeking a safe haven in his territory. The score:

Pittsburg vs. St. Louis.

The Browns received another smearing with the whitewash brush, the Pittsburgs, for the second time in this series, applying the kalsomine when they met on May 17, at Pittsburg, Pa. Second Baseman Padden deserted the home team on the evening of May 16, because of a fine which he considered unjust. Eagan played his position in this game, and did it so well that, as far as the strength of the team was concerned, Padden was not missed. Pittsburg is lucky in having so good a man to take Padden's place. Rhines pitched with telling effect, and, while batted safely seven times, he managed to keep the hits so well apart, and was so effective when hits were needed, that the visitors could not get a man across the home plate. Taylor, who has been pitching some remarkably clever games this season, proved an easy problem for the home team on this occasion, and he was batted safely when hits were needed. The only long safe hit was a two baser by Rhines. The score:

Chicago vs. St. Louis.

The St. Louis Browns stopped over at Chicago, Ill., May 18, on their way home from Pittsburg, and partly retrieved themselves for their many losses at the Smoky City by defeating Manager Tom Burns' Windy City aggregation of pennant aspirants. Thornton was the chief cause of his team's defeat. He had poor command of the ball, and when he did get it within reaching distance of the plate it was thumped hard and often, especially by Decker, who led in batting, making a safe hit every time he went to the bat. Sudhoff was also freely batted, but managed to keep the hits well apart, and was generally very effective when men were on the bases. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by Crooks and doubles by Dahlen, Ryan (twice), and Decker.

Chicago vs. Washington.

The Washingtons did far better in their opening game of the first Western series than did some of their formidable Eastern rivals. They succeeded in defeating the Chicagos on May 19, at Chicago, Ill. The visitors, who did not play as well as did the locals in the field, won by bunching their hits to a better advantage. The Washingtons took a lead in the first inning, which, by adding two more runs to their credit in the second inning, they held until the end. All the pitchers did well and poorly at times. Isbell was stabled after the first inning, and Wood, who succeed him, did much better work, although the change came too late to avert a defeat. McCormick and Selbach led their respective teams in batting, while the long safe hits were a triple bagger by Wagner and doubles by McCormick and Selbach. The score:

The Chicagos did not do so well in their second game with the Washingtons, May 20, when they barely escaped a shut out. The veteran, Gus Weyhing, pitched in great form, holding the locals down to five safe hits, and had his support been perfect they would have drawn nine blanks for their share of the afternoon's sport. The home team also presented a veteran pitcher in Mat. Kilroy, but the visitors found little trouble in connecting with his delivery when a hit was needed to send in a run. This was especially true in the case of Gettman, who made four safe drives out of five times at bat. The long safe hits were double baggers by Kilroy, Wrigley and Weyhing. The score:

Better all around work enabled the Chicagos to again win on May 22. Mercer was batted hard throughout, while Callahan kept the hits made off him pretty well distributed throughout the nine innings. Lynch declined to officiate, on account of its being Sunday, and Connolly umpired alone. Some of his decisions were so severely criticised by Lange and Dahlen that they were put out of the game, Thornton and Isbell replacing them respectively. A great running catch by Anderson, late of the Brooklyns, was a feature. The long safe hits were triple baggers by Wrigley and Mertes and doubles by Selbach (twice), McGuire, McCormick and Callahan. Baltimore vs. Pittsburg.

These teams met for the first time this season on May 18, at Baltimore, Md., and it proved a good thing for the Baltimores, who, by scoring a victory, were enabled to jump into third place in the race for the pennant. Nops pitched a good game outside of the second inning, when a base on balls, another batsman being hit with a pitched ball, an error and a single gave the Pittsburgs two runs. In the other innings the visitors could do nothing with Nops' delivery, making only five hits altogether. This victory allowed the Baltimores to pass both New York and Boston in the standing of the clubs in the percentage table. O'Brien led in batting, while the only long safe hit was a two baser by McGraw.

The Baltimores polished off the Pittsburgs in better shape on May 19 than they had done on the preceding day. Manager Hanlon gave a trial to another one of his young unknowns, and while he did not quite equal the performance of young Hughes, he did well enough to get recognition, and at another trial may repeat the work done by Hughes. However, it looks as if Hanlon has a promising youngster in Kitson. He certainly made a very favorable opening for his initial performance in the major league. To shut out the Pittsburgs without a run, and allow them only four safe hits, including a double bagger by Gray, which, by the way, was the only long safe hit of the game, was doing remarkably well. Hart was batted hard, but in one inning only—the third—could the locals bunch their hits to any extent. The score:

After two failures the Pittsburgs succeeded in scoring a victory over the Baltimores, May 20, when they met for the third game of their series. With the exception of the fourth inning both Pond and Gardner pitched magnificent ball. In that inning a muff of an easy fly by Stenzel and three bases on balls, aided by remarkably clever base running, gave the visitors three runs and virtually a victory. Keeler was sent in to bat in the place of Pond in the eighth inning, and Nops pitched the ninth inning. Only three safe hits were made off Gardner and four off Pond, the latter's wildness in giving bases on balls being chiefly responsible for his team's defeat.

St. Louis vs. New York.

The New Yorks began their first series of games in the Western circuit with a victory over the St. Louis Browns on May 19, at St. Louis, Mo., in the presence of fully four thousand persons, and it was nearly a shut out for the local men; had not Grady, who was playing short, made a bad throw in the seventh inning, the Browns would have drawn nine blanks. Superior batting helped New York to the seven runs credited to it. It was not a particularly brilliant game, although there were many interesting features scattered throughout the nine innings. While few errors were actually charged, many dumb plays were made on both sides. Doheny pitched good ball, and with perfect support would have had a shut out to his credit. Daniels, on the other hand, was freely batted, but kept the hits well apart, except in the seventh inning, when the visitors pounded in four runs. Van Haltren and Wilmot led in batting, while the long safe hits were a triple and double bagger by Warner and doubles by Van Haltren, Tiernan, Joyce and Daniels. The score:

Even the worm will turn on you when trodden upon and this seems to be the case with the Browns, who have been beaten more than twice as many time as they have won this season, when they met the New Yorks on May 20 for the second game of the series, and the outcome was a reversal of the above result. Esper, the ex-Philadelphia policeman, ex-member of half a dozen or more different clubs, was rejuvenated and put in to pitch against the visitors and he fully demonstrated that he still has some winning games up the sleeve of that South wing of his. He held the New Yorks down to six safe hits, which netted a total of eleven bases, but they were so well scattered that only two runs could be otained. Meekin was not batted hard but the hits came at such times that runs resulted. The long safe hits were triple baggers by Van Haltren, Tiernan and Clements and a two baser by Grady. The score:

The Browns took another fall out of the New Yorks on May 21, when they made them look like a lot of selling platers. Seymour was as wild in his aim as are the Spanish gunners, and had much trouble in locating the home plate. "Si" gave ten men free passes to first, and would probably have hit as many more with pitched balls if they had only stood still long enough. With all his wildness the Browns managed to get in ten safe hits, which they bunched to good advantage. Taylor had good command of the ball, and pitched a steady game. He gave no bases on balls, but hit one batsman with a pitched ball. Van Haltren led in batting with a double and two singles, while the other long safe hits were doubles by Wilmot and Holmes. The New Yorks played their first Sunday game on May 22 since the club was organized, and were credited with a victory. Ruale pitched for the visitors, and although he pitched a steady game he was batted rather freely, but not consecutively. Only once, and that in the eighth inning, did the Browns become dangerously familiar with his delivery; then they bunched enough hits to give them three runs. The home team used three pitchers in their desperation to win, but it availed them nothing. Daniels started the game, but lasted less than half an inning; in fact, only three men faced him, when he was replaced by Taylor. The latter gave way to Gilpatrick after the fifth inning, but the New Yorks had obtained such a lead in the first inning that they were never sighted. The long safe hits were double baggers by Joyce, Hartman (twice), Gettig, Warner, Rusie, Harley and Decker. A shift was made in the make up of the New York team, Gleason going to short and Gettig to second base, and it proved a good one, too. The score:

Louisville vs. New York.

The New York's outclassed the Louisvilles May 23, when they met at Louisville, Ky., for the first time this season, and won as they pleased. Doheny was batted as hard as Dowling, but was more fortunate in that it took three and four hits to secure each of the four runs scored by the home team. The game was long drawn out, and was marked by considerable wrangling and kicking over decisions by the umpires. Gleason, Hartman, Ritchey and Clingman easily carried off the fielding honors, while Clarke and Smith led in batting. The long safe hits were a home run and a double bagger by Tiernan, and doubles by Van Haltren and Warner. Dowling was driven to the bench in the fourth inning, Magee replacing him. The score:

Pittsburg vs. Philadelphia.

The Pittsburgs defeated the Philadelphias on May 23, at Pittsburg, Pa., by bunching their hits and scoring three runs in the first two innings. After that a change was made in the Phillies' pitching department and the locals made no more runs, but as they had obtained enough to win before the change was made it made little difference to them. Tannehill pitched for the home club, holding the visitors down to five safe hits, from which they managed to score one run in the first inning and save themselves from a shut out. Two hits and an out gave the Phillies their only run in the first inning. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by Donovan and a two baser by Gray. The score:

Chicago vs. Baltimore.

The Baltimores started their first Western series of games like the Brooklyns and the Bostons, with a defeat. The Chicagos turned the trick on the Orioles on May 23, at Chicago, Ill. It was something of a pitcher's contest, in which Woods carried off the victory, but he was not so erratic in his delivery as was McJames. Then, too, the errors made behind McJames proved more costly than those made behind Woods. McGann and McCormick easily carried off the batting honors, while the long safe hits were a triple and double bagger by McGann, a triple by McCormick, and a two baser by Ryan. The score:

Cincinnati vs. Brooklyn.

The Brooklyns were again defeated when they met the Cincinnatis for the first time this season, May 23, at Cincinnati, O., this being the former's fourth defeat since they began the present Western series. Hild kept the hits well scattered and pitched himself out of several tight places. Twice Brooklyn had three men on bases and only one out, but could not score until the ninth inning, when they tallied twice and thereby saved themselves from a shut out. Griffin and Smith led their respective teams in batting, while the long safe ones were doubles by Lachance, Beckley and Steinfeldt. The score:

Cleveland vs. Washington.

These teams played an exceedingly interesting game that had a close and exciting finish May 23, at Cleveland, O. With two men out in the ninth, Burkett's hard line drive sent in two runs and won the game. Both Weyhing and Cuppy pitched good ball; only five safe hits were made off the former and eight off the latter. Cuppy had better command of the ball than did Weyhing, while the latter was also batted safely at opportune times. The long safe hits were a triple bagger by Wrigley and doubles by Anderson and Childs. The score:

St. Louis vs. Boston.

The Bostons defeated the St. Louis Browns May 23, at St. Louis, Mo., in a close and highly interesting contest that had an extremely exciting termination. The visitors outbatted the home team, but the latter put up a better fielding game than did the former. Bergen and Hughey led their respective teams in batting, while the long safe hits were triple baggers by Duffy (twice) and Hall, and doubles by Hamilton, Bergen and Decker. A great one handed catch by Harley was a feature. The score:

DIAMOND FIELD GOSSIP.

Latest Sayings and Doings of the Baseball Fraternity.

"A special from Cleveland reveals a startling piece of news—that the Pittsburg Club has offered President Robison, of the Cleveland Club, $20,000 for four players"—says The Pittsburg Dispatch. "The special continues as follows: 'That the Pittsburg Club is determined to have a winning team there is no doubt, for that club has offered President Robison $20,000 for four of the best players he has signed. Whether or not there was an offer on the part of the Pittsburg Club to add four players to the money cannot be learned definitely. It is stated there was. The four players wanted by the Pittsburg Club are stated to be Young, Burkett, Childs and Wallace. But President Robison would not hear tell of such a deal, as he is after the pennant himself this season, and states that the club is doing extremely well financially.'"

A special from Mobile, Ala., dated May 16, says: "The Savannah team, which played here today, is stranded. The players had their manager, A. C. Cooper, arrested this morning, claiming that he had pocketed the receipts from yesterday's game; that he owed them salary, and was preparing to shake them. Chief Soost ordered Cooper to take his team out of town or be prosecuted under the ordinance forbidding the bringing of paupers into the city. The team is still here. While the game was going on Divinney was left in the city to watch Cooper. On Friday the Montgomery team collapsed and the day following the league managers met in New Orleans and expelled the Augustas. The collapse of the Savannahs leaves but five teams in the league."

"With Joe Mulvey and Gus Weyling both on the Senatorial nine National Park is likely to be rechristened the Old Men's Home."—Cincinnati Post—And there are others. Cincinnati's roster contains the names of a few ancients in McPhee, Beckley, Holliday and Vaughn, who would make a necius to start a sanitarium on the banks of the Wabash, away off.

It is said that Manager Hanlon is not pleased with the showing some of his players have made thus far this season, especially some of his pitchers. He and Corbett have not come to terms, and the obstreperous Californian still clings to the surrounding of his childhood. Hanlon thinks that after a few more pay days roll around without his drawing any of the "long green" he will capitulate. Hanlon is more than pleased with the players he received from the Washington Club in exchange for Doyle, Reitz and Amole. McGann is coming up to more than his expectations, and is going to be one of the heavy hitting first basemen of the profession.

The Southern League has gone the way of its rival, the Texas, and is now in memory only, it having disbanded on May 21. A six club league had just been formed, and things were supposed to have been working in first class order, when Atlanta dropped out, followed by Birmingham. The Atlanta players were paid off on May 20, and left for their homes.

Manager Arthur Irwin was one of the Eastern League magnates who indorsed the rule to uphold the umpire, yet he was the first magnate in that league who abused an umpire until he was ejected from the ground by that official. There seems to be quite a difference between indorsing rules at a meeting and upholding the men on the ball field, and Irwin is not the only person who thinks that way.

At a special meeting of the Eastern League held May 21, at Syracuse, N. Y., it was decided that after June 1 no club in that league should have more than twelve players on its pay role. An exception was, however, made in the case of the Providence Club, which was allowed to carry an extra man. President Powers was instructed to write a letter to the captain of each team, saying that while the league appreciated the position of the players who have made demands for a longer season, the war and general situation in baseball circles have made it so uncertain that no definite action could be taken at present.

Horace Fogel, in a long article in The Public Ledger, of Philadelphia, on the double umpire question, says, among other things: "On the other hand, Lynch, Hurst, 'Honest' John Kelly and Gaffney furnish four illustrations of the non playing umpire who have made a success of umpiring." Well, that is tough on Kelly and Gaffney, who were both well known as amateurs, as well as professional ball players of considerable note, and they should be classed with N. E. Young, Ferguson, Doescher, McQuaid, Emslie and other players, who might be mentioned, that made a success of umpiring.

John P. Sullivan, twenty-eight years old, dropped dead while pitching in a game of ball on May 22, at Oswego, N. Y. Heart trouble was the cause.

If the major league umpires were selected for their capabilities better results would be had. There is too much politics in the make up of the staff, and as long as this exists, just so long will there be dissatisfaction on account of incompetency.

President Ebbetts, of the Brooklyn Club, has released unconditionally Pitchers Payne and Horton. The club is now carrying more men than it can actually use and do justice to them. It now has Kennedy, Dunn, Yeager, Miller, Stein and Hansford, and expects to get Dowd, which is pitching corps enough for any club to carry.

This is Nash's nineteenth consecutive season on the diamond, and he is playing just as well today as he did ten years go. He began playing with an amateur team known as the Richmonds, at Richmond, Va., in 1880.

When Dick Padden realizes the mistake he has made by deserting his team he will certainly do all in his power to retrieve his foolish move. The Pittsburg Club was, fortunately for itself, in a position to easily replace him, but even if it had not it would not have been the first to weaken, and Padden alone will be the sufferer.

Rain at the following cities prevented the National League and American Association championship games from being played as per schedule: May 19, at Cleveland, O., Cleveland vs. Philadelphia; May 20, at Louisville, Ky., Louisville vs. Brooklyn; May 21, at Louisville, Louisville vs. Brooklyn.

An attempt was made by the Indianapolis and Kansas City teams, of the Western League, to play a game on Sunday, May 22, at Indianapolis, Ind. After two innings had been played both teams, with the umpire, were arrested. The idea is to make a test case of the law.

Interscholastic Championships.

The annual outdoor competitions for the championship of the Interscholastic Athletic Association of New York took place at Berkeley Oval, this city, on Saturday afternoon, May 21, the weather being pleasant, the grounds in very good order, and the assemblage of spectators was of good size. The competitions were not very exciting, however, save in few instances, the cycling events being disgraceful exhibitions of loafing. The infield, as usual at interscholastic meetings, was very poorly kept, being overrun with useless officials and with outsiders who had no business there, and whose presence only interfered with the view of those who had paid their money to see the contests. Summary:

Four hundred and forty yards run.—Won by B. R. White, Berkeley; J. A. McAnerney, Cutler, second; J. F. MacMillen, Barnard, third. Time, 53s.

One third mile bicycle race.—Won by C. Warren, Cutler; Leroy See, Berkeley, second; T. F. Flandreau, Barnard, third. Time, 41⅘s. Warren's time beat the previous interscholastic record of 43⅘s., made by J. S. Dickenson, Wilson Kellogg School, in 1897.

One hundred and twenty yards hurdle race.—Won by C. A. O'Rourke Jr., Trinity; J. A. Forney, Berkeley, second; J. B. Thomas Jr., Berkeley, third. Time, 16⅘s.

One mile walk.—Won by L. Moen, Berkeley; D. Elliman, Berkeley, second; J. Alker, Berkeley, third. Time, 7m. 59⅘s.

One hundred yards run, senior.—Won by W. T. Elmendorf, Collegiate; S. Milbank, Trinity, second; P. J. Ralph, Collegiate, third. Time 10⅘s.

One hundred yards run, junior.—Won by P. Dulshimer, Columbia Grammar; E. Bell Jr., Cutler, second; F. Mohr, Trinity, third. Time, 10⅘s.

One mile run.—Won by P. H. Christensen, Berkeley; G. M. Trede, Trinity, second; J. A. McAneruey, Cutler, third. Time, 4m. 38s.

One mile bicycle race.—Won by C. Warren, Cutler; D Bonner, Berkeley, second; Le Roy See, Berkeley, third. Time 2m. 38⅘s.

Pole vault.—Won by J. A. Forney, Berkeley, 9ft; D. S. Horton, Collegiate, 8ft. 8in.; J. C. Smallwood, Columbia Grammar, and J. R. Deering, Berkeley, tied for third at 8ft. 6in.

Throwing the discus.—Won by W. H. Caldwell Jr., Harvard, 87ft. 7in.; F. V. Lane, Trinity, second, 85ft. 7in.; R. A. Belknap, Collegiate, third. 81ft. 7in.

Eight hundred and eighty yards run.—Won by P. H. Christensen, Berkeley; G. M. Trede, Trinity, second; D. Du Bois, Cutler, third. Time, 2m. 6⅘s.

Two hundred and twenty yards run, senior.—Won by W. T. Elmerdorf, Collegiate; B. R. White, Berkeley, second; J. P. MacMillen, Barnard, third. Time, 23⅘s.

Two hundred and twenty yards run, junior.—Won by E. Bell Jr., Cutler; H. Gregory, Trinity, second; T. E. Hardenberg, Collegiate, third. Time, 25⅘s.

Running broad jump.—Won by J. S. Spraker, Berkeley, 21ft. ¾in; C. Du Val, Berkeley, second, 19ft. 10¼in.; D. Kirkby, Trinity, third, 19ft. 4in.

Putting 12lb shot.—Won by J. A. Forney, Berkeley, 40ft. 8in.; C. A. O'Rourke, Trinity, second, 39ft. 10¾in; W. H Caldwell Jr., Barnard, third, 39ft. 7in.

Running high jump.—Won by J. S. Spraker, Berkeley, 5ft. 7¾in; C. Du Val, Berkeley, second, 5ft. 6¼in.; G. S. Nicoll, Collegiate, third, 5ft. 4¾in.

Throwing 12lb hammer.—Won by C. B. Seeley, Berkeley, 116ft. 10in; W. H. Caldwell, Barnard, second, 111ft. 11in.; R. B. Ewart, Berkeley, third, 101ft.

Two hundred and twenty yards hurdle race.—Dead heat between C. A. O'Rourke, Trinity, and W. H. Powers, Cutler; J. A. Forney, Berkeley, third. Time, 28⅘s.

Match Games at Wilkesbarre.

The representative athletes of the High School and Hillman Academy, Wilkesbarre, Pa., engaged in a match field meeting on Saturday afternoon, May 21, the events resulting as shown in the appended summary, the former winning the point prize by a score of 56 to 52, a rather close shave:

One hundred yards run.—Smith, H. S., first; Bethels, H. S., second; Fuller, Academy, third. Time, 11s.

Half mile bicycle race.—Atherton, H. S., first; Darr, Academy, second; Harrower, H. S., third.

Four hundred and forty yards run.—Smith, H. S., first; Fuller, Academy, second; Stark, H. S., third. Time, 56⅘s.

Running broad jump.—Paine, Academy, first, 19ft. 4in.; Bowers, H. S., second, 18ft. 11in.; Cake, Academy, third, 17ft. 1in.

Aquatic.

Yale Navy's Spring Regatta

Was held May 20, 21, at New Haven, Ct., the finals on the closing day attracting five thousand spectators. More than one hundred and fifty oarsmen competed, and the sport was excellent, a surprise coming with the defeat of the regular freshman eight by the substitute crew. The scrub races were over the seven-eighths of a mile course. The class contests were over the full mile and an eighth course. All the events were scratch. Summary:

Scrub crews.—Hutchinson Hall defeated Pierson Hall by one and one-half lengths. Time, 5m. 42s. Harlequin eight defeated Excelsior Jr. half a length. Time, 5m. 31⅕s. Coystrel eight defeated Hutchinson by one and one-half lengths. Time, 5m. 30⅕s. Final heat: Coystrel eight defeated Harlequin by two lengths. Time, 5m. 19s.

Class championship.—Second freshman eight defeated the first freshman eight by two lengths. Time, 7m. 5⅕s. Junior eight defeated sophomores by two-thirds of a length. Time, 7m. 15s. Second freshman crew defeated juniors by three lengths. Time, 7m. 8⅘s.

FRIDAY, MAY 20, was truly an unlucky day for the cadets of Annapolis Naval Academy, as their first and second eights were easily taken into camp by a corresponding number of young men from the University of Pennsylvania, at Annapolis, Md. The first Pensy crew defeated the Middies' first eight by about two and a half lengths in a two mile race, which was rowed in 11m. 3s. The second Pennsylvania crew had a much easier time in disposing of the Naval Academy second eight, as they finished four lengths to the good, without half trying, in a mile and a half contest, which was timed at 9m. 6s.

CAPT. GEORGE WHISTLER, the California wrestler, water walker, etc., is getting ready for the season with his naval show exhibitions, and will soon remove his operations to the seaside.

THE HUGUENOT YACHT CLUB opened its season May 21, with a club regatta off the club house in Neptune Bay.

Wheeling.

Racing at the Seashore.

The initial meet of the present season at the Manhattan Beach track, on Coney Island, N. Y., took place on Saturday afternooon, May 21, and was fairly succeesful, although the chilliness of the weather, combined with the poor railroad service, served to limit the attendance materially. It also prevented the making of unusually good time, and rather congealed the ardor of both riders and spectators. In some of the events, however, interesting racing and sharp finishes were the order, and the defeat of Eddie Bald by "Major" Taylor, in the second heat of the one mile championship race, was a genuine surprise. Summary:

One third of a mile, novice.—Won by P. G. Van Cott, New York; F. F. Moller, K. C. W., second; H. F. Menten, Brooklyn, third. Time, 47s.

One mile, National championship, professional.—Won by Tom Butler. "Major" Taylor second, Tom Cooper third, Arthur Gardiner fourth. Time, 2m. 11⅘s.

Paced exhibition by Edouard Taylore, France, to establish an American record for one kilometre (1,093.61 yards). Time, 1m. 5⅕s.

Two miles, metropolitan district championship, amateur.—Won by I. A. Powell, Columbia University; W. A. La Due, Morris Heights, second; H. L. Beadel, third, Time, 4m. 54s.

Two miles multicycle.—Won by P. Wheelock, F. L. Blanchard, H. E. Caldwell and G. I. Fulford on a "quad;" F. J. Titus on a single second, F. F. Goodman and W. Martin on a tandem third, L. Boulay and R. Cavally on a tandem fourth. Time, 5m 11s.

Half mile, professional.—Won by J. B. Bowler, Chicago, 35yds.; Howard Mosher, New York, 30yds., second; O. L. Stevens, Ottumwa, Ia., 10yds., third; Karl Kaser, Switzerland, 15yds., fourth. Time, 1m. 5⅘s.

Ten miles invitation race, paced, amateur.—Won by George Schofield, Kings County Wheelmen; Joseph Thompson, Greenwich Wheelmen, second. Time, 22m. 7⅘s.

International tandem pursuit race, distance unlimited. —Won by L. Boulay and R. Cavally, representing France; C. W. Miller and Arthur Gardiner second. Distance covered, 7¼ miles. Time, 16m. 58s.

The Wheel in the Bay State.

The season at the track at Waltham, Mass., was opened on Saturday afternoon, May 21, with a series of races at the Velodrome. The principal event was a ten miles race between Harry Elkes, of Glens Falls, N. Y., and Arthur Porter, of Waltham, which resulted in an easy win for the former, who had the race in hand from the start. The other events were fairly interesting. Summary:

One-third of a mile, amateur.—Won by A. Barber, Taunton; J. F. Ingraham, Linnfield, second; C. V. Hargraves Saxonville, third. Time, 44⅖s.

Two miles, international handicap, professional—Won by Frank Butler, Cambridge, 70yds.; C. W. Davis, Buffalo, 95yds., second; W. F. Sager, Denver, 50yds., third; T. P. Sullivan, San Francisco, fourth. Time, 4m. 33⅗s.

One mile, amateur.—Won by J. F. Ingraham, Linnfield, scratch; J. F. Moran, Chelsea, 45yds, second; Arthur Kellar, Dorchester, 60yds., third. Time, 2m. 29⅖s.

One mile, tandem, professional.—Won by F. H. Allen, Springfield, and W. E. Tenzler, Broad Brook, Conn., 85yds.; Frank Butler, Cambridge, and T. A. Barnaby, Boston, 30yds., second; Victor Ekburg and J. F. Casey, Worcester, 20yds., third, Time, 2m. 3⅘s.

Ten miles, pursuit race.—Harry Elkes, Glen Falls, N. Y., vs. Arthur Porter, Waltham. Elkes caught Porter in 5 miles and one lap. Elkes' time, 12m. 55⅖s. For five miles, 11m. 46⅖s.

On the Wheel at Buffalo.

A series of 'cycling races took place at the Buffalo, N. Y., Athletic Field on Saturday afternoon, May 21, in the presence of a goodly crowd. What was to have been the principal event, a mile heat match race between Jaap Eden and Earl D. Stevens, a local rider, proved a fizzle. Eden won two heats, and the race was given him, although the time was slow. There was so much loafing in the one mile professional that after two heats had been run it was declared no race. Summary:

Half mile, amateur.—C. C. Dirnberger, Buffalo, won; E. E. Dennistown second, E. M. Fisher third. Time, 1m. 2s.

One mile.—Jaap Eden won two straight heats, E. D. Stevens second. Time, 3m. 40s.

One mile, amateur.—C. C. Dirnberger, won; Harry Short second, C. H. Detemple third. Time, 2m. 20⅕s.

One mile, tandem, professional.—Lamberjack and Gougoltz won, Callahan and Werrick second, Cleveland and Higgins third. Time, 2m. 8⅖s.

Three-quarter mile, professional.—Gougoltz won, C. Werrick second, E. D. Stevens third. Time, 1m. 32s.

Platt-Betts Beats the Record.

A cablegram from London, Eng., dated May 20, reads: "Platt-Betts yesterday established a new world's record for the paced mile and all intermediate distances, beating the mile record held jointly by Stocks, of England, and McDuffee, of America, of 1m. 35⅗s. The new record is 1m. 35s for the mile, while the quarter was covered in 23s., half in 46⅘s., and three-quarters in 1m. 10⅘s. The one kilometre was done in 58⅘s., the former record being 58⅘s., held by Lombard. The timer was Pembroke Coleman. This means that one of the most important world's records is again on British shores, and that some very interesting trials to again bring it on this side of the water will be the order during the present season."

A 'Cycler's Terrible Death.

Death visited the Atlanta (Ga.) Coliseum bicycle track for the first time in its history on Thursday evening, May. 19. Says a dispatch: "J. H. McGoldrick, of the Auburn, Ala., team, was doing some fast practice sprinting in preparation for the races tonight. The curves are exceedingly sharp and the banking difficult, and in turning one of them at high speed McGoldrick inclined himself too much and struck the post with a terrible shock, being hurled ten feet. When friends reached him he was dead, his head having been split open and his brains scattered all over the track. McGoldrick was one of the most popular young men in the Auburn University, and leaves a widowed mother at Macon, Ga."

MR. EARL, a well known London, Eng., 'cyclist, is credited with having recently ridden a mile down Barton Cutting in 1m. 21s., less than the tandem time over the same course. Previous figures for single safety were 1m. 30s.

JOHANNESBURG, S. AF., is stricken with the record breaking fever. The latest performance in the shape of a world's record was accomplished on March 23 by Grey and George, who, on a tandem, covered a mile, standing start, in 1m. 54⅗s., beating the previous amateur best, standing to the credit of J. Parsley and F. Beaver, by 1⅘s. This makes the second world's record this year to fall to the credit of the Johannesburg cracks.

THE TWO MILES national championship race for professionals at New Orleans, La., on May 19, was won by O. L. Stevens, with F. A. McFarland second and Arthur Gardiner third. Time, 4m. 15s.

The Ring.

McCoy Defeats Ruhlin.

The match in which "Kid" McCoy and Gus Ruhlin, the new heavyweight, were the principals, was brought to a culmination on Friday night, May 20, at the arena of Tom O'Rourke's Empire Athletic Club, in Syracuse, N. Y. About three thousand persons paid the tariff to see the fistic exhibition, and among them the ruling odds on McCoy for first choice were about 10 to 7, and in some instances 2 to 1. Ruhlin had a decided advantage in height, weight and muscular strength, but he was wofully lacking in science, quickness, generalship and ring experience and knowledge, and McCoy was able to not only easily stand him off, but to plant his fists pretty much when and where he desired. In consequence he quickly reduced his opponent to his own weight, and after that had Ruhlin quite at his mercy, shutting up one eye and nearly closing the other, while his continual punching about the frontispiece caused his adversary's face to look greatly akin to a piece of raw meat before the allotted twenty rounds had expired. McCoy was unable to succeed in his effort to knock his opponent out, however, and after the limit had been reached Referee George Siler awarded the victory to the favorite. Ruhlin was very severely beaten, while McCoy was scarcely marked. The fight was for a guaranteed purse of $4,000, with the privilege of taking sixty per cent. of the receipts, to be divided upon the basis of 65 and 35 per cent. The loser certainly made a game fight, and deserves credit, but he has a vast amount to learn before he can hope to become a first class exponent of the game of fisticuffs. The winner was attended by Frank Erne, Homer Selby, Hiram Goldstein and "Doc" Payne, while Ruhlin's seconds, etc., were Billy Madden, Tommy Ryan, Tom Cawley and Charley Goff. Tom O'Brien, of Syracuse, was official timekeeper.

Daly Wins From McPartland.

The holding capacity of the arena of the Lenox Athletic Club on Lexington Avenue, in this city, was fully tested on Monday evening, May 23, when those clever boxers, Jack Daly, of Wilmington, Del., and "Kid" McPartland, were booked to fight twenty-five Queensberry rounds, weighing in in the afternoon at 134lb, according to agreement, which is one pound above the regulation lightweight limit. The fraternity, judging from the performances of both men when opposed to "Kid" Lavigne, anticipated a most determined, scientific and workmanlike battle on the part of both combatants, and in this they were in no wise disappointed, the lads giving an excellent return for the cash invested, as the fighting was as fast and constant as the most exacting lover of P. R. engagements could have wished. Unfortunately, however, McPartland was not so careful as he should have been at times, and this was eventually the cause of spoiling excellent sport and bringing about a decision that, under the circumstances, was much to be deplored, preventing, as it did, the satisfactory settlement of a most interesting and much mooted question as to the actual relative fighting abilities of the principals, both of whom aspire to lower the colors of that clever and shrewd general, "Kid" Lavigne, whose mutton, as mentioned above, both have tasted. Once Mac hit his opponent when the latter was on the floor, but the blow was regarded as unintentional and was accordingly overlooked; again he hit very low down, which violation was also overlooked; once more, in the thirteenth round, he delivered a punch or two while they were locked, and finally, in the fifteenth round, he persisted in hitting after the referee had ordered him to desist, and just as Daly fell to the floor, wrenching his leg. Referee White awarded the fight to Jack on the foul, a decision that was commended by the spectators. McPartland was handled by Charley Duryea, Johnny Dunn and Bob Clark, with "Kid" McCoy as adviser, while Daly was handled by Sam Fitzpatrick, Johnny Glyn and "Kid" Howard. Preliminary to the event of the evening "Kid" Robertson, colored, and Billy Moore, respectively of Chicago, Ill., and Syracuse, N. Y., amused the sports with a twelve round bout, which terminated in a draw, plenty of pepper being infused into it, and the combatants coming out of the struggle even up.

JACK ROBERTS defeated Nat Smith in a glove fight for $500 and a purse before the National Sporting Club, in London, Eng., night of May 11, the fight having occupied the full twenty rounds agreed upon.

Waltz Song and Refrain, by FRANK A. BUSH, now in press. Copyright secured by Telegram May 4. Refrain:

We'll never forget the sad events of that night,
Our boys were killed with no chance to fight;
The foul deed was done by treach'rous Spain,
So let our soldier boys cry: "Remember the Maine!"
(Copyright 1898).

SPECIAL NOTICE TO MANAGERS.

THE 5 WHIRLWINDS

Have just finished their successful engagement of seven weeks over the Orpheum Circuit. The following criticisms appeared in SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER Tuesday, March 29, 1898: "The most astonishing performance in the bill at the Orpheum Theatre this week is well named The 5 Whirlwinds; they are really wonderful athletes; their feats of strength are herculean, in the exhibition of balancing and holding the dead weight of each other, but when it comes to tumbling, they seemed charged with electricity. They flash about the stage like fire crackers, whirling and squirming in tireless cart wheels, only touching the floor with an occasional foot or hand. The audience almost expects them to spatter over the footlights. Manager Gumpertz, of St. Louis, Mo., has secured The Whirlwinds for this and next week." All communications address SIE HASSAN BEN ALI, THE WHIRLWINDS, or all Agents in N. Y. City.

I WANT TO BE A SOLDIER, PA, AND FIGHT FOR UNCLE SAM.
Tells a beautiful story of a child's patriotism. See column article in HERALD May 15, section 6, page 11.
PART OF THE STORY:
The father oft would tell this boy the story of our wars,
And then to prove the story true would show him many scars.
The seed of patiotism thus unconsciously was sown,
And by the breath of threatening war was into fervor blown.
The boy stood silent for a while; then looking at his toys,
Said, "Father, I am tired of play; these are for younger boys;
For I'm too old to play with toys; just see how tall I am!
Which makes me think I'm counted in as one of Uncle Sam.
"I'm tired of playing with toy guns and cannon that won't boom,
And 'holl ring' at tin soldier men here in a little room.
I'm tired of being called a boy; I want to be a man—
I want to be a soldier, Pa, and fight for Uncle Sam."

WE'LL STAND BY THE FLAG!!

JUST OUT THIS WEEK.

THE LATEST PATRIOTIC SONG PUBLISHED

Companion Piece to the Greatest of All Patriotic Songs, AMERICA FOREVER.

Poem by H. A. FREEMAN. Music by E. T. PAULL.

The words to this song are the best ever written. The music has a wonderful stirring and martial swing; without any exception the catchiest melody ever put to a song of this character.

PROFESSIONAL SINGERS, ATTENTION!!

Every person who sings in public should have a copy of "WE'LL STAND BY THE FLAG." This is the best. Send for professional copy at once. Be the first in the field. Easy to play, easy to learn, easy to sing, inspiring in character. Another big hit. You can't possibly get anything better. There are lots of patriotic songs on the market, but you want to try this one. It leads them all. Just try it, that's all.

WHY THIS SONG WAS WRITTEN.

Having had so many requests from numerous persons singing "AMERICA FOREVER," that we should issue another song by the same authors, is why this new song is published. The greatest success that any singers have ever had in singing Patriotic Songs has been made by using "AMERICA FOREVER." This new song, "WE'LL STAND BY THE FLAG," will simply sweep the country. H. A. FREEMAN stands without a superior for writing inspiring words, E. T. PAULL'S march melodies are known by all Professional Singers, Band and Orchestra Leaders as being the most striking and pleasing of any published.

FREE TO PROFESSIONAL SINGERS ONLY

Who send card or programme, enclosing a 2c. stamp. Orchestrations for same will be furnished on receipt of 10c. in postage or silver. Send for our special list of songs suitable for every one. High Grade Songs, Descriptive Songs, Waltz Ballads, Coon Songs, March Songs, etc., etc. Address all orders and communications for above to the Publishers.
